Schools' Budget Would Set Levy Higher by $3.44

Tentative Sum Is Given as $1,846,510.40 for Tax of $23.04 per $1,000; Hearing to Be Held May 12 at KHS

A tentative budget for the school year 1953-54 was presented at a special meeting of the Kingston Board of Education last evening which, if adopted, will place the tax rate at $23.04 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. This will be an increase of $3.44 over the 1952-53 tax rate.

The board approved the tentative budget for the school year July 1, 1953, to June 30, 1954, and fixed the date for a public hearing on the budget. That hearing will be held at the high school auditorium on Tuesday, May 12, at 8 p. m. At that time suggestions may be made regarding the budget and following that public hearing the board will adopt the final budget.

Total Is Estimated

The total estimated amount necessary to operate the Kingston school system for the 1953-54 school year is $1,846,510.40 and the estimated revenues are $1,091,136.28, leaving the sum of $755,374.12 to be raised by direct tax levy. Last year the amount to be raised by direct levy was $636,870.64. Last year's total budget was $1,720,559.71 or $125,960.69 less than the proposed budget for the coming school year.

There is an increase of approximately $50,000 in the cost of instructional services, plant operation is up some $20,000 and the fixed charges are up over $45,000. Debt service is up $28,000 but capital outlay estimates are down over $25,000 in the 1953-54 budget from that of the last budget.

Projected Income

On the revenue sheet the estimated income from uncollected taxes and fees is down $10,000 from the 1952-53 estimate. Plane Stewardess Hobbles Painfully To Aid Survivors

Mrs. Adra Long Is Spotted Struggling Down Mountain South of Seattle

Seattle, April 15 (AP)—Saved by a miracle of fate, pluck and courage, 19 persons were rescued in a day long struggle against nature yesterday after their air liner crashed into the Cascade mountains, killing the other six persons aboard.

The slow and painful job of bringing the injured out began immediately after the plane's plucky stewardess, Mrs. Adra Long of Berkeley, Calif., was spotted hobbling down the mountainside, leaving a trail of blood in the deep snow.

She was six miles from the place where the plane, chartered by the army to fly servicemen from Scranton, Pa., and Washington, D. C., to Seattle, plunged into snow covered trees at 2:30 a. m. when one of its two engines failed and ice formed on its wings.

The trees broke the fall but tore the wings from the craft. The fuselage broke into two parts, the forward section badly smashed and the rear half virtually untouched. The scene was 40 miles southeast of Seattle at the 3,000 foot level. Snow was five feet deep.

Taken to Hospital

Mrs. Long was taken to a hospital for treatment of a long gash in her leg and severe chest injuries. The only other survivor to walk out was Pvt. Odell Matthews of Washington, D. C. All the others were carried to the helicopter landing spot a mile from the wreckage and to trucks which followed bulldozers up the mountain to within a quarter mile of the cold and pain-wracked survivors.

One of the survivors who spent the day awaiting rescue was Pvt. Howard Wormuth, 21, Carbondale, Pa., who said the plane had had engine trouble out of Chicago and had to return their for servicing.

Destruction Complete

Rescuers followed Mrs. Long's trail of blood through the snow to come upon what Capt. Wallace M. Baker of the Civil Air Patrol said was a sight "of complete and utter destruction. We couldn't believe that anyone had lived through it."

He said paramedics who had parachuted in to the scene and civilian loggers had already started the slow process of getting the injured out of the plane.

One by one the injured were brought away from the wreckage. As daylight waned the helicopters were grounded after 10 persons had been flown out.

The rest were carried to the trucks and then taken to hospitals. No report on their condition was immediately available but injuries ranged from very severe to shock and bruises.

The dead were to be brought out in the daylight hours. Their identity was learned as the sur-

University Student Has Highest Average in School's History

Chicago, April 15 (AP)—Burton A. Kolman, a blind law student at DePaul University, says as he sees it, "everything good is happening to me all at once."

His life is looking bright, he explained, because (1) professors at DePaul's law school, where he is a senior, told him he has the highest scholastic average in the school's history; (2) on his 21st birthday last Sunday he was elected vice president of the American Law Students Association, and (3), Anita Gubali, a law student form Israel, has promised to marry him.

Kolman lost his sight five years ago when struck by a baseball.

Parade, Special Program Starts 5-Night Show at State Armory on Manor Avenue

Kingston Area on Parade, the Lions Club's sixth annual industrial exposition and automobile show, opened its five night stand at the state armory last night and Lions Club officials estimated that from the time the doors opened at 7 p. m. until they closed at 11 more than 2,700 men, women and children visited the exhibits.

To mark the show's first night, a parade left Broadway and Cornell street at 6:30 p. m. Headed by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy as grand marshal, escorted by motorcycle patrolmen, the color guard, Port Ewen Drum Corps, men and equipment of the 156th Field Artillery, NYNG, the Lions Club Drum and Bugle Corps, officials and exhibitors in automobiles paraded up Broadway, out East St. James street, Albany avenue and Manor avenue into the armory.

On the heels of the parade came hundreds of spectators.

Once inside the armory, the Port Ewen Drum Corps buglers sounded To The Colors, the Lions Club Corps gave a demonstration, and Lawrence Jenson as master of ceremonies called for the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and the Pledge of Allegiance. Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom gave the invocation.

Brickyard Buildings Bring $500 at Court House Sale

Portion of Property Along River to Be Used for Piers for Bridge

Buildings on the former Rose Brothers brickyard below Goldrick's Landing were sold at auction this morning to individual bidders for a total of $500.

About 50 persons attended the sale at the court house. The buildings, located on property acquired by the county of Ulster through tax sale, were sold with the provision they be removed within a month. A portion of the land will be used for the construction of piers for the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge.

Earl Sweet and William S. Keyser were the auctioneers. There was spirited bidding on a few of the buildings, although most of them went for nominal amounts.

No Right Exercised

The county did not exercise its right to reject any of the bids and today's sales were to become final as soon as payment is made and memoranda agreeing to the terms of the sale are signed.

The buildings included former residences of workmen as well as a number of machine rooms, a garage and barn.

The highest bid was drawn by House No. 2, a two story frame house, 28 by 36 feet, which was struck down to Robert McCullough for $150.

Building No. 12, a 30 by 115 foot brick machine room and drier, was sold for $90 to Harry Lowe.

Joseph Nagy was the successful bidder for the greatest number of the buildings. He paid $55 for Building No. 11, a 74 by 38 foot brick machine room and drier; $45 for House No. 14; $35 for House No. 7; $30 for No. 5, house; $10 for No. 4, house; and $5 each for No. 3 house, No. 8 duplex house.

John Senkowicz was high bidder with $10 for No. 6, a brick house and $5 for No. 9, one story brick house.

Larry Avella was high bidder

Pope Says None Must Know Secrets

Cautions Psychiatrists Not to Violate Intimacy of Inner Mind

Vatican City, April 15 (AP)—Pope Pius XII has warned Roman Catholics that the secret of confession must never be revealed—not even to psychiatrists or other doctors who may be treating them for ailments.

The Pope also cautioned psychiatrists against digging up intimate secrets, and said this is a principal error of the modern healing science. He touched upon sexual education and the sexual instinct with which psychoanalysis is concerned. "One should be slow," he said, "to lower man  to the level of the brute."

The Pope presented the Catholic church's attitude on psychoanalysis to delegates of the Catholic Congress on Psychotherapy and Psychology at a special audience on Sunday. His address was released today by The Vatican press office.

Must Be Safeguarded

The Pope said intimate secrets of individuals "must be safeguarded." These, he said, are frequently endangered by psychoanalysis.

"There are secrets," said the Pope, "which must on no account be divulged—even to a doctor, even in spite of grave personal inconvenience.

"The secret of confession may never be revealed; it is equally forbidden for the professional secret to be communicated to another, including a doctor.

"The same is true of other secrets. One may invoke the principle: 'For a proportionately grave reason it is permitted to reveal a secret to a prudent man and one capable of keeping a secret.' This principle is correct, within narrow limits, for certain kinds of secrets. It is not right to make use of it indiscriminately in psychoanalytic practice."

Teaches Calmly

The Pope said "efficacious sexual education, in entire safety, teaches with calmness and objectivity what the young man should know for his personal conduct and his relationship with those with whom he is brought into contact.

"For the rest," he added, "the accent will be placed principally, in sexual education as, moreover, in all education, upon self mastery and religious training.

"The trite principle that sexu-

Tax Deadline Nears

Albany, April 15—New Yorkers have until midnight tonight to file their 1952 state income tax returns. All state tax offices will remain open until 9 p. m. to help the last-minute crowd meet the deadline. The tax department said that as of yesterday, about two million of the expected 4½ million returns had been filed.

Report Reveals Ulster County Must Be on Guard Against TB

Although the death rate from tuberculosis in Ulster county dropped from 39.6 to 22.8 per hundred thousand between the years 1948 and 1951, the Ulster county death rate rose from 8th to 6th highest in New York state, an indication that even we have had an appreciable decline in the death rate, Ulster county has not kept pace with other counties.

In his annual report to the Ulster county board of supervisors this fact its pointed out by Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, who reports "much has been done, but we must guard against apathy engendered by overconfidence."

During 1952 the total number of patient days was 19,053 out of a possible 20,440, representing 93 per cent utilization of the hospital facilities. This is almost identical with that of 1951.

In 1952 there were 62 admitted to the hospital, including 19 re-admissions, and there were 59 discharged from the hospital, including 14 deaths. A total of 112 patients were treated and there were 796 pneumothorax and pneumoperitonrum treatments.

Dr. Schwartz points out that the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and its staff serve three main functions, (1) to find tuberculosis, (2) to treat the individual with active disease, (3) to follow-up on discharged patients.

Among the recommendations made in the report is that a dumbwaiter be installed in the shaft which already exists. The lift itself was never installed. At present the cook and his helpers are required to carry heavy loads of foodstuffs up a narrow flight of stairs. Increased parking facilities are also suggested and it is also suggested the present chimney be extended in height beyond the cupola to eliminate the soot and smoke. Either garage facilities or parking space for employees' cars is suggested so that the snow plows can do a better job in winter. A heated food cart for each floor should also be considered. A vertical fluoroscope is necessary to enable the hospital physicians to examine clinic patients.

During the past year a new steam boiler has been installed under an appropriation of $30,000 and adjustments of the oild boiler for fuel oil is awaiting certain tests. X-ray dark room changes were made to facilitate the work of the hospital clinics and a film storage bin has been installed. The oil tank was relocated under the parking area which provides some additional parking space. A new intercom type of telephone is being installed to replace the switchboard arrangement and it has been found feasible to discontinue one of the exchanges resulting in a decrease in the telephone bills. Also during the year several of the patient rooms have been repainted.

The report states that a great deal of work is being done in the clinics, but not enough new individuals are being reached. It is felt further education is necessary to convince Ulster county residents of the value of chest X-ray yearly. During 1952, 3827 individ-

Historic Voting Takes Place In South Africa; Issue Is Hot

Johannesburg, South Africa, April 15 (AP)—Worried South Africans voted today in a fateful general election climaxing five of the stormiest years in the country's recent history.

Mining millionaires, bearded Boers and plain citizens of this far south British commonwealth land trekked in record numbers from city, bush and factory to voting stations that opened at 7 a. m. (midnight EST) for 13 hours. The government assigned armed police to all polling places.

Ragged trousered Negroes and Indians stood silently, even sullenly, by as the white man's election began—silent because they are voteless, sullen because the two chief parties are pledged to maintain white supremacy. Their major campaign difference was over how to do it.

The governing Nationalists, with a highly-geared political machine controlled by Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan, claimed right up to the opening of the polls that victory would be sure and easy. The rival unity party, which the late Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts helped found, said they could win if every supporter voted.

A record turnout of 1,200,000 white voters was expected. At stake were 136 of the 159 seats in Parliament. Three white lawmakers already hold seats on behalf of the 50,000 coloreds (mulattos) in Cape Province—the only non-whites in South Africa who vote—for white representatives. Eighteen United Party men and two Nationalists were elected unopposed.

Planes See Trucks Carrying POW; UN May Take Proposal

No Decision Is Made on Final Acts

United Nations Might Accept Neutral Angle With Switzerland as Apparent Choice

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The United Nations command was reported about ready today to accept the Communists' suggestion for resumption of the Korean truce talks which have been bogged down since last October.

No final decision on details have been made, informed officials said, but the UN probably will be prepared to accept the Red proposal that war prisoners who refuse to go home be placed under control of a neutral nation.

Switzerland reportedly may be the UN choice of a truly neutral nation which would be satisfactory to the allies. The U. S., it was said, will advocate selection of Switzerland. There was no indication whether she would be acceptable to the Communists.

Instructions on these points to Gen. Mark Clark, the UN commander in the Far East, have not yet been confirmed, responsible sources said last night.

Says Refusal Needed

Rep. Short (R.-Mo.), meanwhile, said the U. S. should refuse to undertake any peace negotiations that would leave Korea divided. A peace conference would follow agreement on a cease-fire.

"There can be no permanent peace or stability in the Far East or in the world with a divided Korea," said Short, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

The Chinese and North Korean Communists have insisted that agreement on exchange of sick and wounded prisoners should be followed by resumption of full truce talks.

The Reds have offered to waive their previous insistence on forcible repatriation of prisoners by agreeing to have them sent to a neutral country.

Officials Are Uncertain

There was considerable uncertainty in official quarters here as to whether it would be possible to negotiate a final, successful solution of the prisoner problem.

But the UN was said to be about ready to resume talks which should bring a clarification of the Red intentions. One possible stumbling block, officials say, is that the Communist compromise offer may be only a screen for some indirect method of forc-

Allied Plane Hits UN Line; 3 Are Struck

Seoul, April 15 (AP)—An allied jet plane bombed a UN forward position in eastern Korea this afternoon, causing three casualties, the Eighth Army announced.

It was not known whether any of the three casualties were deaths or whether the victims were South Koreans, American or other UN troops.

South Koreans man much of the eastern front, but units of the U. S. 45th Infantry Division were identified as in the front lines near Heartbreak Ridge earlier today.

Apparently only a single bomb was dropped. There were no further details.

Eisenhower Speech To Be Based Upon Chances for Peace

President Will Address Editors' Luncheon —Major Talk on Foreign Policy

Augusta, Ga., April 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower's speech in Washington tomorrow will deal with "the chances for peace for all the peoples of the world in 1953."

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, announced the theme at the President's vacation headquarters here. The address at a luncheon meeting (1 p. m. EST) of the American Society of Newspaper Editors will be televised and broadcast by radio on all national networks.

"It will be a major speech on foreign policy and the chances for peace for all the peoples of the world in 1953," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower worked on the speech at his vacation retreat last night and spent about three hours on it this morning before turning out for another round of golf at the August National Club.

To Fly to Capital

The President will fly back to Washington tomorrow morning.

After the half hour address he will go to Griffith Stadium to toss out the first baseball at the game between the Washington Senators and the world champion New York Yankees.

Hagerty said the President will watch about two or three innings of the ball game, then go to the

Convoy Is Rushing to Swap Area

War Supply Trucks Are Reported Moving With Prisoner Groups; 750 Chinese Rebel

Munsan, Korea, April 15 (AP)—Allied planes today spotted two truck convoys highballing sick and wounded UN war prisoners toward the gate to freedom at Panmunjom.

There was no report of a third convoy the Reds said also is moving south through North Korea.

The three convoys are carrying part of 600 disabled UN troops to be traded for 5,800 Red sick and injured beginning Monday.

930 Are Being Prepared

Meanwhile, the UN command said 930 Chinese prisoners are being readied for exchange—230 more than the 700 the allies told Red liaison officers at Panmunjom would be returned as sick and wounded. There was no immediate explanation for the higher figure.

Spokesmen at Munsan and UN headquarters in Tokyo said they did not know if the additional Chinese would raise the 5,800 total the UN gave the Reds earlier. The 5,800 included 700 Chinese and 5,100 North Koreans.

Even as the announcement came, almost 750 Chinese Reds on the first leg toward home rebelled briefly against the UN.

They refused for 2½ hours to leave a landing ship that took them from Cheju island to the South Korean mainland, but they finally filed off after armed allied guards wearing gas masks came aboard.

The Chinese had all asked for return to their homeland.

Nuisance Demands Made

An American officer said:

"There were the usual nuisance demands to harass us, but most of the demands have been resolved as of now."

There was no report here on any further action toward revival of the fullscale armistice talks.

The Communists have been pressing the UNC to reopen negotiations but the UNC has said exchange of the sick and injured must come first. The truce talks have been deadlocked for a year and suspended since last Oct. 8 over the issue of prisoner repatriation, last big barrier to a truce.

In Washington, authoritative sources said the UNC is expected to agree soon to a resumption of the talks.

They also said the UNC probably would agree to a Red proposal that Communists who refuse to go home be placed under control of a single neutral nation—with Switzerland preferred as that nation. The Allies refuse to return any prisoner against his will. The Reds have insisted that all war prisoners be repatriated.

Office Worker Gives Story Of Killing Wife in California

Newark, N. J., April 15 (AP)—An office worker, surprised by a visit from a Los Angeles detective, poured out to police a story of how he killed his wife with a croquet mallet in California, dumped her body and finally drove east with his three children.

After killing his wife, he hatched off her hands, jammed her body into the trunk of his car and headed with the children for Mexico, where he left the body in a desert, police said.

The confession yesterday came as a surprise to police, because they had called in the ex-marine, Edward Richard Fredericks, just to answer some routine questions about his wife, who had been reported missing in January.

Instead, they heard Fredericks tell that he was "extremely jealous" of his wife, Ruth Hilda, 34, and suspected her of carrying on with other men.

Fredericks, 38, a business machine operator for the Prudential Insurance Co. here, is to be arraigned today as a fugitive wanted for murder in California.

He was quoted by police as saying he had an argument with his wife on Jan. 6 in the yard of their Van Nuys, Calif. home. She came at him with a pen knife, fell over some toys, and then he picked up the croquet mallet and hit her over the head.

"* * * I noticed she was out. I thought for a while, in a daze. I then cut off her hands with a hatchet," Fredericks statement to police said, adding:

"I had forgotten about her hands * * *. I think the next day I found her hands near the garage. * * * I buried the hands in the ground."

Police said Frederick's admitted dumping the body near Ensenada, Mexico. He took the children along on the Mexico trip, telling them they were going on a picnic.

The confession came freely from Fredericks after a chance visit from Los Angeles Detective Charles S. Stewart. Steward said he was on his way to Providence, R. I., on another case and dropped by at Maplewood to talk to Fredericks.

Fredericks moved to Maplewood with his three children in February.

A missing persons investigation began when Fredericks' neighbors in Van Nuys found his wife's clothes in the empty house after the former marine came back to Maplewood, his home town.

Los Angeles police said they found a pair of hands buried in the back yard, and that the body of an unidentified woman was found near Ensenada early in February.

Before leaving for Maplewood, Federicks showed neighbors what he said was a note from his wife that she had gone away on a trip. Fredericks said he told Prudential officials in California that his wife had left him, and asked for a transfer back to the Newark office.

A first degree murder complaint against Fredericks has been issued in Los Angeles, where District Attorney S. Ernest Roll said extradition proceedings would begin as soon as possible. Fredericks is willing to waive extradition, police said.

Sugar Acid Blamed

Thus Dental Prof. Speaks Regarding Cause of Tooth Decay

San Francisco, April 15 (AP)—All the dentists in the U. S., even working around the clock, would not be able to fill the cavities American children get in their teeth.

That's the word of Dr. Philip Jay, professor of dentistry at the University of Michigan, had for the California State Dental Association yesterday.

Dr. Jay said the best remedy for cavities would be for processors to take the acid bite out of sugar. If they could add something to the sugar molecule that would keep it from turning into acid while still in the mouth, people with a sweet tooth could forget their worries about tooth decay, he declared.

Blind Man Leads

University Student Has Highest Average in School's History

Chicago, April 15 (AP)—Burton A. Kolman, a blind law student at DePaul University, says as he sees it, "everything good is happening to me all at once."

His life is looking bright, he explained, because (1) professors at DePaul's law school, where he is a senior, told him he has the highest scholastic average in the school's history; (2) on his 21st birthday last Sunday he was elected vice president of the American Law Students Association, and (3), Anita Gubali, a law student form Israel, has promised to marry him.

Kolman lost his sight five years ago when struck by a baseball.

Crowd Fills Armory for Lions Exposition

Kingston Area on Parade, the Lions Club's sixth annual industrial exposition and automobile show, opened its five night stand at the state armory last night and Lions Club officials estimated that from the time the doors opened at 7 p. m. until they closed at 11 more than 2,700 men, women and children visited the exhibits.

To mark the show's first night, a parade left Broadway and Cornell street at 6:30 p. m. Headed by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy as grand marshal, escorted by motorcycle patrolmen, the color guard, Port Ewen Drum Corps, men and equipment of the 156th Field Artillery, NYNG, the Lions Club Drum and Bugle Corps, officials and exhibitors in automobiles paraded up Broadway, out East St. James street, Albany avenue and Manor avenue into the armory.

On the heels of the parade came hundreds of spectators.

Once inside the armory, the Port Ewen Drum Corps buglers sounded To The Colors, the Lions Club Corps gave a demonstration, and Lawrence Jenson as master of ceremonies called for the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and the Pledge of Allegiance. Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom gave the invocation.

Brickyard Buildings Bring $500 at Court House Sale

Portion of Property Along River to Be Used for Piers for Bridge

Buildings on the former Rose Brothers brickyard below Goldrick's Landing were sold at auction this morning to individual bidders for a total of $500.

About 50 persons attended the sale at the court house. The buildings, located on property acquired by the county of Ulster through tax sale, were sold with the provision they be removed within a month. A portion of the land will be used for the construction of piers for the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge.

Earl Sweet and William S. Keyser were the auctioneers. There was spirited bidding on a few of the buildings, although most of them went for nominal amounts.

No Right Exercised

The county did not exercise its right to reject any of the bids and today's sales were to become final as soon as payment is made and memoranda agreeing to the terms of the sale are signed.

The buildings included former residences of workmen as well as a number of machine rooms, a garage and barn.

The highest bid was drawn by House No. 2, a two story frame house, 28 by 36 feet, which was struck down to Robert McCullough for $150.

Building No. 12, a 30 by 115 foot brick machine room and drier, was sold for $90 to Harry Lowe.

Joseph Nagy was the successful bidder for the greatest number of the buildings. He paid $55 for Building No. 11, a 74 by 38 foot brick machine room and drier; $45 for House No. 14; $35 for House No. 7; $30 for No. 5, house; $10 for No. 4, house; and $5 each for No. 3 house, No. 8 duplex house.

John Senkowicz was high bidder with $10 for No. 6, a brick house and $5 for No. 9, one story brick house.

Pope Says None Must Know Secrets

Cautions Psychiatrists Not to Violate Intimacy of Inner Mind

Vatican City, April 15 (AP)—Pope Pius XII has warned Roman Catholics that the secret of confession must never be revealed—not even to psychiatrists or other doctors who may be treating them for ailments.

The Pope also cautioned psychiatrists against digging up intimate secrets, and said this is a principal error of the modern healing science. He touched upon sexual education and the sexual instinct with which psychoanalysis is concerned. "One should be slow," he said, "to lower man  to the level of the brute."

The Pope presented the Catholic church's attitude on psychoanalysis to delegates of the Catholic Congress on Psychotherapy and Psychology at a special audience on Sunday. His address was released today by The Vatican press office.

Must Be Safeguarded

The Pope said intimate secrets of individuals "must be safeguarded." These, he said, are frequently endangered by psychoanalysis.

"There are secrets," said the Pope, "which must on no account be divulged—even to a doctor, even in spite of grave personal inconvenience.

"The secret of confession may never be revealed; it is equally forbidden for the professional secret to be communicated to another, including a doctor.

"The same is true of other secrets. One may invoke the principle: 'For a proportionately grave reason it is permitted to reveal a secret to a prudent man and one capable of keeping a secret.' This principle is correct, within narrow limits, for certain kinds of secrets. It is not right to make use of it indiscriminately in psychoanalytic practice."

Teaches Calmly

The Pope said "efficacious sexual education, in entire safety, teaches with calmness and objectivity what the young man should know for his personal conduct and his relationship with those with whom he is brought into contact.

"For the rest," he added, "the accent will be placed principally, in sexual education as, moreover, in all education, upon self mastery and religious training.

"The trite principle that sexu-

Tax Deadline Nears

Albany, April 15—New Yorkers have until midnight tonight to file their 1952 state income tax returns. All state tax offices will remain open until 9 p. m. to help the last-minute crowd meet the deadline. The tax department said that as of yesterday, about two million of the expected 4½ million returns had been filed.

Report Reveals Ulster County Must Be on Guard Against TB

Although the death rate from tuberculosis in Ulster county dropped from 39.6 to 22.8 per hundred thousand between the years 1948 and 1951, the Ulster county death rate rose from 8th to 6th highest in New York state, an indication that even we have had an appreciable decline in the death rate, Ulster county has not kept pace with other counties.

In his annual report to the Ulster county board of supervisors this fact its pointed out by Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, director of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, who reports "much has been done, but we must guard against apathy engendered by overconfidence."

During 1952 the total number of patient days was 19,053 out of a possible 20,440, representing 93 per cent utilization of the hospital facilities. This is almost identical with that of 1951.

In 1952 there were 62 admitted to the hospital, including 19 re-admissions, and there were 59 discharged from the hospital, including 14 deaths. A total of 112 patients were treated and there were 796 pneumothorax and pneumoperitonrum treatments.

Dr. Schwartz points out that the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and its staff serve three main functions, (1) to find tuberculosis, (2) to treat the individual with active disease, (3) to follow-up on discharged patients.

Among the recommendations made in the report is that a dumbwaiter be installed in the shaft which already exists. The lift itself was never installed. At present the cook and his helpers are required to carry heavy loads of foodstuffs up a narrow flight of stairs. Increased parking facilities are also suggested and it is also suggested the present chimney be extended in height beyond the cupola to eliminate the soot and smoke. Either garage facilities or parking space for employees' cars is suggested so that the snow plows can do a better job in winter. A heated food cart for each floor should also be considered. A vertical fluoroscope is necessary to enable the hospital physicians to examine clinic patients.

During the past year a new steam boiler has been installed under an appropriation of $30,000 and adjustments of the oild boiler for fuel oil is awaiting certain tests. X-ray dark room changes were made to facilitate the work of the hospital clinics and a film storage bin has been installed. The oil tank was relocated under the parking area which provides some additional parking space. A new intercom type of telephone is being installed to replace the switchboard arrangement and it has been found feasible to discontinue one of the exchanges resulting in a decrease in the telephone bills. Also during the year several of the patient rooms have been repainted.

The report states that a great deal of work is being done in the clinics, but not enough new individuals are being reached. It is felt further education is necessary to convince Ulster county residents of the value of chest X-ray yearly. During 1952, 3827 individ-

Historic Voting Takes Place In South Africa; Issue Is Hot

Johannesburg, South Africa, April 15 (AP)—Worried South Africans voted today in a fateful general election climaxing five of the stormiest years in the country's recent history.

Mining millionaires, bearded Boers and plain citizens of this far south British commonwealth land trekked in record numbers from city, bush and factory to voting stations that opened at 7 a. m. (midnight EST) for 13 hours. The government assigned armed police to all polling places.

Ragged trousered Negroes and Indians stood silently, even sullenly, by as the white man's election began—silent because they are voteless, sullen because the two chief parties are pledged to maintain white supremacy. Their major campaign difference was over how to do it.

The governing Nationalists, with a highly-geared political machine controlled by Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan, claimed right up to the opening of the polls that victory would be sure and easy. The rival unity party, which the late Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts helped found, said they could win if every supporter voted.

A record turnout of 1,200,000 white voters was expected. At stake were 136 of the 159 seats in Parliament. Three white lawmakers already hold seats on behalf of the 50,000 coloreds (mulattos) in Cape Province—the only non-whites in South Africa who vote—for white representatives. Eighteen United Party men and two Nationalists were elected unopposed.

Planes See Trucks Carrying POW; UN May Take Proposal

No Decision Is Made on Final Acts

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The United Nations command was reported about ready today to accept the Communists' suggestion for resumption of the Korean truce talks which have been bogged down since last October.

No final decision on details have been made, informed officials said, but the UN probably will be prepared to accept the Red proposal that war prisoners who refuse to go home be placed under control of a neutral nation.

Switzerland reportedly may be the UN choice of a truly neutral nation which would be satisfactory to the allies. The U. S., it was said, will advocate selection of Switzerland. There was no indication whether she would be acceptable to the Communists.

Instructions on these points to Gen. Mark Clark, the UN commander in the Far East, have not yet been confirmed, responsible sources said last night.

Says Refusal Needed

Rep. Short (R.-Mo.), meanwhile, said the U. S. should refuse to undertake any peace negotiations that would leave Korea divided. A peace conference would follow agreement on a cease-fire.

"There can be no permanent peace or stability in the Far East or in the world with a divided Korea," said Short, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

The Chinese and North Korean Communists have insisted that agreement on exchange of sick and wounded prisoners should be followed by resumption of full truce talks.

The Reds have offered to waive their previous insistence on forcible repatriation of prisoners by agreeing to have them sent to a neutral country.

Officials Are Uncertain

There was considerable uncertainty in official quarters here as to whether it would be possible to negotiate a final, successful solution of the prisoner problem.

But the UN was said to be about ready to resume talks which should bring a clarification of the Red intentions. One possible stumbling block, officials say, is that the Communist compromise offer may be only a screen for some indirect method of forc-

Allied Plane Hits UN Line; 3 Are Struck

Seoul, April 15 (AP)—An allied jet plane bombed a UN forward position in eastern Korea this afternoon, causing three casualties, the Eighth Army announced.

It was not known whether any of the three casualties were deaths or whether the victims were South Koreans, American or other UN troops.

South Koreans man much of the eastern front, but units of the U. S. 45th Infantry Division were identified as in the front lines near Heartbreak Ridge earlier today.

Apparently only a single bomb was dropped. There were no further details.

Eisenhower Speech To Be Based Upon Chances for Peace

President Will Address Editors' Luncheon —Major Talk on Foreign Policy

Augusta, Ga., April 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower's speech in Washington tomorrow will deal with "the chances for peace for all the peoples of the world in 1953."

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, announced the theme at the President's vacation headquarters here. The address at a luncheon meeting (1 p. m. EST) of the American Society of Newspaper Editors will be televised and broadcast by radio on all national networks.

"It will be a major speech on foreign policy and the chances for peace for all the peoples of the world in 1953," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower worked on the speech at his vacation retreat last night and spent about three hours on it this morning before turning out for another round of golf at the August National Club.

To Fly to Capital

The President will fly back to Washington tomorrow morning.

After the half hour address he will go to Griffith Stadium to toss out the first baseball at the game between the Washington Senators and the world champion New York Yankees.

Hagerty said the President will watch about two or three innings of the ball game, then go to the

War Supply Trucks Are Reported Moving With Prisoner Groups; 750 Chinese Rebel

Munsan, Korea, April 15 (AP)—Allied planes today spotted two truck convoys highballing sick and wounded UN war prisoners toward the gate to freedom at Panmunjom.

There was no report of a third convoy the Reds said also is moving south through North Korea.

The three convoys are carrying part of 600 disabled UN troops to be traded for 5,800 Red sick and injured beginning Monday.

930 Are Being Prepared

Meanwhile, the UN command said 930 Chinese prisoners are being readied for exchange—230 more than the 700 the allies told Red liaison officers at Panmunjom would be returned as sick and wounded. There was no immediate explanation for the higher figure.

Spokesmen at Munsan and UN headquarters in Tokyo said they did not know if the additional Chinese would raise the 5,800 total the UN gave the Reds earlier. The 5,800 included 700 Chinese and 5,100 North Koreans.

Even as the announcement came, almost 750 Chinese Reds on the first leg toward home rebelled briefly against the UN.

They refused for 2½ hours to leave a landing ship that took them from Cheju island to the South Korean mainland, but they finally filed off after armed allied guards wearing gas masks came aboard.

The Chinese had all asked for return to their homeland.

Nuisance Demands Made

An American officer said:

"There were the usual nuisance demands to harass us, but most of the demands have been resolved as of now."

There was no report here on any further action toward revival of the fullscale armistice talks.

The Communists have been pressing the UNC to reopen negotiations but the UNC has said exchange of the sick and injured must come first. The truce talks have been deadlocked for a year and suspended since last Oct. 8 over the issue of prisoner repatriation, last big barrier to a truce.

In Washington, authoritative sources said the UNC is expected to agree soon to a resumption of the talks.

They also said the UNC probably would agree to a Red proposal that Communists who refuse to go home be placed under control of a single neutral nation—with Switzerland preferred as that nation. The Allies refuse to return any prisoner against his will. The Reds have insisted that all war prisoners be repatriated.

Office Worker Gives Story Of Killing Wife in California

Newark, N. J., April 15 (AP)—An office worker, surprised by a visit from a Los Angeles detective, poured out to police a story of how he killed his wife with a croquet mallet in California, dumped her body and finally drove east with his three children.

After killing his wife, he hatched off her hands, jammed her body into the trunk of his car and headed with the children for Mexico, where he left the body in a desert, police said.

The confession yesterday came as a surprise to police, because they had called in the ex-marine, Edward Richard Fredericks, just to answer some routine questions about his wife, who had been reported missing in January.

Instead, they heard Fredericks tell that he was "extremely jealous" of his wife, Ruth Hilda, 34, and suspected her of carrying on with other men.

Fredericks, 38, a business machine operator for the Prudential Insurance Co. here, is to be arraigned today as a fugitive wanted for murder in California.

He was quoted by police as saying he had an argument with his wife on Jan. 6 in the yard of their Van Nuys, Calif. home. She came at him with a pen knife, fell over some toys, and then he picked up the croquet mallet and hit her over the head.

"* * * I noticed she was out. I thought for a while, in a daze. I then cut off her hands with a hatchet," Fredericks statement to police said, adding:

"I had forgotten about her hands * * *. I think the next day I found her hands near the garage. * * * I buried the hands in the ground."

Police said Frederick's admitted dumping the body near Ensenada, Mexico. He took the children along on the Mexico trip, telling them they were going on a picnic.

The confession came freely from Fredericks after a chance visit from Los Angeles Detective Charles S. Stewart. Steward said he was on his way to Providence, R. I., on another case and dropped by at Maplewood to talk to Fredericks.

Fredericks moved to Maplewood with his three children in February.

A missing persons investigation began when Fredericks' neighbors in Van Nuys found his wife's clothes in the empty house after the former marine came back to Maplewood, his home town.

Los Angeles police said they found a pair of hands buried in the back yard, and that the body of an unidentified woman was found near Ensenada early in February.

Before leaving for Maplewood, Federicks showed neighbors what he said was a note from his wife that she had gone away on a trip. Fredericks said he told Prudential officials in California that his wife had left him, and asked for a transfer back to the Newark office.

A first degree murder complaint against Fredericks has been issued in Los Angeles, where District Attorney S. Ernest Roll said extradition proceedings would begin as soon as possible. Fredericks is willing to waive extradition, police said.

Sugar Acid Blamed

Thus Dental Prof. Speaks Regarding Cause of Tooth Decay

San Francisco, April 15 (AP)—All the dentists in the U. S., even working around the clock, would not be able to fill the cavities American children get in their teeth.

That's the word of Dr. Philip Jay, professor of dentistry at the University of Michigan, had for the California State Dental Association yesterday.

Dr. Jay said the best remedy for cavities would be for processors to take the acid bite out of sugar. If they could add something to the sugar molecule that would keep it from turning into acid while still in the mouth, people with a sweet tooth could forget their worries about tooth decay, he declared.

RETURNING BASEMENTS

The basements of houses built around the turn of the century and for some time afterward were horrible places. There was never enough light, even in the laundry, on a dark day. They were apt to be damp. There were great furnaces looking like prehistoric monsters with those enormous sprawling pipes. There were coal bins. There were some shelves in one good corner for jellies and preserves. There may have been a dark tool room. There was almost certainly one corner for dead storage. The old trunk, the broken chair—why go on with the messy tale?

No wonder builders of new small houses eliminated the basement. They also skipped the second floor and attic. Living was all on one floor. How lovely! Such living has many advantages. But it has a few faults as well.

Where are the suitcases and duffel bags kept? Where do the jellies go? What about any food stores requiring coolness—not so cold as the deep freeze? Where do the children romp on a rainy day?

"Where can I put this—that—oh dear, I wish I had a basement! Not a big, dark, horrid one, but just a room or two, dry, light, friendly! A playroom for the youngsters. A cool room for apples and jams. And I suppose it's heresy, but I'd really like the heating plant out of the way!"

So back comes the basement—in a different form. The utility room still keeps laundry work on the same floor with the creeping baby. Stairs are build to be easy. It's not under all the house, but the plumbing pipes are accessible. The living room is more livable because the noisy games are below.

It was bound to come, says an architect friend. The tiny one-floor-five-rooms is fine for the newly-weds. With children more room is needed. It's an interesting development. We know one family about to raise its roof expensively instead.

NEW PURGE?

Fifteen Russian doctors, who had been accused of medical murder of several top Communist leaders, have been released. They have been declared innocent and the ministry of state security, which was responsible for their arrest, is under attack. An obscure deputy minister of security has been arrested. Some observers believe that all this indicates a new purge is in the offing.

If a purge were to come it might work this way: the deputy minister who has been arrested would be put under pressure to confess to his crime and implicate others. They in turn would be arrested and expected to involve others in their confessions. When the trials and executions were over a great deal of the opposition to the reigning powers might be eliminated. This is the way past purges in Russia have worked.

Justice in a totalitarian state is always limited by expediency. Had it been to the advantage of the Kremlin to execute the doctors, who were at first said to have confessed to their crimes, the executions would have been carried out without remorse. Instead the government has found it more profitable to make them into heroes and turn on their accusers as criminals. This must be very confusing to the Soviet citizen whose very life depends on keeping his thinking on the right side of the political fence.

Now that it has become official doctrine to defend the doctors and deride the officials who brought about their arrest there is a mad scramble among world Communists to take up the new position. Fingers of guilt are pointing in all directions. There need be no surprise if any day now the entire mistake is laid at the door of Leon Trotsky.

LANGSTON HUGHES

Some people live negative lives. They must oppose or be opposed; they never see the strength of a way of life, only its weaknesses. Nothing is altogether perfect in anything on earth; yet all that matters to them are the imperfections. And when they finally discover that the faults they have overemphasized are not tremendous matters, only the natural reactions of humans who are not gods, they are shocked by their discoveries.

Langston Hughes is a poet of the Negro race who gained a large measure of praise and condemnation for his poetry. Like so many of the intellectuals of the 1930's, he moved into the Communist milieu. Now he is one of us again.

But what excites him is not our fundamental justice, or the regard for the individual in our Constitution, or the wonderful philosophy of the Declaration of Independence, or our high standards of life, or our achievements over 300 years on this continent.

What has taken him from Stalin and returned him to Uncle Sam is largely this:

". . . in our own country, there has been, within the last ten years, certainly within the war period, a very great increase in the rate of acceleration of improvement in race relations. There has been a very distinct step forward in race relations, a greater understanding of the need for greater democracy for the Negro people, and then the recent Supreme Court decisions, which bolstered up the right to vote, the right to travel, and so on, have given me great heart and great confidence in the potentialities of what we can do here."

It is this question of race relations that is uppermost in his mind. It seems to be all that he can think of when he thinks of America. In a word, no matter what else is accomplished in American life, nothing counts but what the Negro believes is the attitude of the whites toward him.

I do not altogether blame Langston Hughes for this narrow point of view. It is a product of 20 years of a decided effort to fragment our people into mutually hating groups. By this theory of divide and conquer, the politicians anticipated that they could win elections. This misery is still with us in many parts of the country, particularly in the large cities of the north, where elections are won on every kind of an issue that is alien to the United States. Often city elections are won by an attitude toward events in Europe or Asia.

For instance, Roy Cohn, chief counsel for the McCarthy Committee, asked Hughes:

"Have you received any disillusionment recently, concerning the treatment of minorities by the Soviet Union?"

And Hughes replied:

"Well, the evidence in the press—I have not been there (in Russia), of course, myself—indicating persecution and terror against the Jewish people, has been very appalling to me."

What about the Lithuanians, Poles, Transylvanians, Hungarians, etc., etc.? Persecution, genocide, mass murders, enforced mass migrations have been going on in many parts of the Soviet empire since 1920. Millions of Ukrainians, for instance, were starved to death to make Stalin's first Five Year Plan a success. That should have made an impression upon Langston Hughes even while he was in the party. Have not Ukrainians as much reason to live as anybody else?

It is difficult to understand the race-absorbed mind that centers all morals on the treatment of one person by another. The world is full of injustice but it is also full of justice and decency and fine people who help one another and attend to their own business without molesting anybody. Most Americans never get into trouble and never trouble anybody. Perhaps we emphasize our disorderly people, in the press and radio, because they are so queer. Certainly for one Jelke, there are millions of boys of his age who are at college, in the factory, or in the armed forces doing something decent and constructive and living peaceful, unnoticed lives.

I wonder what would happen to a man like Langston Hughes if he would try to forget that he is a Negro and if he would only think of himself as an American and a poet. His truly great gifts could then be employed constructively to rebuild a sense of patriotism and nationalism in our country. It might really change the world.

ELECTRIC SHOCK TREATMENT

As a patient and the patient's family may know of some mental cases that were helped by the shock treatment, it would reassure them and others if they learned about the electric shock treatment—now the most popular of the three methods—insulin, metrazol, and electric—as described in Dr. Louis G. Moench's book, "Office Psychiatry."

"The technique is rather simple. To prevent vomiting, patient refrains from eating for four hours before treatment. The bladder is emptied. He is placed on a bed with a firm hard mattress (or a wooden stretcher or even the floor). Dentures are removed. Tight clothing is removed from around the neck and chest. A controlled charge of electricity is applied for 1/5 to ½ second. The tonic convulsion lasts 8 to 12 seconds, then the clonic phase for 30 or more seconds. If sufficient current is applied, the patient becomes unconscious."

The patient feels nothing from the treatment; he loses consciousness immediately and remains unconscious for 10 to 30 minutes, then may continue in a natural sleep or awaken gradually. Confusion is pronounced when he awakens. He seldom knows who or where he is, what has been done or the identity of the persons around him. He first begins to recognize persons he has known the longest time, such as members of his family. If he is told he has had a treatment, he may ask "what treatment?" and stoutly deny he has had a treatment. An attendant remains with him to prevent him from getting up too soon. He usually remains down about one hour, then may return to his room (or home with a companion).

As the convulsions put a strain on the muscles, occasionally a very severe strain sufficient to even cause a fracture (although use of curare usually prevents fractures) occurs. There is headache and aches over entire body. Aspirin (acetylsalicyclic acid) usually gives relief; aspirin and caffeine are more effective in relieving these aches. Nausea occurs in about one in every four, especially during early treatments. Often patients are hungry within an hour and are permitted to eat as soon as they wish.

When we remember that shock treatment has helped thousands of cases who had been in mental hospitals for months and even years, most families are willing and anxious to have their loved one given this opportunity of becoming normal again.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—There is probably less excitement at the Treasury Department over the possibility of a political housecleaning than in any government agency in Washington. Secretary George M. Humphrey has given every indication of running his shop there as a continuing business, instead of as a political patronage machine. In this he is setting something of an example for other new bureaucrats in town.

Only a dozen or so top policy-making officials have been brought into the Treasury by Secretary Humphrey, out of 75 presidential-appointee jobs available. About half of Treasury's 500 lawyers are not under civil service. But the word has gone out that replacements offer no problem, as all positions are satisfactorily filled.

Secretary Humphrey's estimate that $50 million could be cut from the Truman Treasury budget of $665 million will probably mean a reduction of 3500 jobs. But there will be no wholesale firings.

Most of the changes finally made are likely to be at Bureau of Internal Revenue. Reorganizing this Treasury right arm has been sized up as a year's job, to clean out the mess left by the Truman administration.

Elsewhere in the Treasury, the sweeping change of policies so freely predicted between election and inauguration days has not developed.

An unnoticed statement by the Treasury, in response to a congressional inquiry, has reaffirmed the gold policies of the former administration.

Treasury Feared Inflationary Affect

It was pointed out that any alteration in the gold content of the dollar which changes the government's gold policy would require an act of Congress. The Treasury is said to oppose any such legislation because of the inflationary effect such a program would have on the domestic economy of the U. S.

It was explained that careful study had been given by the new Treasury administration to both the subsidy and the free marketing programs for newly mined gold. Although the department was said to be sympathetic to the problems of the gold-mining industry, the Treasury did not favor the adoption of either program at the present time.

With this brief announcement, the hopes of many western gold miners and many new gold-standard advocates were sent glimmering.

The new Treasury team has also been making plans to refinance the public debt.

One of the first acts of Deputy Secretary W. Randolph Burgess was to stop the sale of series J and K government bonds. These issues were intended as replacements for maturing F and G bonds, but they have not sold well.

Approximately a billion dollars' worth of F and G series bonds are maturing this year. They have not sold well, either.

From one to two billion dollars' worth of new money has to be raised this year. The question had been whether to do it by long-term or short-term loans, and at what interest rate. Treasury recently settled this by offering $1 billion in 3¼ per cent bonds maturing in 1983, but callable after 1978.

Students Got the Big Policy Scoop

Before this new government debt financing policy was determined, all the pressure in the present bond drive being sparked by Mary Pickford and others was on the good old reliable series E savings bond.

While the top Treasury command has been extremely close-mouthed about its new plans and policies, a group of Amherst and Mt. Holyoke students came to town recently and scooped the entire Washington press corps in an exclusive, off-record conference with Undersecretary Marion B. Folsom. Out of it came several tidbits:

1. Convertibility of world currencies will have to come first, before there can be return to a gold standard of some kind.

2. If individual and excess taxes are both allowed to expire next Jan. 1, it will save the Treasury $2.3 billion over Congressman Reed's proposal for a cut on June 30. If these taxes are extended to June 30, 1954, as Senator Byrd proposes, the Treasury will save an additional $2.5 billion.

3. Treasury tax aims were stated as: First, simplification. Second, removal of inequities. Third, tax laws that will provide the least obstacle to economic growth of the country.

4. The tax policies now being worked out were listed as: First, finding the proper balance between individual, corporate and excise taxes. Second, making liberal allowances for depreciation to encourage investment. Third, obtaining the proper relation between federal, state and local taxes.

Congressmen Ask Why U. S. Can't Cut Taxes When Great Britain Takes Such Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 15—"How do they do it—and why don't we do it?" This is what many a member of Congress asked as he read the news that the government of Great Britain now has reduced income taxes, arranged to eliminate excess-profits taxes this year, and put into effect a tax-rebate plan to encourage modernization of plant and equipment.

The man who made the announcement, R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, is one of the ablest officials in Europe today. He is looked upon as a statesman capable of succeeding Winston Churchill as prime minister.

No other man in the British cabinet has a keener appreciation of the financial help that America has given to Britain, and Mr. Butler never misses a chance to express it publicly. Last year, when he brought in his economic program shortly after the Conservative government came into power, he begged the labor unions not to press for increased wage scales and said he thought he could afford them relief in living costs—an increase in real wages—by bringing prices and taxes down. He is making good on that promise.

What is important for Americans to observe is that, in a post-war economy as heavily burdened as that of Britain, the planning which now is manifested in its legislative proposals calls for incentives to business. Taxes are used not as a repressive but as a stimulating influence. The same approach could be helpful in the United States, especially if defense spending tapers off in the next few years.

The British tax program affords about a two and a half per cent reduction of taxes on every dollar of income for the individual. But the biggest cuts have come in what are called "purchase taxes," which are the same thing as sales taxes. Thus the levies on many household items, such as carpets, linoleum, hardware and bicycles, come down from 33 per cent of the retail price to 25 per cent—a stiff tax in the first instance that is somewhat alleviated now. For in England, while the income taxes are relatively high, the sales taxes in addition are substantial. The taxes on autos, refrigerators, washing machines, radio sets, however, are being materially reduced.

It is interesting to note that government spending is actually to be increased in the new British budget by about $302,400,000. But the total reduction in taxes nevertheless amounts to about $473,200,000. This means that the budget is in balance even with the tax reductions. These reductions, incidentally, include a repeal of the 30 per cent excess-profits tax to take effect the end of this year.

American business men will be envious of their British brethren in the marts of trade who are to receive rebates in taxes of 20 per cent of the cost of new machinery, 10 per cent of the cost of new roads and buildings, and 40 per cent of the cost of new mines provided they use their projects to improve capital assets.

The drive in this session of Congress to permit flexible amortization has hardly begun, though agitation for it has been going on for many years. What Britain has done is likely to be cited again and again in Congress as an example of the wisdom of a sound system of incentives for rebuilding plant and equipment and for encouraging employment in heavy-goods industries, especially if there is a letdown next year.

Many observers here will, of course, ask how much of the British tax program was made possible as a result of American financial aid. The British chancellor of the exchequer, in his speech announcing tax cuts, says that about $336,000,000 of American aid was received last year. Doubtless he is counting on this amount or its equivalent in trade aid or in American expenditures abroad to help the economic program of the United Kingdom. Mr. Butler recently visited the White House and talked with high administration officials about his budget plans, but it is not known whether he was given any detailed assurances concerning the amount of financial support of his whole program that might be expected from the United States.

With Britain cutting taxes and Canada recently making a cut of 11 per cent in income taxes, too, maybe they'll think more seriously on Capitol Hill soon of the bill of Representative Reed, Republican, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who evidently thinks that what the British and the Canadians have done, Americans can do if they really resolve to meet squarely the problem of cutting expenses and improving the productivity of revenue by sensible tax rates.

Close Watch on Consumer Buying and Inventories

By SAM DAWSON

New York, April 13 (AP)—Businessmen trying to judge what Korean peace talks will do to the boom will keep close watch on three things in the next few weeks:

Any signs of consumers slowing down their buying, especially buying on time.

Any signs of businessmen cutting back on new orders and starting to live off their high inventories—the thing that brought on the recession of 1949.

And any cutback in business plans to spend money on new plants and equipment.

These three things are considered by many businessmen as the chief things to watch for just now. They believe that the other prop of the boom—high government spending for defense—will be lowered slowly, if at all.

But if consumers grow cautious, and if businessmen live off inventories and drop present plans to spend record sums on further expansion—then the boom may top out quickly and business slow down.

In recent days business leaders have been quick to issue optimistic statements, saying that in the long run peace, if it comes, could only be bullish. Any possible stretch-out in the defense program, if it means lower taxes and more materials for civilian production, would do little to hamper present prosperity, these leaders contend.

Record Business

Business activity is now at an all-time high. National output of goods and services is now at an annual rate of 363 billion dollars, up 3 billion dollars over the last three months of 1952, and compared with 340 billion dollars in the first three months of last year.

Businessmen have pushed their spending for plant and equipment to a new record annual rate of 27 billion dollars in the first three months of 1953. The Department of Commerce says they plan to spend at an annual rate of 28 billion dollars in April, May and June, and to cut back to a little more than 26 billion dollars annual rate in the last half of the year.

But chances are that the peace talk will cause many businessmen to take a second look at these plans.

Executives stress that most of their plans for improving plant and equipment are not for defense production, but for improving their own competitive position.

Tool makers are hitting that line of sales talk hard now. They say that new machinery will lower the costs of doing business for many manufacturers so that they can outsell their competitors.

Much of the new equipment recently installed was to replace old machines rather than to increase the size of plants. Factory managers, plagued by rising labor and other costs, will study such improvement plans closely — but at the same time they'll keep a close watch on the effect of talk of peace on business sentiment, and consumer purchasing.

High Inventories

High inventories could be a more immediate threat. Business inventories at nearly 75½ billion dollars are more than one billion dollars higher than a year ago. But since sales are higher too, business leaders stress that inventories aren't out of line now.

The danger, however, would come only if businessmen suddenly did what they did in 1949, began going slow on new orders and trying to reduce inventories. That could quickly cut back production schedules at mills and factories.

Employment in March was at an all-time high for the month, and 1¾ million more persons had jobs than a year ago. Personal income in the first part of the year was 6 per cent above a year ago. It's a ripe boom that some businessmen are worrying about as peace talk spreads.

RETURNING BASEMENTS

The basements of houses built around the turn of the century and for some time afterward were horrible places. There was never enough light, even in the laundry, on a dark day. They were apt to be damp. There were great furnaces looking like prehistoric monsters with those enormous sprawling pipes. There were coal bins. There were some shelves in one good corner for jellies and preserves. There may have been a dark tool room. There was almost certainly one corner for dead storage. The old trunk, the broken chair—why go on with the messy tale?

No wonder builders of new small houses eliminated the basement. They also skipped the second floor and attic. Living was all on one floor. How lovely! Such living has many advantages. But it has a few faults as well.

Where are the suitcases and duffel bags kept? Where do the jellies go? What about any food stores requiring coolness—not so cold as the deep freeze? Where do the children romp on a rainy day?

"Where can I put this—that—oh dear, I wish I had a basement! Not a big, dark, horrid one, but just a room or two, dry, light, friendly! A playroom for the youngsters. A cool room for apples and jams. And I suppose it's heresy, but I'd really like the heating plant out of the way!"

So back comes the basement—in a different form. The utility room still keeps laundry work on the same floor with the creeping baby. Stairs are build to be easy. It's not under all the house, but the plumbing pipes are accessible. The living room is more livable because the noisy games are below.

It was bound to come, says an architect friend. The tiny one-floor-five-rooms is fine for the newly-weds. With children more room is needed. It's an interesting development. We know one family about to raise its roof expensively instead.

NEW PURGE?

Fifteen Russian doctors, who had been accused of medical murder of several top Communist leaders, have been released. They have been declared innocent and the ministry of state security, which was responsible for their arrest, is under attack. An obscure deputy minister of security has been arrested. Some observers believe that all this indicates a new purge is in the offing.

If a purge were to come it might work this way: the deputy minister who has been arrested would be put under pressure to confess to his crime and implicate others. They in turn would be arrested and expected to involve others in their confessions. When the trials and executions were over a great deal of the opposition to the reigning powers might be eliminated. This is the way past purges in Russia have worked.

Justice in a totalitarian state is always limited by expediency. Had it been to the advantage of the Kremlin to execute the doctors, who were at first said to have confessed to their crimes, the executions would have been carried out without remorse. Instead the government has found it more profitable to make them into heroes and turn on their accusers as criminals. This must be very confusing to the Soviet citizen whose very life depends on keeping his thinking on the right side of the political fence.

Now that it has become official doctrine to defend the doctors and deride the officials who brought about their arrest there is a mad scramble among world Communists to take up the new position. Fingers of guilt are pointing in all directions. There need be no surprise if any day now the entire mistake is laid at the door of Leon Trotsky.

"The technique is rather simple. To prevent vomiting, patient refrains from eating for four hours before treatment. The bladder is emptied. He is placed on a bed with a firm hard mattress (or a wooden stretcher or even the floor). Dentures are removed. Tight clothing is removed from around the neck and chest. A controlled charge of electricity is applied for 1/5 to ½ second. The tonic convulsion lasts 8 to 12 seconds, then the clonic phase for 30 or more seconds. If sufficient current is applied, the patient becomes unconscious."

The patient feels nothing from the treatment; he loses consciousness immediately and remains unconscious for 10 to 30 minutes, then may continue in a natural sleep or awaken gradually. Confusion is pronounced when he awakens. He seldom knows who or where he is, what has been done or the identity of the persons around him. He first begins to recognize persons he has known the longest time, such as members of his family. If he is told he has had a treatment, he may ask "what treatment?" and stoutly deny he has had a treatment. An attendant remains with him to prevent him from getting up too soon. He usually remains down about one hour, then may return to his room (or home with a companion).

As the convulsions put a strain on the muscles, occasionally a very severe strain sufficient to even cause a fracture (although use of curare usually prevents fractures) occurs. There is headache and aches over entire body. Aspirin (acetylsalicyclic acid) usually gives relief; aspirin and caffeine are more effective in relieving these aches. Nausea occurs in about one in every four, especially during early treatments. Often patients are hungry within an hour and are permitted to eat as soon as they wish.

When we remember that shock treatment has helped thousands of cases who had been in mental hospitals for months and even years, most families are willing and anxious to have their loved one given this opportunity of becoming normal again.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—There is probably less excitement at the Treasury Department over the possibility of a political housecleaning than in any government agency in Washington. Secretary George M. Humphrey has given every indication of running his shop there as a continuing business, instead of as a political patronage machine. In this he is setting something of an example for other new bureaucrats in town.

Only a dozen or so top policy-making officials have been brought into the Treasury by Secretary Humphrey, out of 75 presidential-appointee jobs available. About half of Treasury's 500 lawyers are not under civil service. But the word has gone out that replacements offer no problem, as all positions are satisfactorily filled.

Secretary Humphrey's estimate that $50 million could be cut from the Truman Treasury budget of $665 million will probably mean a reduction of 3500 jobs. But there will be no wholesale firings.

Most of the changes finally made are likely to be at Bureau of Internal Revenue. Reorganizing this Treasury right arm has been sized up as a year's job, to clean out the mess left by the Truman administration.

Elsewhere in the Treasury, the sweeping change of policies so freely predicted between election and inauguration days has not developed.

An unnoticed statement by the Treasury, in response to a congressional inquiry, has reaffirmed the gold policies of the former administration.

Treasury Feared Inflationary Affect

It was pointed out that any alteration in the gold content of the dollar which changes the government's gold policy would require an act of Congress. The Treasury is said to oppose any such legislation because of the inflationary effect such a program would have on the domestic economy of the U. S.

It was explained that careful study had been given by the new Treasury administration to both the subsidy and the free marketing programs for newly mined gold. Although the department was said to be sympathetic to the problems of the gold-mining industry, the Treasury did not favor the adoption of either program at the present time.

With this brief announcement, the hopes of many western gold miners and many new gold-standard advocates were sent glimmering.

The new Treasury team has also been making plans to refinance the public debt.

One of the first acts of Deputy Secretary W. Randolph Burgess was to stop the sale of series J and K government bonds. These issues were intended as replacements for maturing F and G bonds, but they have not sold well.

Approximately a billion dollars' worth of F and G series bonds are maturing this year. They have not sold well, either.

From one to two billion dollars' worth of new money has to be raised this year. The question had been whether to do it by long-term or short-term loans, and at what interest rate. Treasury recently settled this by offering $1 billion in 3¼ per cent bonds maturing in 1983, but callable after 1978.

Students Got the Big Policy Scoop

Before this new government debt financing policy was determined, all the pressure in the present bond drive being sparked by Mary Pickford and others was on the good old reliable series E savings bond.

While the top Treasury command has been extremely close-mouthed about its new plans and policies, a group of Amherst and Mt. Holyoke students came to town recently and scooped the entire Washington press corps in an exclusive, off-record conference with Undersecretary Marion B. Folsom. Out of it came several tidbits:

1. Convertibility of world currencies will have to come first, before there can be return to a gold standard of some kind.

2. If individual and excess taxes are both allowed to expire next Jan. 1, it will save the Treasury $2.3 billion over Congressman Reed's proposal for a cut on June 30. If these taxes are extended to June 30, 1954, as Senator Byrd proposes, the Treasury will save an additional $2.5 billion.

3. Treasury tax aims were stated as: First, simplification. Second, removal of inequities. Third, tax laws that will provide the least obstacle to economic growth of the country.

4. The tax policies now being worked out were listed as: First, finding the proper balance between individual, corporate and excise taxes. Second, making liberal allowances for depreciation to encourage investment. Third, obtaining the proper relation between federal, state and local taxes.

Congressmen Ask Why U. S. Can't Cut Taxes When Great Britain Takes Such Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 15—"How do they do it—and why don't we do it?" This is what many a member of Congress asked as he read the news that the government of Great Britain now has reduced income taxes, arranged to eliminate excess-profits taxes this year, and put into effect a tax-rebate plan to encourage modernization of plant and equipment.

The man who made the announcement, R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, is one of the ablest officials in Europe today. He is looked upon as a statesman capable of succeeding Winston Churchill as prime minister.

No other man in the British cabinet has a keener appreciation of the financial help that America has given to Britain, and Mr. Butler never misses a chance to express it publicly. Last year, when he brought in his economic program shortly after the Conservative government came into power, he begged the labor unions not to press for increased wage scales and said he thought he could afford them relief in living costs—an increase in real wages—by bringing prices and taxes down. He is making good on that promise.

What is important for Americans to observe is that, in a post-war economy as heavily burdened as that of Britain, the planning which now is manifested in its legislative proposals calls for incentives to business. Taxes are used not as a repressive but as a stimulating influence. The same approach could be helpful in the United States, especially if defense spending tapers off in the next few years.

The British tax program affords about a two and a half per cent reduction of taxes on every dollar of income for the individual. But the biggest cuts have come in what are called "purchase taxes," which are the same thing as sales taxes. Thus the levies on many household items, such as carpets, linoleum, hardware and bicycles, come down from 33 per cent of the retail price to 25 per cent—a stiff tax in the first instance that is somewhat alleviated now. For in England, while the income taxes are relatively high, the sales taxes in addition are substantial. The taxes on autos, refrigerators, washing machines, radio sets, however, are being materially reduced.

It is interesting to note that government spending is actually to be increased in the new British budget by about $302,400,000. But the total reduction in taxes nevertheless amounts to about $473,200,000. This means that the budget is in balance even with the tax reductions. These reductions, incidentally, include a repeal of the 30 per cent excess-profits tax to take effect the end of this year.

American business men will be envious of their British brethren in the marts of trade who are to receive rebates in taxes of 20 per cent of the cost of new machinery, 10 per cent of the cost of new roads and buildings, and 40 per cent of the cost of new mines provided they use their projects to improve capital assets.

The drive in this session of Congress to permit flexible amortization has hardly begun, though agitation for it has been going on for many years. What Britain has done is likely to be cited again and again in Congress as an example of the wisdom of a sound system of incentives for rebuilding plant and equipment and for encouraging employment in heavy-goods industries, especially if there is a letdown next year.

Many observers here will, of course, ask how much of the British tax program was made possible as a result of American financial aid. The British chancellor of the exchequer, in his speech announcing tax cuts, says that about $336,000,000 of American aid was received last year. Doubtless he is counting on this amount or its equivalent in trade aid or in American expenditures abroad to help the economic program of the United Kingdom. Mr. Butler recently visited the White House and talked with high administration officials about his budget plans, but it is not known whether he was given any detailed assurances concerning the amount of financial support of his whole program that might be expected from the United States.

With Britain cutting taxes and Canada recently making a cut of 11 per cent in income taxes, too, maybe they'll think more seriously on Capitol Hill soon of the bill of Representative Reed, Republican, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who evidently thinks that what the British and the Canadians have done, Americans can do if they really resolve to meet squarely the problem of cutting expenses and improving the productivity of revenue by sensible tax rates.

Close Watch on Consumer Buying and Inventories

By SAM DAWSON

New York, April 13 (AP)—Businessmen trying to judge what Korean peace talks will do to the boom will keep close watch on three things in the next few weeks:

Any signs of consumers slowing down their buying, especially buying on time.

Any signs of businessmen cutting back on new orders and starting to live off their high inventories—the thing that brought on the recession of 1949.

And any cutback in business plans to spend money on new plants and equipment.

These three things are considered by many businessmen as the chief things to watch for just now. They believe that the other prop of the boom—high government spending for defense—will be lowered slowly, if at all.

But if consumers grow cautious, and if businessmen live off inventories and drop present plans to spend record sums on further expansion—then the boom may top out quickly and business slow down.

In recent days business leaders have been quick to issue optimistic statements, saying that in the long run peace, if it comes, could only be bullish. Any possible stretch-out in the defense program, if it means lower taxes and more materials for civilian production, would do little to hamper present prosperity, these leaders contend.

Record Business

Business activity is now at an all-time high. National output of goods and services is now at an annual rate of 363 billion dollars, up 3 billion dollars over the last three months of 1952, and compared with 340 billion dollars in the first three months of last year.

Businessmen have pushed their spending for plant and equipment to a new record annual rate of 27 billion dollars in the first three months of 1953. The Department of Commerce says they plan to spend at an annual rate of 28 billion dollars in April, May and June, and to cut back to a little more than 26 billion dollars annual rate in the last half of the year.

But chances are that the peace talk will cause many businessmen to take a second look at these plans.

Executives stress that most of their plans for improving plant and equipment are not for defense production, but for improving their own competitive position.

Tool makers are hitting that line of sales talk hard now. They say that new machinery will lower the costs of doing business for many manufacturers so that they can outsell their competitors.

Much of the new equipment recently installed was to replace old machines rather than to increase the size of plants. Factory managers, plagued by rising labor and other costs, will study such improvement plans closely — but at the same time they'll keep a close watch on the effect of talk of peace on business sentiment, and consumer purchasing.

High Inventories

High inventories could be a more immediate threat. Business inventories at nearly 75½ billion dollars are more than one billion dollars higher than a year ago. But since sales are higher too, business leaders stress that inventories aren't out of line now.

The danger, however, would come only if businessmen suddenly did what they did in 1949, began going slow on new orders and trying to reduce inventories. That could quickly cut back production schedules at mills and factories.

Employment in March was at an all-time high for the month, and 1¾ million more persons had jobs than a year ago. Personal income in the first part of the year was 6 per cent above a year ago. It's a ripe boom that some businessmen are worrying about as peace talk spreads.

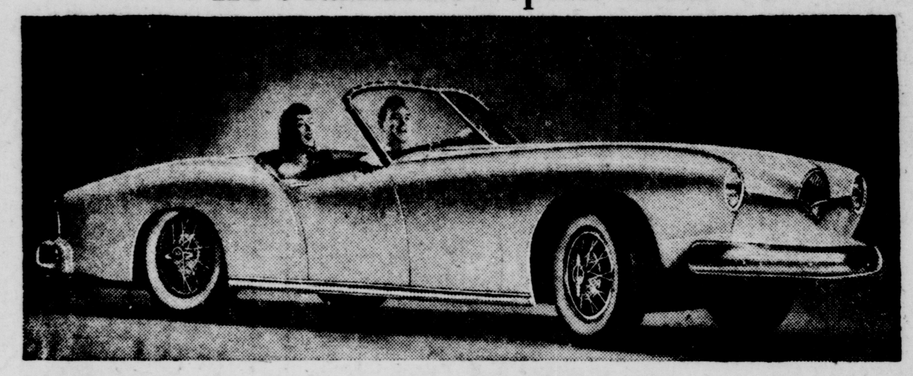
K-F's Rakish New Sports Model



Kaiser-Fraser Corp. new fiberglas sports car —the DKF 161—which is scheduled for production in July will be on display at the Lions Exposition on Friday and Saturday, the Orchard Motors of Port Ewen announced today. This is the first automobile with a body of reinforced-plastic to be scheduled for volume production. The sports model is 15.3 feet long from bumper and only 36 inches high from ground to cowl. With the convertible top in place, over-all height is 54 inches. The body at the widest point is 69 inches.

Fabricated completely of corrosion proof, lightweight Fiberglas-reinforced plastic, the DKF's body shell weighs only 300 pounds, a fraction of the weight of an equivalent body in steel. With a road weight of slightly over 2,000 pounds, the sports model weighs about 1,500 pounds less than the lightest American convertible.

The DKF's length and low silhouette combine to provide a low center of gravity and outstanding stability, particularly in "cornering" without sway or roll. Precision center-point steering and a full 132 square inches of braking surface are added road safety features.

Developing over 100 horsepower, its six-cylinder engine has a high compression head and a compression ratio of 8 to 1. Three carburetors are mounted in line on the L-head power plant to provide the most efficient air-fuel mixture, and a dual exhaust system with twin tail pipes insures rapid elimination of exhaust gases.

Would Change Who to Whom in N Y State Bills

Albany, April 15 (AP)—A Democratic legislator has offered a horse-trade to Gov. Dewey in an effort to reconcile their differences over the lawmaker's bill to change a "who" in a state law to a "whom."

Dewey signed the measure reluctantly recently, but scolded Assemblyman Philip J. Schupler of Brooklyn for insisting on correct grammar at a cost of "several hundred dollars" for printing the bill.

Schupler, a Brooklyn school principal, made this offer in a letter to the governor yesterday:

"I will introduce a bill to change every 'whom' on our statute books to 'who' and make it a felony punishable by life imprisonment and 40 lashes for anyone to use the dread word, 'whom,' if your excellency will join me in establishing permanent personal registration, abolishing the 15 per cent increase in rents and giving the New York taxpayers a fair return in the form of state aid for the taxes extracted from them."

The assemblyman expressed doubt that his bill had been as costly as Dewey contended. If that were true, Schupler said, "we have reached a sad state of affairs —someone is defrauding the Empire State."

Anyway, he added, the who-whom change did not originate with him, but was suggested by a constituent, attorney Benjamin Offner of Brooklyn.

Oil for Wake

San Francisco (AP) — Standard Oil Co. of California operates a tanker shuttle service to tiny Wake Island to refuel planes operating in the aerial bridge to Korea. Before the Korean outbreak only about 20 planes a week stopped at Wake, scene of heroic military action in World War 2, some 4,000 miles off the west coast.

K-F's Rakish New Sports Model

Kaiser-Fraser Corp. new fiberglas sports car —the DKF 161—which is scheduled for production in July will be on display at the Lions Exposition on Friday and Saturday, the Orchard Motors of Port Ewen announced today. This is the first automobile with a body of reinforced-plastic to be scheduled for volume production. The sports model is 15.3 feet long from bumper and only 36 inches high from ground to cowl. With the convertible top in place, over-all height is 54 inches. The body at the widest point is 69 inches.

Fabricated completely of corrosion proof, lightweight Fiberglas-reinforced plastic, the DKF's body shell weighs only 300 pounds, a fraction of the weight of an equivalent body in steel. With a road weight of slightly over 2,000 pounds, the sports model weighs about 1,500 pounds less than the lightest American convertible.

The DKF's length and low silhouette combine to provide a low center of gravity and outstanding stability, particularly in "cornering" without sway or roll. Precision center-point steering and a full 132 square inches of braking surface are added road safety features.

Developing over 100 horsepower, its six-cylinder engine has a high compression head and a compression ratio of 8 to 1. Three carburetors are mounted in line on the L-head power plant to provide the most efficient air-fuel mixture, and a dual exhaust system with twin tail pipes insures rapid elimination of exhaust gases.

Would Change Who to Whom in N Y State Bills

Albany, April 15 (AP)—A Democratic legislator has offered a horse-trade to Gov. Dewey in an effort to reconcile their differences over the lawmaker's bill to change a "who" in a state law to a "whom."

Dewey signed the measure reluctantly recently, but scolded Assemblyman Philip J. Schupler of Brooklyn for insisting on correct grammar at a cost of "several hundred dollars" for printing the bill.

Schupler, a Brooklyn school principal, made this offer in a letter to the governor yesterday:

"I will introduce a bill to change every 'whom' on our statute books to 'who' and make it a felony punishable by life imprisonment and 40 lashes for anyone to use the dread word, 'whom,' if your excellency will join me in establishing permanent personal registration, abolishing the 15 per cent increase in rents and giving the New York taxpayers a fair return in the form of state aid for the taxes extracted from them."

The assemblyman expressed doubt that his bill had been as costly as Dewey contended. If that were true, Schupler said, "we have reached a sad state of affairs —someone is defrauding the Empire State."

Anyway, he added, the who-whom change did not originate with him, but was suggested by a constituent, attorney Benjamin Offner of Brooklyn.

Cuba became an independent nation May 20, 1902.

Hold Sociologist For Duel Challenge

Frankfurt, Germany, April 15 (AP)—A U. S. army prison sociologist is charged here with challenging a combat veteran of World War II to a pistol duel over a raven-haired German woman doctor.

"It was a matter of love and honor with me," said Blondell Groseclose, employed at the military prison at Mannheim.

Capt. Charles D. Tarpley, an ordnance officer, said Groseclose confronted him in an army library at nearby Hoechst on Easter Sunday and challenged him to duel.

In Groseclose's hand, he said, was a paper bag containing two matched pistols.

The army captain said at a preliminary hearing here that he rejected the challenge.

"I did not wish to fight a duel," he said.

Rivals in Romance

Evidence at the hearing showed that the two Americans were rivals for the affections of Dr. Margarete Meyer, an attractive young German medical doctor.

U. S. Judge Robert L. Guthrie said an arraignment would be held in his court here April 21 after Groseclose completes a psychiatric examination at the Army's 97th General Hospital here.

Groseclose claimed the captain stole his girl while he was a patient in a hospital recently. He said he felt that Tarpley had not acted like "an honorable man" and that was why he had challenged him to a duel.

Groseclose was charged under the German Criminal Code with challenging a person to deadly combat with the intentions that one of the parties would be killed.

Maximum sentence on conviction is two years in prison.

Woman Injured

Mrs. Barbara Kormann, 50, of St. Remy, was injured in a traffic mishap at Broadway and Grand yesterday. Officer George Loughran of the local police force reported that he was driving his sedan south on Broadway and about to turn left into Grand street, when the woman came from between two cars into the path of his car. He took her to Kingston Hospital where she was treated for injuries of the left leg.

Wounded by Guard

Pusan, Korea, April 15 (AP)—A North Korean Communist war prisoner was wounded by a South Korean guard today when he violated a command, the prisoner of war command said. The prisoner was in Camp No. 1 on Koje Island.

'Little Switch' Rehearsal

In the Munsan, Korea, sector, UN personnel go through a dress rehearsal of the "Little Switch" operation that will see the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners with the Reds. The practice run prepares the UN to carry off the exchange smoothly. In this picture, a ROK Marine lieutenant (left) plays the part of a Red POW in a U. S. ambulance as Army Medic Eugene Calvelli of Port Washington, N. Y., and Army Nurse Lt. Dorothy Poach of Florida carry out the necessary paper work. (NEA Radio Telephoto).

said they knew nothing of the reports, which said Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander, would send the Reds a letter within 24 hours.

The red truck convoys were spotted by Allied planes which will fly guard to shield them from any possible mistake bombing.

Pilots said other Communist trucks pulled to one side of the main road down the western side of North Korea as the convoys rolled by.

The Reds said there were 68 trucks in the three convoys.

They all are aimed toward Kaesong, where the 600 allied troops will be held until released in groups at Panmunjom, six miles away.

About 120 are Americans, the Reds have said, with about 450 South Koreans, and the rest split among other UN forces.

An unofficial Communist source at Panmunjom said American, British and other non-Koreans were among those already en route.

No Decision . . .

ing reluctant prisoners to return home.

Among the questions which could be answered only by a resumption of the talks were these:

1. What would happen to the prisoners if, after being turned over to a neutral nation, they still refused to go home?

2. Would the unwilling prisoners actually be taken to the neutral nation, or would they be kept on one of the islands off the Korean coast under the authority of a neutral state?

3. How would the Reds propose to carry out their avowed intention of explaining the situation to these prisoners—a situation which would give them an opportunity to pressure the prisoners to go home?

The exchange of sick and wounded prisoners is scheduled to get under way next week. How smoothly it goes off may determine to some extent whether truce talks are resumed, and on what basis.

Recreation Building Check Is Presented

Woodstock, April 15—A check for $1,000 was presented to the Woodstock Recreation Committee at the meeting Tuesday night at the Town Hall by Mrs. Victor Busch, president, and Mrs. George Laws, past president of the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee, to help defray expenses for the new sanitary building being constructed on the recreation field. The fund was raised last year through the efforts of Mrs. Laws while she was president of the Nursing Committee.

The Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee would like to express appreciation not only to the many who gave generous contributions to the building fund, but to the following who contributed labor and materials for the building, amounting to over $400: Adolph Heckeroth, Lloyd Lund, H. A. Wolter, Allen Waterous, William Melville, Ray Allen, William Klippel, Carl Schroeder, Arthur Wolven and Deanie Elwyn.

Last summer when the Public Health Nursing Committee introduced a new recreation program for girls, it became apparent that the sanitary facilities at the field were inadequate, and the fund for the building project was started. However, when it was learned that the Woodstock Recreation Committee had already made plans for a recreation building to be erected adjacent to the swimming pool, plans were then devised to put up the central portion of the building, and the Public Health Nursing Committee agreed to turn over the funds when the building was 50 per cent completed. Montcena DeWitt is chairman of the construction committee.

The recreation program for girls was planned and developed throughout the summer by Mrs. Luis Bared, chairman, Mrs. George Laws, Mrs. Edward J. Devlin and Mrs. Joseph Marr.

Playhouse Director Visited on Saturday

PHILLIP ROBINSON

Woodstock, April 15 — Philip Robinson, who will be the new director for the productions at the Woodstock Playhouse this season, spent Saturday in this village inspecting the theatre and arranging plans for the new schedule of plays to be presented.

Robinson, whose directorial work includes several seasons at the Six O'Clock Theatre in Manhattan and the codirectorship with Elia Kazan in the Broadway production, The Young Go First, was the director for Shaw's St. Joan, the first play presented by the Equity Library Theatre in New York. He also directed another Shaw opus, Fanny's First Play for the Equity Library Theatre.

As a young actor, Robinson was formerly with the original Group Theatre in New York along with Cheryl Crawford, Harold Clurman and Clifford Odets, the famous playwright who at that time was writing pieces for the group. He has appeared in 12 Broadway productions including Galileo with Charles Laughton, and the Theatre Guild's Valley Forge. His TV appearances include the Philco, Kraft Theatre and Hollywood Screen Test programs.

In Hollywood, Robinson directed industrial documentaries for the New World Productions.

Robinson studied play production and drama at the University of California and at Chicago's Goodman School of the Theatre, and at Northwestern University.

During World War 2, Robinson was employed by the Army Air Force at Lockheed, in California, inspecting aircraft.

While at Northwestern University Robinson worked as a professional musician with many players who later became prominent in the jazz field—Benny Goodman, Eddie Condon, and the great jazz trumpeter, Bix Beiderbecke.

Planes See Trucks

said they knew nothing of the reports, which said Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander, would send the Reds a letter within 24 hours.

The red truck convoys were spotted by Allied planes which will fly guard to shield them from any possible mistake bombing.

Pilots said other Communist trucks pulled to one side of the main road down the western side of North Korea as the convoys rolled by.

The Reds said there were 68 trucks in the three convoys.

They all are aimed toward Kaesong, where the 600 allied troops will be held until released in groups at Panmunjom, six miles away.

About 120 are Americans, the Reds have said, with about 450 South Koreans, and the rest split among other UN forces.

An unofficial Communist source at Panmunjom said American, British and other non-Koreans were among those already en route.

No Decision . . .

ing reluctant prisoners to return home.

Among the questions which could be answered only by a resumption of the talks were these:

1. What would happen to the prisoners if, after being turned over to a neutral nation, they still refused to go home?

2. Would the unwilling prisoners actually be taken to the neutral nation, or would they be kept on one of the islands off the Korean coast under the authority of a neutral state?

3. How would the Reds propose to carry out their avowed intention of explaining the situation to these prisoners—a situation which would give them an opportunity to pressure the prisoners to go home?

The exchange of sick and wounded prisoners is scheduled to get under way next week. How smoothly it goes off may determine to some extent whether truce talks are resumed, and on what basis.

Recreation Building Check Is Presented

Woodstock, April 15—A check for $1,000 was presented to the Woodstock Recreation Committee at the meeting Tuesday night at the Town Hall by Mrs. Victor Busch, president, and Mrs. George Laws, past president of the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee, to help defray expenses for the new sanitary building being constructed on the recreation field. The fund was raised last year through the efforts of Mrs. Laws while she was president of the Nursing Committee.

The Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee would like to express appreciation not only to the many who gave generous contributions to the building fund, but to the following who contributed labor and materials for the building, amounting to over $400: Adolph Heckeroth, Lloyd Lund, H. A. Wolter, Allen Waterous, William Melville, Ray Allen, William Klippel, Carl Schroeder, Arthur Wolven and Deanie Elwyn.

Last summer when the Public Health Nursing Committee introduced a new recreation program for girls, it became apparent that the sanitary facilities at the field were inadequate, and the fund for the building project was started. However, when it was learned that the Woodstock Recreation Committee had already made plans for a recreation building to be erected adjacent to the swimming pool, plans were then devised to put up the central portion of the building, and the Public Health Nursing Committee agreed to turn over the funds when the building was 50 per cent completed. Montcena DeWitt is chairman of the construction committee.

The recreation program for girls was planned and developed throughout the summer by Mrs. Luis Bared, chairman, Mrs. George Laws, Mrs. Edward J. Devlin and Mrs. Joseph Marr.

Playhouse Director Visited on Saturday

PHILLIP ROBINSON

Woodstock, April 15 — Philip Robinson, who will be the new director for the productions at the Woodstock Playhouse this season, spent Saturday in this village inspecting the theatre and arranging plans for the new schedule of plays to be presented.

Robinson, whose directorial work includes several seasons at the Six O'Clock Theatre in Manhattan and the codirectorship with Elia Kazan in the Broadway production, The Young Go First, was the director for Shaw's St. Joan, the first play presented by the Equity Library Theatre in New York. He also directed another Shaw opus, Fanny's First Play for the Equity Library Theatre.

As a young actor, Robinson was formerly with the original Group Theatre in New York along with Cheryl Crawford, Harold Clurman and Clifford Odets, the famous playwright who at that time was writing pieces for the group. He has appeared in 12 Broadway productions including Galileo with Charles Laughton, and the Theatre Guild's Valley Forge. His TV appearances include the Philco, Kraft Theatre and Hollywood Screen Test programs.

In Hollywood, Robinson directed industrial documentaries for the New World Productions.

Robinson studied play production and drama at the University of California and at Chicago's Goodman School of the Theatre, and at Northwestern University.

During World War 2, Robinson was employed by the Army Air Force at Lockheed, in California, inspecting aircraft.

While at Northwestern University Robinson worked as a professional musician with many players who later became prominent in the jazz field—Benny Goodman, Eddie Condon, and the great jazz trumpeter, Bix Beiderbecke.

Unusual Play Is Game Stimulant

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The bidding was perfectly normal in today's hand, but South was not especially hopeful about his contract. He could count on winning two spades, three hearts, and probably only one club. It looked as though his contract depended on winning three diamond tricks.

West opened the deuce of spades, and dummy won with the king. South hopefully led a low diamond from the dummy, and East stepped up with the ace.

This unusual play stimulated South into serious thought. East was too good a player to throw away his ace of diamonds on a small card unless he couldn't help himself. South knew that the diamond suit was hopeless if East started with a singleton ace of diamonds; but there was a chance if East had only the doubleton ace-jack.

With this thought in mind, South carefully dropped the ten of diamonds under East's ace. East promptly returned a spade to dummy's ace, and declarer led another low diamond from dummy to his own king.

The fall of the jack of diamonds from the East hand was exactly what South had been hoping for. Now he could lead the carefully preserved four of diamonds and win a finesse in dummy with the eight of diamonds. This left him in position to cash dummy's queen of diamonds, after which it was easy to fulfill the contract.

South would have gone down if he had failed to discard the ten of diamonds. He could win the second round of diamonds with his king but would then have to win the third diamond with his ten. There would be no way to reach dummy's queen of diamonds, since to overtake the ten with dummy's queen would merely establish West's nine.

South might still manage to make his contract if West fell asleep. South could cash the three top hearts and lay down the ace of clubs. An alert West would promptly drop the king of clubs in order to avoid a throw-in, but if West carefully kept his king he would be forced to win the next club and surrender the game-going trick to dummy's queen of diamonds or to South's jack of spades.

Decision Reserved In Suit Involving Transit Authority

New York, April 15 (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice Benjamin F. Schreiber has reserved decision on a taxpayer's suit to declare unconstitutional the proposed New York city Transit Authority.

The judge, after lengthy arguments yesterday, also took under advisement a petition by the city challenging the validity of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's fiscal package for the city—where it requires acceptance of the authority if the city is allowed to exercise additional taxing powers.

The city, although named as a defendant in the taxpayer's suit, has aligned itself with the plaintiff. The state is opposing both. Pauline Salzman of the Bronx filed the suit.

During the hearing, City Counsel Denis M. Hurley charged that the conditions imposed in the Dewey package were "a shotgun pointed directly at the head of the Board of Estimate."

The board is the city's top governing body.

State Solicitor Wendell P. Brown asked for dismissal of both actions.

Must Show Proof

It first must be shown that the Legislature had "usurped power specifically prohibited," he said, in order to prove that the Transit Authority or any other part of the proposed program was unconstitutional.

"Nothing of the kind is shown here," Brown said.

Transportation and transit matters, he added, are a concern of the state which can legislate either by local or general laws.

He said Home Rule was not being violated when the Legislature attached conditions to the city's right to impose taxes.

After rejecting the city's plea for more state funds, Dewey and the Legislature proposed the Transit Authority and the rest of the package.

Under the authority, operation of the municipally-owned transit lines would be taken away from the city for the purpose of putting the lines on a self-sustaining basis.

IN THE RED—The body of Ed Kibbe, 59, of Lorain, Ohio, creates so much blood he'd burst in a week if the excess weren't drained off. He goes to the hospital twice a week to have two pints taken out Because the blood-making bone marrow doesn't renew itself, Kibbe has to go to nearby Cleveland Clinic every six weeks for an atomic medicine which he says "tastes like water." Unfortunately Kibbe's blood is radioactive so the Red Cross can't use it. Kibbe is shown here at his factory janitor job.

Nationals Brought Home

Maizuru, Japan, April 15 (AP)—The Japanese ship Koan Maru today brought home 1,969 Japanese Nationals who had been stranded in Red China since World War 2. The arrival opened a second round of repatriation. Approximately 4,000 Japanese were returned last month. Communist China has said it will allow about 30,000 Japanese to come home.

Year's Palsy Drive To Be Held in May

The high toll of infants and others who are stricken each year by cerebral palsy and the long and involved treatment techniques required to aid those affected, make necessary the forthcoming annual appeal for funds during May to combat the crippling ailment, Major T. Hanlon, general chairman of the campaign of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association, said in a statement issued today.

"Unlike most major health ailments, the number of those stricken by cerebral palsy neither remains static nor fluctuates by reason of epidemics," said Major Hanlon. "Due to some as yet unknown reason, the number of cases of cerebral palsy is increased every year by the addition of 10,000 babies who are born with the handicap in the United States.

"This annual recurrence of 10,000 cases, together with the other approximately 550,000 children and adults who were born cerebral palsied, makes plain the extent and seriousness of the situation. It is obvious that all possible measures should be taken to curb this startling yearly increase and to help improve the condition of those already affected. This, of course, is the purpose of the current campaign of the United Cerebral Palsy which is appealing for $7,500,000 to continue its nation-wide attack upon the destructive health foe this year.

"Locally, funds are needed to expand existing facilities and to train urgently-needed personnel in order to provide the treatment, care and education which will help many of the cerebral palsied in this area to become useful productive citizens. Everyone has an opportunity to share in this splendid humanitarian project and the betterment and well-being of the entire community."

Prisoner Return Designed To Cut Anti-Red Stories

By ROBERT EUNSON

Seoul, April 15 (AP)—For the past month the Communists have been wooing the west with a potion of sweet talk aimed at creating an impression of peace and good will.

But balky Red prisoners who staged a sitdown strike aboard an LST in Pusan harbor today reminded everyone that Communists are still Communists, even though sick and wounded.

These particular trouble makers were on their way home.

It can be said with authority that the incident came as no surprise to Gen. Mark W. Clark's command. And in the same breath, you can say more trouble is anticipated before the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners is completed.

"These people are Communists," said Brig. Gen. Lionel McGarr, chief of the allied war prisoners command. "There's always the possibility of trouble up to the last man."

One of Major Weapons

Confusion is one of the major weapons of the Communists in their war of propaganda. It's 300 miles from the war prisoner camps in South Korea to Panmunjom and allied officers will be alert every mile of the way for another incident aimed at embarrassing the allies.

Along with overall plans for confusion are the Communist aims at starting full scale armistice talks at Panmunjom before the exchange of sick and wounded is completed.

It is no secret that the United Nations would rather wait, for two reasons:

1—The allies would like to see a few prisoners delivered, to make sure the Reds are going to keep their bargain and to get an inkling of what shape the returning prisoners are going to be in when they arrive.

2—In the general western desire for organization and clean housekeeping it would be a lot simpler to get the exchange of sick and wounded over and then proceed with the talks.

Could Be to Advantage

Confusion at Panmunjom could be to the Communists' advantage.

It is expected that sick and wounded United Nations personnel they will be returning will produce a flow of news copy, most of which will be detrimental to the Reds.

Stories about the horrors of prison life would have a harder time finding a place in newspapers of the world if events inside the conference room indicated an end to the Korean war is in sight.

In fact, stories concerning a possible armistice might almost push interviews with returning prisoners out of the papers.

Won't Elect Communists

The Communists know that. They also know the Japanese voters on April 19 probably won't elect many Communists. But that story is going to have trouble getting in the newspapers, too, what with the return of sick and wounded scheduled for the following day, just as the results are being completed.

There's more going on now in Korea than the battle of bullets and the battle for an armistice. East and west are locked in the hottest propaganda war of all time. But according to Col. Raymond Beggs, of Englewood, N. J., who is in charge of transporting Red sick and wounded to Panmunjom, the UN is "ready for any eventuality."

So far things seem well in hand.

Eisenhower Stand On Rent Controls Told by Flemming

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration took a stand today against a hurry-up move in the House to kill most all remaining federal rent controls on April 30.

Defense Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming urged the House Banking Committee to continue general rent controls over some 5,550,000 housing units in 32 states until Oct. 1.

Flemming said this additional time is needed to carry out a request in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message. He quoted from the message that before controls are removed, each state Legislature "should have full opportunity to take over responsibility for this function."

Banking Committee Chairman Wolcott (R.-Mich.) is sponsoring a House bill to remove federal rent ceilings—except in the most critical military housing areas — on April 30.

He had expected opposition from the administration.

Albert Short Is Taken to Hospital

Albert Short of 39 Van Deusen street was admitted to Kingston Hospital shortly after a light truck he was driving was in a collision with a tractor-trailer on Route 209 about five miles south of Kingston at 11:15 a. m. today.

At the hospital, authorities said his injuries had not been determined early this afternoon and that he was scheduled for X-ray examination.

State police of the Kingston station are investigating and the patrols early this afternoon were still handling traffic at the accident scene.

The light truck was badly damaged, according to witnesses.

The driver of the other vehicle, who was unidentified, was not injured, the report said.

Says Output at Standstill

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Lt. Gen. George H. Decker told Senators today that ammunition production for the army was "at a virtual standstill" between the end of World War 2 in August 1945 and outbreak of the Korean war in June 1950. This, plus the fact that it requires from 18 months to two years to get production lines moving, were chief causes of ammunition shortages in Korea, Decker said.

Chaplin Gives Up Reentry Permit

Washington, April 15 (AP)—British movie comedian Charlie Chaplin has surrendered his U. S. reentry permit, indicating he does not intend to resume residence in this country.

The action was announced today by the Justice Department which last year posted a stop order against Chaplin at all American ports, after he had gone to Europe on a visit.

That order, made effective by former Attorney General James P. McGranery, requires that the actor submit to reexamination upon his return, to establish his readmissibility to the United States.

Challenges U. S. Readiness

Berlin, April 15 (AP)—East Germany's No. 1 Communist declared today that the Soviet Union seeks a four-power conference on the reunification of Germany and demanded that the United States "show its readiness to accept." Deputy Premier Walter Ulbricht, who controls the ruling Socialist Unity (Communist) party as secretary general, spearheaded the new unity campaign with a front-page statement here in the official Soviet newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau.

It was reported that the new signal system connecting the firehouses has been successful and when completed will work to eliminate false alarms at all companies.

There was a brief discussion of the new budget which at present is before the town board. The budget includes a new firehouse at Samsonville, two new fire trucks and completion of the Olive Bridge firehouse.

Pope Says None

al trouble of the unconscious, as all other inhibitions of identical origin, can be suppressed only by their being brought to the level of consciousness, is not valid if it is generalized without dictinction.

"The indirect treatment also has its efficacy, and often it suffices to a large extent."

Referring to psychoanalytical methods in the sexual domain, he added: "One cannot consider as licit, without further consideration, the evocation to the level of consciousness of all the representations, emotions and sexual experiences, which lie dormant in the memory and the unconscious, and which are thus actualized in the psychic."

The Pope emphasized that the patient shares responsibility with the doctor insofar as morality is concerned.

"Obviously," he said, "it is not primarily a question of the discretion of the psychoanalyst, but of that of the patient, who frequently has no right what ever to give away his secrets."

Market Is Entered

Police were notified this morning that the market of D. Samuels & Son, Broadway and Cedar street, had been entered during the night and $1.50 in cash taken. The break was through a screen mesh in the lower part of a rear door from where the back room was entered. The front of the store was entered through a window from the back room. Only 50 cents in pennies and a dollar bill were reported missing from the cash drawer, and Detective Clarence Brophy said today it appeared to be the work of a boy or two or three boys.

Resignations May Come

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Scientists engaged in some of the nation's most important research have indicated they are considering mass resignations in protest against dismissal of Dr. Allen V. Astin as director of the Bureau of Standards. Astin resigned 10 days ago at the request of Secretary of Commerce Weeks, following a dispute over the testing of a commercial product. Craig Sheaffer, assistant secretary, has said there were other reasons which he did not disclose. Sen. Ellender (D.-La.) proposed today that President Eisenhower "undertake a personal investigation" of the Astin dismissal.

Montgomery Man Admits Perjury, Is Put on Probation

Richard Kenneth Gray of Montgomery entered a plea of guilty to perjury in County Court today. Gray was charged with having made a false statement in regard to a prior conviction when he appeared in justice's court in New Paltz. At that time he stated he had never before been convicted of a crime. Investigation disclosed he had been convicted of grand larceny on February 8, 1937 in Delaware county.

Gray admitted he had a prior conviction and was given a sentence of from 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison but Judge Cashin suspended execution of sentence and placed Gray on probation, transferring the probation to Orange county. Richard Lent appeared for Gray.

Asks Leniency

Lent asked for lenience on the grounds Gray had not known the seriousness of the act in New Paltz.

Judge Cashin stated that perjury could be committed only where the act was in connection with some "material matter" and he stated that under a Court of Appeals decision the act of Gray in stating he had not been convicted of a prior crime had been in the nature of a "material matter" evasion. However, had the question been answered truthfully, Judge Cashin said, the outcome of the New Paltz case would not have been affected. He therefore suspended the sentence, placed the defendant on probation and exonerated bail.

Gray was sentenced as a second offender after he had admitted he was the same person who had been convicted and sentenced in Delaware county in 1937.

Woman Put on Probation

Barbara Jolin, charged with abandonment of children, entered a plea of guilty to omitting to provide for the support of her child. She was sentenced to a year in the county jail and sentence was suspended and she was placed on probation and the probation transferred to New York, where she is now employed. Charles Saccoman appeared for Mrs. Jolin and stated she was employed, was providing for her child and only the child would suffer should she be confined to jail. Barbara Jolin, formerly of Marlborough, was charged with having abandoned her child and gone to Chicago with Walter Gally, where she was convicted of another abandonment and sentenced to a year in jail. Gally has also been indicted in connection with the abandonment. Mrs. Jolin said she and her husband were separated. She now resides with her brother and is employed in a toy factory in New York.

Lillian F. Lyons, who was indicted for grand larceny, first degree, in connection with a shortage in school funds while she was an official of a Saugerties school district, entered a plea of guilty to the charge. She said she had made an error but had not spent the money on herself. Restitution has been made to the bonding company. Roger H. Loughran appeared for defendant. Imposition of sentence was suspended during good behavior. Mrs. Lyons said she had been employed and presently was keeping house for her family. Bail was exonerated.

Hears Gun Charge

Walter G. Overbaugh, town of Saugerties, entered a plea of guilty to possession of an unloaded revolver for which he had no license. Overbaugh said the matter arose during a family quarrel when his wife informed the officers he owned a gun. The gun was produced by Overbaugh and he was charged with a technical possession charge. Charles Saccoman appeared for Overbaugh. Judge Cashin suspended imposition of any sentence during good behavior and bail was exonerated.

Gerald Long, Kingston, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault, third degree. He had been indicted for second degree assault. Sherwood Davis appeared for Long and said the defendant had a good record since 1934 when he was convicted of unlawful entry. Long was charged with having assaulted Robert J. Fenton in the Fenton home after Long had taken Fenton home. Long said he had been drinking. Fenton submitted a letter to the court asking that lenience be shown. Judge Cashin imposed a year in jail and then suspended execution of sentence and placed Long on probation and as one of the conditions of probation he cautioned Long to keep away from drink. Long is to make restitution for the medical bills of Fenton arising out of the incident. Bail was exonerated.

The civil calendar was called and pre-trial conferences scheduled. The court recessed until the return of the judge to the bench for further civil matters.

Two cases were announced settled:

No. 88, John J. Marmo and others against Medrick Martin and others, negligence. Seymour Werbalowsky for plaintiff and David Tepp for defendants.

No. 94, Richard Granbor vs. Carrie Newton, overpayment of rent. Napoletano, Kelly & Saccoman for plaintiff and William F. Kaercher for defendant.

Anslinger Accuses China of Dope Ring

United Nations, April 15 (AP)—The U. S. accused Red China today of operating a vast dope ring to sabotage U. S. troop morale and to earn huge qauntities of dollars and strategic materials.

Harry J. Anslinger, U. S. federal narcotics commissioner, told the UN commission on narcotic drugs that Chinese, Korean and Japanese Communists, carrying out orders from a Peiping directed network, had gotten fabulously rich during the past year in their smuggling trade to Japan, South Korea and other Far Eastern areas.

Supervisors Will Discuss Problems

Among the matters which may come before the board of supervisors at a special meeting this evening in the proposition as to whether to continue to have the IBM figure the tax rolls and make out the annual tax bills as has been done during the past couple of years.

Other matters will include a discussion, and possible action, on the proposition of making available for the installation of a two-way radio system for the county volunteer fire companies. A committee report on the proposal is expected to be ready. Action may also be taken on fixing the date for a public hearing on the new legislation which permits the county to adopt one of two plans for filling the office of county welfare commissioner. In the past it has been an elective office. Legislation passed at the recent session of the state Legislature permits the county to select one of two plans, election as in the past or appointment by the board of supervisors.

It is felt that the duties have become so technical that experience is necessary and to continue the office as an elective one might in the future jeopardize the efficiency of the office should the elective plan be continued.

Before any change is made a public hearing must be held and the desires of the people of the county ascertained. After such a hearing the board could then make a decision.

Troopers Arrest Two at Highland

Two men were arrested at the Highland traffic circle by state police about 11 a. m. today after they were alerted by teletype of the theft of a small amount of money from a Catskill gas station.

Turned over to the Catskill police were Eddie Lee Johnson, 23, of Buffalo and Walter A. Kennedy, 22, of Brooklyn.

Troopers said they will face petit larceny charges.

Frank Macarelli, operator of a gasoline station on Railroad avenue in Catskill, told police that he missed about $7 from his register after the two men drove off from his station about 9:15 a. m. today.

When they were picked up at Highland Johnson was arraigned before Justice of the Peace William J. Upright of Highland on a charge of driving without a license. He was given a $10 suspended sentence and then the two men were turned over to the Catskill police.

Chief, 4 Aides Plead Innocent

New York, April 15 (AP)—A former chief of the Internal Revenue Office at Troy, and four agents who worked under him pleaded innocent today to a federal indictment charging operation of a taxpayer shakedown scheme.

The five were released in bail totaling $16,500. Federal Judge John W. Clancy fixed May 18 for trial.

At the same time, a Catskill business man and his accountant also pleaded innocent to another indictment charging they paid $1,000 bribe to a tax agent. They were released in bail of $2,000 each for trial May 18.

The government charged the group conspired to extort bribes from taxpayers "in all walks of life—hotel and inn keepers, business agencies, jewelers and professional men in the Catskill area."

Assistant U. S. Attorney David Carton said the chief agent would assign cases to various agents in on the plot, who would arrange with accounts to get money from the taxpayers.

Those Who Pleaded

The five former and present revenue men who pleaded innocent, and the amount of their bail, were:

Maurice F. O'Brien, 56, Albany, former chief of the Troy Internal Revenue Office, $5,000.

Muray Talanker, 45, Albany, former tax agent, $5,000.

Edwin F. Rourke, 32, Albany, suspended agent, $2,500.

Abraham Inkeles, 34, of Bayside, Queens, suspended agent, $2,000.

Dave Witt, 36, of Whitestone, Queens, suspended agent, $2,000.

The two who pleaded innocent to the bribery indictment were Roy Zwickel, 36, of (Palenville road) Catskill, owner of the Greene County Motor Corp., and his accountant, Max Zuckerman, who has an office in Albany.

Prisoner Return Designed To Cut Anti-Red Stories

By ROBERT EUNSON

Seoul, April 15 (AP)—For the past month the Communists have been wooing the west with a potion of sweet talk aimed at creating an impression of peace and good will.

But balky Red prisoners who staged a sitdown strike aboard an LST in Pusan harbor today reminded everyone that Communists are still Communists, even though sick and wounded.

These particular trouble makers were on their way home.

It can be said with authority that the incident came as no surprise to Gen. Mark W. Clark's command. And in the same breath, you can say more trouble is anticipated before the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners is completed.

"These people are Communists," said Brig. Gen. Lionel McGarr, chief of the allied war prisoners command. "There's always the possibility of trouble up to the last man."

One of Major Weapons

Confusion is one of the major weapons of the Communists in their war of propaganda. It's 300 miles from the war prisoner camps in South Korea to Panmunjom and allied officers will be alert every mile of the way for another incident aimed at embarrassing the allies.

Along with overall plans for confusion are the Communist aims at starting full scale armistice talks at Panmunjom before the exchange of sick and wounded is completed.

It is no secret that the United Nations would rather wait, for two reasons:

1—The allies would like to see a few prisoners delivered, to make sure the Reds are going to keep their bargain and to get an inkling of what shape the returning prisoners are going to be in when they arrive.

2—In the general western desire for organization and clean housekeeping it would be a lot simpler to get the exchange of sick and wounded over and then proceed with the talks.

Could Be to Advantage

Confusion at Panmunjom could be to the Communists' advantage.

It is expected that sick and wounded United Nations personnel they will be returning will produce a flow of news copy, most of which will be detrimental to the Reds.

Stories about the horrors of prison life would have a harder time finding a place in newspapers of the world if events inside the conference room indicated an end to the Korean war is in sight.

In fact, stories concerning a possible armistice might almost push interviews with returning prisoners out of the papers.

Won't Elect Communists

The Communists know that. They also know the Japanese voters on April 19 probably won't elect many Communists. But that story is going to have trouble getting in the newspapers, too, what with the return of sick and wounded scheduled for the following day, just as the results are being completed.

There's more going on now in Korea than the battle of bullets and the battle for an armistice. East and west are locked in the hottest propaganda war of all time. But according to Col. Raymond Beggs, of Englewood, N. J., who is in charge of transporting Red sick and wounded to Panmunjom, the UN is "ready for any eventuality."

So far things seem well in hand.

Eisenhower Stand On Rent Controls Told by Flemming

Washington, April 15 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration took a stand today against a hurry-up move in the House to kill most all remaining federal rent controls on April 30.

Defense Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming urged the House Banking Committee to continue general rent controls over some 5,550,000 housing units in 32 states until Oct. 1.

Flemming said this additional time is needed to carry out a request in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message. He quoted from the message that before controls are removed, each state Legislature "should have full opportunity to take over responsibility for this function."

Banking Committee Chairman Wolcott (R.-Mich.) is sponsoring a House bill to remove federal rent ceilings—except in the most critical military housing areas — on April 30.

He had expected opposition from the administration.

State police of the Kingston station are investigating and the patrols early this afternoon were still handling traffic at the accident scene.

The light truck was badly damaged, according to witnesses.

The driver of the other vehicle, who was unidentified, was not injured, the report said.

Says Output at Standstill

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Lt. Gen. George H. Decker told Senators today that ammunition production for the army was "at a virtual standstill" between the end of World War 2 in August 1945 and outbreak of the Korean war in June 1950. This, plus the fact that it requires from 18 months to two years to get production lines moving, were chief causes of ammunition shortages in Korea, Decker said.

al trouble of the unconscious, as all other inhibitions of identical origin; can be suppressed only by their being brought to the level of consciousness, is not valid if it is generalized without dictinction.

"The indirect treatment also has its efficacy, and often it suffices to a large extent."

Referring to psychoanalytical methods in the sexual domain, he added: "One cannot consider as licit, without further consideration, the evocation to the level of consciousness of all the representations, emotions and sexual experiences, which lie dormant in the memory and the unconscious, and which are thus actualized in the psychic."

The Pope emphasized that the patient shares responsibility with the doctor insofar as morality is concerned.

"Obviously," he said, "it is not primarily a question of the discretion of the psychoanalyst, but of that of the patient, who frequently has no right what ever to give away his secrets."

Market Is Entered

Police were notified this morning that the market of D. Samuels & Son, Broadway and Cedar street, had been entered during the night and $1.50 in cash taken. The break was through a screen mesh in the lower part of a rear door from where the back room was entered. The front of the store was entered through a window from the back room. Only 50 cents in pennies and a dollar bill were reported missing from the cash drawer, and Detective Clarence Brophy said today it appeared to be the work of a boy or two or three boys.

Resignations May Come

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Scientists engaged in some of the nation's most important research have indicated they are considering mass resignations in protest against dismissal of Dr. Allen V. Astin as director of the Bureau of Standards. Astin resigned 10 days ago at the request of Secretary of Commerce Weeks, following a dispute over the testing of a commercial product. Craig Sheaffer, assistant secretary, has said there were other reasons which he did not disclose. Sen. Ellender (D.-La.) proposed today that President Eisenhower "undertake a personal investigation" of the Astin dismissal.

Montgomery Man Admits Perjury, Is Put on Probation

Richard Kenneth Gray of Montgomery entered a plea of guilty to perjury in County Court today. Gray was charged with having made a false statement in regard to a prior conviction when he appeared in justice's court in New Paltz. At that time he stated he had never before been convicted of a crime. Investigation disclosed he had been convicted of grand larceny on February 8, 1937 in Delaware county.

Gray admitted he had a prior conviction and was given a sentence of from 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison but Judge Cashin suspended execution of sentence and placed Gray on probation, transferring the probation to Orange county. Richard Lent appeared for Gray.

Asks Leniency

Lent asked for lenience on the grounds Gray had not known the seriousness of the act in New Paltz.

Judge Cashin stated that perjury could be committed only where the act was in connection with some "material matter" and he stated that under a Court of Appeals decision the act of Gray in stating he had not been convicted of a prior crime had been in the nature of a "material matter" evasion. However, had the question been answered truthfully, Judge Cashin said, the outcome of the New Paltz case would not have been affected. He therefore suspended the sentence, placed the defendant on probation and exonerated bail.

Gray was sentenced as a second offender after he had admitted he was the same person who had been convicted and sentenced in Delaware county in 1937.

Woman Put on Probation

Barbara Jolin, charged with abandonment of children, entered a plea of guilty to omitting to provide for the support of her child. She was sentenced to a year in the county jail and sentence was suspended and she was placed on probation and the probation transferred to New York, where she is now employed. Charles Saccoman appeared for Mrs. Jolin and stated she was employed, was providing for her child and only the child would suffer should she be confined to jail. Barbara Jolin, formerly of Marlborough, was charged with having abandoned her child and gone to Chicago with Walter Gally, where she was convicted of another abandonment and sentenced to a year in jail. Gally has also been indicted in connection with the abandonment. Mrs. Jolin said she and her husband were separated. She now resides with her brother and is employed in a toy factory in New York.

Lillian F. Lyons, who was indicted for grand larceny, first degree, in connection with a shortage in school funds while she was an official of a Saugerties school district, entered a plea of guilty to the charge. She said she had made an error but had not spent the money on herself. Restitution has been made to the bonding company. Roger H. Loughran appeared for defendant. Imposition of sentence was suspended during good behavior. Mrs. Lyons said she had been employed and presently was keeping house for her family. Bail was exonerated.

Hears Gun Charge

Walter G. Overbaugh, town of Saugerties, entered a plea of guilty to possession of an unloaded revolver for which he had no license. Overbaugh said the matter arose during a family quarrel when his wife informed the officers he owned a gun. The gun was produced by Overbaugh and he was charged with a technical possession charge. Charles Saccoman appeared for Overbaugh. Judge Cashin suspended imposition of any sentence during good behavior and bail was exonerated.

Gerald Long, Kingston, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault, third degree. He had been indicted for second degree assault. Sherwood Davis appeared for Long and said the defendant had a good record since 1934 when he was convicted of unlawful entry. Long was charged with having assaulted Robert J. Fenton in the Fenton home after Long had taken Fenton home. Long said he had been drinking. Fenton submitted a letter to the court asking that lenience be shown. Judge Cashin imposed a year in jail and then suspended execution of sentence and placed Long on probation and as one of the conditions of probation he cautioned Long to keep away from drink. Long is to make restitution for the medical bills of Fenton arising out of the incident. Bail was exonerated.

The civil calendar was called and pre-trial conferences scheduled. The court recessed until the return of the judge to the bench for further civil matters.

Two cases were announced settled:

No. 88, John J. Marmo and others against Medrick Martin and others, negligence. Seymour Werbalowsky for plaintiff and David Tepp for defendants.

No. 94, Richard Granbor vs. Carrie Newton, overpayment of rent. Napoletano, Kelly & Saccoman for plaintiff and William F. Kaercher for defendant.

Anslinger Accuses China of Dope Ring

United Nations, April 15 (AP)—The U. S. accused Red China today of operating a vast dope ring to sabotage U. S. troop morale and to earn huge qauntities of dollars and strategic materials.

Harry J. Anslinger, U. S. federal narcotics commissioner, told the UN commission on narcotic drugs that Chinese, Korean and Japanese Communists, carrying out orders from a Peiping directed network, had gotten fabulously rich during the past year in their smuggling trade to Japan, South Korea and other Far Eastern areas.

Supervisors Will Discuss Problems

Among the matters which may come before the board of supervisors at a special meeting this evening in the proposition as to whether to continue to have the IBM figure the tax rolls and make out the annual tax bills as has been done during the past couple of years.

Other matters will include a discussion, and possible action, on the proposition of making available for the installation of a two-way radio system for the county volunteer fire companies. A committee report on the proposal is expected to be ready. Action may also be taken on fixing the date for a public hearing on the new legislation which permits the county to adopt one of two plans for filling the office of county welfare commissioner. In the past it has been an elective office. Legislation passed at the recent session of the state Legislature permits the county to select one of two plans, election as in the past or appointment by the board of supervisors.

It is felt that the duties have become so technical that experience is necessary and to continue the office as an elective one might in the future jeopardize the efficiency of the office should the elective plan be continued.

Before any change is made a public hearing must be held and the desires of the people of the county ascertained. After such a hearing the board could then make a decision.

Troopers Arrest Two at Highland

Troopers said they will face petit larceny charges.

When they were picked up at Highland Johnson was arraigned before Justice of the Peace William J. Upright of Highland on a charge of driving without a license. He was given a $10 suspended sentence and then the two men were turned over to the Catskill police.

Chief, 4 Aides Plead Innocent

New York, April 15 (AP)—A former chief of the Internal Revenue Office at Troy, and four agents who worked under him pleaded innocent today to a federal indictment charging operation of a taxpayer shakedown scheme.

The five were released in bail totaling $16,500. Federal Judge John W. Clancy fixed May 18 for trial.

At the same time, a Catskill business man and his accountant also pleaded innocent to another indictment charging they paid $1,000 bribe to a tax agent. They were released in bail of $2,000 each for trial May 18.

The government charged the group conspired to extort bribes from taxpayers "in all walks of life—hotel and inn keepers, business agencies, jewelers and professional men in the Catskill area."

Assistant U. S. Attorney David Carton said the chief agent would assign cases to various agents in on the plot, who would arrange with accounts to get money from the taxpayers.

Those Who Pleaded

The five former and present revenue men who pleaded innocent, and the amount of their bail, were:

Maurice F. O'Brien, 56, Albany, former chief of the Troy Internal Revenue Office, $5,000.

Muray Talanker, 45, Albany, former tax agent, $5,000.

Edwin F. Rourke, 32, Albany, suspended agent, $2,500.

Abraham Inkeles, 34, of Bayside, Queens, suspended agent, $2,000.

Dave Witt, 36, of Whitestone, Queens, suspended agent, $2,000.

The two who pleaded innocent to the bribery indictment were Roy Zwickel, 36, of (Palenville road) Catskill, owner of the Greene County Motor Corp., and his accountant, Max Zuckerman, who has an office in Albany.

Dewey Signs Bill AgainstPierRacket

Albany, April 15 (AP)—A penal-law loophole that stymied prosecution of New York waterfront union leaders on bribery charges was plugged today by a bill signed by Gov. Dewey.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan has complained he was unable to bring bribery charges against pier union bosses because the penal law made it a crime to bribe a labor representative but had no provision against a union member accepting a bribe.

Hogan urged a change in the law after Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, had refused twice to waive immunity before a grand jury probing rackets on the city waterfront.

Ryan was indicted Monday on 30 counts accusing him of misusing $11,390 of the union's funds for personal expenses.

The change in the penal law approved by Dewey makes it a misdemeanor, effective next Sept. 1, for any representative of a labor organization to solicit or accept any money or property to influence a labor situation.

The maximum penalty for a misdemeanor is a year in jail and a $500 fine.

The bill was introduced by Republican Assemblyman MacNeil Mitchell of Manhattan. Dewey signed it without comment.

Hopes Dewey Remains

New York, April 5 (AP)—Oswald D. Heck, Schenectady Republican and speaker of the Assembly, says he hopes Gov. Thomas E. Dewey stays in office "many years." Heck made the statement during a question-and-answer period yesterday after a luncheon speech before the National Republican Club, sponsored by the Political Education Committee. Asked if he would accept the nomination for governor, Heck sidestepped the question by saying he hoped Dewey "stays in there many years" and added: "He has courage, and we all — those upstate and those in New York city as well — need such a governor as Mr. Dewey."

Dewey Signs Bill AgainstPierRacket

Albany, April 15 (AP)—A penal-law loophole that stymied prosecution of New York waterfront union leaders on bribery charges was plugged today by a bill signed by Gov. Dewey.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan has complained he was unable to bring bribery charges against pier union bosses because the penal law made it a crime to bribe a labor representative but had no provision against a union member accepting a bribe.

Hopes Dewey Remains

New York, April 5 (AP)—Oswald D. Heck, Schenectady Republican and speaker of the Assembly, says he hopes Gov. Thomas E. Dewey stays in office "many years." Heck made the statement during a question-and-answer period yesterday after a luncheon speech before the National Republican Club, sponsored by the Political Education Committee. Asked if he would accept the nomination for governor, Heck sidestepped the question by saying he hoped Dewey "stays in there many years" and added: "He has courage, and we all — those upstate and those in New York city as well — need such a governor as Mr. Dewey."

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Looking through one of the very old bounded volumes of newspapers at the Freeman I found the Ulster Republican of Kingston, dated Wednesday, October 7, 1846, a weekly paper. To those who have visited the Senate House Museum and perhaps read here and there about John Vanderlyn, our Kingston born artist, the following may be interesting as it was written during his lifetime. Article called "Return of Mr. Vanderlyn" in the social column. It reads in part: "It will no doubt give the friends of Mr. John Vanderlyn, much pleasure to learn that he has returned from Europe. Mr. Vanderlyn, it is generally understood, visited the Old World for the purpose of obtaining authentic costumes for his painting of "The Landing of Columbus" ordered by Congress for one of the panels of the rotunda of the national Capitol."

It further goes on to say: "This painting is now finished, and was brought over by the artist. . . . But whilst we are prepared to see fidelity of costume, and scenery the reflection of nature, finished with all the skill of a master hand, we will not do Mr. Vanderlyn the injustice to look to those alone for the highest evidence of his genius. The vigorous conception will at once present the mightiest event on the record of history; the countenance of the "bold Genoese" (Columbus) embodying his lofty genius and indomitable will, fraught with inspiration and being with a prophetic spirit looking far into futurity and recognizing the full furition of his discovery . . . these will at once attest his claim to the first rank of art."

This painting was recently seen by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Harry Rigby and Jack Feye on their visit to Washington. This old newspaper of 1846 proves that the painting is over 100 years old. The Freeman reporter of 1846 ends up by saying "John Vanderlyn coming with such a gift in his hand, surely he will be warmly welcomed to the land of his nativity."

Most of us at some time or other in the past years carried some of John Vanderlyn reproductions of the famous "Landing of Columbus" painting. It was on the back of the old five dollar bills. John Vanderlyn was born Oct. 15th, 1775 and died September 25, 1852. I am sure I will find more on Vanderlyn in that bound book of newspapers of 1846 including bits of information like the above which I have not read anywhere else. All items in that 1846 paper are written by reporters and writers who knew John Vanderlyn and no doubt met him in friendly conversation on our Kingston streets for he had a studio right here. The sign from the studio is today at the Senate House Museum. Vanderlyn certainly 'arrived' as an artist in 1846 for items about him are written in the grand manner and acclaim him as a 'genius' also 'master artist' etc. In his life time he painted five presidents: Monroe, Madison, Jackson, Taylor and one other. As time goes on the portraits and art of John Vanderlyn grow in value, yet they say he died a poor man. On March 29th, 1949 there was an item in the local press giving the list of Vanderlyn paintings, drawings and manuscripts willed by Edward Coykendall to the Senate House Museum with a provision that they "shall never be moved elsewhere."

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Looking through one of the very old bounded volumes of newspapers at the Freeman I found the Ulster Republican of Kingston, dated Wednesday, October 7, 1846, a weekly paper. To those who have visited the Senate House Museum and perhaps read here and there about John Vanderlyn, our Kingston born artist, the following may be interesting as it was written during his lifetime. Article called "Return of Mr. Vanderlyn" in the social column. It reads in part: "It will no doubt give the friends of Mr. John Vanderlyn, much pleasure to learn that he has returned from Europe. Mr. Vanderlyn, it is generally understood, visited the Old World for the purpose of obtaining authentic costumes for his painting of "The Landing of Columbus" ordered by Congress for one of the panels of the rotunda of the national Capitol."

It further goes on to say: "This painting is now finished, and was brought over by the artist. . . . But whilst we are prepared to see fidelity of costume, and scenery the reflection of nature, finished with all the skill of a master hand, we will not do Mr. Vanderlyn the injustice to look to those alone for the highest evidence of his genius. The vigorous conception will at once present the mightiest event on the record of history; the countenance of the "bold Genoese" (Columbus) embodying his lofty genius and indomitable will, fraught with inspiration and being with a prophetic spirit looking far into futurity and recognizing the full furition of his discovery . . . these will at once attest his claim to the first rank of art."

This painting was recently seen by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Harry Rigby and Jack Feye on their visit to Washington. This old newspaper of 1846 proves that the painting is over 100 years old. The Freeman reporter of 1846 ends up by saying "John Vanderlyn coming with such a gift in his hand, surely he will be warmly welcomed to the land of his nativity."

Most of us at some time or other in the past years carried some of John Vanderlyn reproductions of the famous "Landing of Columbus" painting. It was on the back of the old five dollar bills. John Vanderlyn was born Oct. 15th, 1775 and died September 25, 1852. I am sure I will find more on Vanderlyn in that bound book of newspapers of 1846 including bits of information like the above which I have not read anywhere else. All items in that 1846 paper are written by reporters and writers who knew John Vanderlyn and no doubt met him in friendly conversation on our Kingston streets for he had a studio right here. The sign from the studio is today at the Senate House Museum. Vanderlyn certainly 'arrived' as an artist in 1846 for items about him are written in the grand manner and acclaim him as a 'genius' also 'master artist' etc. In his life time he painted five presidents: Monroe, Madison, Jackson, Taylor and one other. As time goes on the portraits and art of John Vanderlyn grow in value, yet they say he died a poor man. On March 29th, 1949 there was an item in the local press giving the list of Vanderlyn paintings, drawings and manuscripts willed by Edward Coykendall to the Senate House Museum with a provision that they "shall never be moved elsewhere."

Modena

Modena, April 15—Mrs. William Minard, Jr., of Clintondale, Mrs. Ira Merwin of Plattekill and Mrs. Burton Ward of Modena, co-chairman in the Red Cross Fund Campaign in the Town of Plattekill, report that the sum of $797.85 has been raised to date. This amount far exceeds the township quota and the chairmen are very grateful for the generous support given in the campaign.

During the recent visit to New York the Rev. and Mrs. William A. Imler, Mrs. Gerald DuBois and Mrs. Burton R. Ward visited the United Nations headquarters. They enjoyed a tour through the buildings and luncheon in the large public dining-room. In the afternoon they attended two lectures for delegates of the Wesleyan Service Guild, who were attending a Guild Seminar.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager, Jr., accompanied friends from Highland to a dance at the IBM Country Club, Poughkeepsie, on Saturday evening.

Eber H. Coy, Eugene Paltridge and Rulieof Ward motored to Port Washington, L. I., on Sunday and visited Arthur Coy, Mr. and Mrs. John Nakelski and daughter Abby.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beatty and daughter Irva of the New Paltz road visited Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dusinberre at Gardiner on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard St. John and daughters Carol, Patricia and Diane of Poughkeepsie, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Smith of this place, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sutton in Plattekill on Sunday.

Study Moslem Divorces

Malaya (AP)—Moslem divorces at the rate of 40 in every 100 marriages have caused concern among religious leaders. The State Council of Religion and Malay Customs has named a six-man committee to study the question and make recommendations to check the growing divorce rate. Generally wives are cast away without any financial benefits or future support in Moslem divorces.

says Airline Hostess Helen Dishington

"It's true. We've counted the calls. And they start long before take-off time. For each flight, service crews phone for gasoline and oil—order the meals you'll eat, too. Our office makes many more calls to confirm reservations, issue tickets and check baggage. Other calls go out to the Post Office, Air Freight Office and the Weather Bureau. Even the crew of the plane is alerted by phone. Telephones? You couldn't fly without them!"

By land, sea or air, telephones help you travel. And when you go shopping, read a newspaper or collect the milk from your doorstep, phone service has helped make it possible. Yet few things you buy today are as big a bargain! Compared with price increases in everything else, the telephone takes a smaller part of the average family budget than it did ten years ago.

You get faster, better, more useful service, too. You can reach more people. For example, in the average community today customers can call twice as many telephones without a toll charge, as they could in 1940. And we're going right ahead with the costliest construction program in our history—to catch up with the backlog for phones, to meet the continuing demand, and to make service even better than ever.

Measured by service or measured by price, your telephone is one of today's big bargains.

TODAY'S BIG BARGAIN. Your cost of living has jumped 89% since 1940. Yet the price of phone service has risen an average of only 15%—more for some and less for others, of course, depending on the type of service and the use made of it.

U. S. Buys More Coffee

New York (AP) — Although the nickel cup of coffee has virtually disappeared, the nation imported the equivalent of 900 million cups more of java last year than in 1951, according to the National Coffee Association. The 1952 total was 2.7 billion pounds — a gain of more than 22 million over the year before. This was the highest total in three years, approaching the record import of 2.9 billion pounds in 1949.

The Rio Grande is 1,800 miles long.

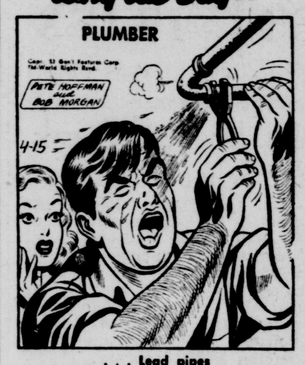
Blind Man Appeals to President

James Alfred Neamond, blind since 1945, is shown at work in the ammunition depot at St. Julian's Creek, near Norfolk, Va. Neamond, who faces the loss of the only job he can perform, due to the Eisenhower administration's economy program, has written the President asking for "a little special consideration. Jobs are few that a blind man can do," he said.

Why We Say--



. . . Lead pipes

Although lead pipes in modern plumbing are not used extensively, the word plumber still means "lead worker." It is derived from the Latin "plumbrum" for lead. Nearly all early sinks had lead pipes, thus the name plumber arose.

U. S. Buys More Coffee

New York (AP) — Although the nickel cup of coffee has virtually disappeared, the nation imported the equivalent of 900 million cups more of java last year than in 1951, according to the National Coffee Association. The 1952 total was 2.7 billion pounds — a gain of more than 22 million over the year before. This was the highest total in three years, approaching the record import of 2.9 billion pounds in 1949.

Blind Man Appeals to President

James Alfred Neamond, blind since 1945, is shown at work in the ammunition depot at St. Julian's Creek, near Norfolk, Va. Neamond, who faces the loss of the only job he can perform, due to the Eisenhower administration's economy program, has written the President asking for "a little special consideration. Jobs are few that a blind man can do," he said.

Why We Say--

. . . Lead pipes

Although lead pipes in modern plumbing are not used extensively, the word plumber still means "lead worker." It is derived from the Latin "plumbrum" for lead. Nearly all early sinks had lead pipes, thus the name plumber arose.

Former Residents Are Honored by Children On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, Sr., of Cementon, former residents of this city, were the guests of honor at a golden wedding anniversary party given by their children Saturday at The Flamingo, on route 9-W.

A native of Mount Marion, Mr. Stewart married the former Ellan Jane Stokes of Kingston, on April 10, 1903. They have resided at Cementon since March 30, 1920.

Mr. Stewart retired last August from his job at the Alpha Cement Co. plant at Cementon, where he has been employed since 1911. For 41 years he operated engines on the railroad line leading from the Alpha plant to its junction with the West Shore Railroad on Route 9-W.

The Stewarts have nine children, six girls and three boys, all of whom attended the anniversary party with their families.

Daughters and sons-in-laws in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seyler of Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kessman and son Gregory, this city; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloboda and children, Frank, Patricia and Donna, Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. George Terpening and children, Belinda, Sandra and George, Jr., Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Pavlak and daughter, Colleen Marie of Catskill; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wynkoop and children, Herman, Jr., Barry and Pamela, of Pittsfield, Mass.

Also, sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart and children, John, Mary Lou and Katherine of Kingston; John Stewart's financee, Miss Mary Colange of New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Jr. and children, Rosemarie and Tulu of Cementon; Rosemarie Stewart's finance, Don Berger of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stewart and daughter, Deborah, Kingston; and friends, Pat Manfro and Robert Berzal.

Another informal celebration was held at the couple's home on Sunday afternoon and evening.

Miss Beverly Banks Weds Earl LaForge

Miss Beverly Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Banks, 57 Chambers street, became the bride of Earl LaForge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney LaForge Sr. of Highland, on Sunday, April 5, at 2 p. m. in the Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Frederick Fike officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception of 50 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The church was decorated with Easter flowers. Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Frederick Fike.

Given in marriage by her brother, Private Clayton Banks, United States Army, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Amos Cooper was her sister's matron of honor. She was attired in a green ensemble, and carried yellow roses. Miss Mary Marie Banks, also a sister to the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a yellow gown.

George Ronk of New Paltz was best man. Serving as ushers were Robert Banks, the bride's brother; and Ronald Nichols, a cousin to the bride. Amos Cooper, Jr., a nephew to the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. LaForge will live in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Dodge to Speak For School 5 Group

Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge, local authority on children's literature, will address the Parent-Teachers Organization of School 5, at its spring meeting, in the kindergarten assembly room, Thursday evening, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Dodge will present brief reviews of popular children's books available in the Kingston Public Library.

Speaking from a wide experience of genuine interest, research, and study in children's literature, the speaker will also discuss, Reading to Children, elaborating upon the value and techniques of oral reading through the medium of books which possess a general interest appeal to children.

Mrs. Dodge is well versed in local folk-lore, having spent her early childhood in Kingston. She was graduated from Kingston Academy. A versatile person, Mrs. Dodge was later engaged as a successful business woman in New York city. Among her many interesting activities was a publicity program she directed as chairman of a bond drive in Connecticut.

Recently Mrs. Dodge returned to her native city. As an outgrowth of an interest created through reading to her sister's grandchildren, she commenced a study of children's literature. Continuing her research, Mrs. Dodge has compiled an informative list of books which she has found to be of unusual interest to children.

Mrs. Dodge is also a member of the Kingston Public Library Association. She formerly served as trustee and is continuing her service to the group as chairman of publicity.

Preceding the evening's talk, a brief business session will be conducted by Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Burroughs Society Identifies Species During Field Trip

Thirty-three members and guests of the John Burroughs Natural History Society met at the Lake Mohonk gate house Sunday for a field trip with Daniel Smiley Jr., as leader.

The weather was not pleasant, but a total of 35 different species were identified. The Palm warbler was seen. This and the Myrtle warbler are usually the heralds of the warbler migration. Both the Ruby-crowned and the Golden-crowned Kinglets were abundant, which would indicate that the Kinglet migration was at its height.

Henry Dunbar, the group's botany specialist also helps to make the trips more interesting and educational by calling attention to many of the different plants of the region and giving interesting facts about them.

Another field trip will be planned in about two weeks when it should be possible to identify many different warblers as they migrate to their nesting areas.

Celebrates 16th Birthday

Miss Anita Musal celebrated her 16th birthday on Saturday, when a surprise party was given in her honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George King, St. Remy.

Second Recital Will Be Presented in St. James Church

The second in a series of four monthly recitals presented by the combined ministries of music of the St. James Methodist Church and the Old Dutch Reformed Church, will be held Sunday, April 19, at 8 p. m. in St. James Church. The public is invited to attend.

To carry out the purpose of presenting some of the best works of the organists and vocalists of the respective churches, the program Sunday will be given by Gloria Massa, organist; Leroy Davis, baritone; and Barbara Decker Boice, soprano.

Gloria Massa, minister of music at St. James, received her master's degree in sacred music from Union Theological Seminary, New York city, in 1952. Miss Massa came to Kingston from Staten Island, where she was director of music at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. She will perform works by Bingham, Bach, Schumann, Mendelssohn and Handel.

Leroy Davis, student of C. Franklin Pierce, is a member of the quartet at the Rondout Presbyterian Church. Barbara Decker Boice is soprano soloist at the Fair Street Reformed Church, and a member of the Kings Chorus.

Reducing is SO SIMPLE!
"One Wafex Wafer before each meal"
AND AWAY GOES UGLY FAT!

How WAFEX Prevents Overeating, —Hunger
According to scientific calculations, one WAFEX wafer has the hunger satisfying capacity of 1 lb. boiled potatoes, or 5 slices white bread, or 4 eggs — yet it contains only 5 calories.
Yes it's true. You can lose pounds and inches of ugly fat doing nothing more than taking a Wafex Wafer before each meal. No diets are necessary. You take your Wafex Wafer and then sit down and eat until satisfied. Yet Wafex is not a drug. It is a food adjunct — and as harmless as a glass of water.
Here's the Proof
A group of physicians associated with one of New York's largest hospitals tested Wafex on a large group of overweight people. These people were instructed by the doctors not to go on a diet, not to cut out any special foods, just take a Wafex Wafer before each meal. Excess fat disappeared the very first week—at the end of the test weight losses of 8 to 30 lbs. were obtained. And without any diet — hunger, or ill effects. Electro-cardiograms proved no harm to the heart.
Wafex is the economical way to lose weight.
$3.00 for 30 day supply. $5.00 for 60 day supply. The very first bottle must please you or you get your money back.

Former Residents Are Honored by Children On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, Sr., of Cementon, former residents of this city, were the guests of honor at a golden wedding anniversary party given by their children Saturday at The Flamingo, on route 9-W.

A native of Mount Marion, Mr. Stewart married the former Ellan Jane Stokes of Kingston, on April 10, 1903. They have resided at Cementon since March 30, 1920.

Mr. Stewart retired last August from his job at the Alpha Cement Co. plant at Cementon, where he has been employed since 1911. For 41 years he operated engines on the railroad line leading from the Alpha plant to its junction with the West Shore Railroad on Route 9-W.

The Stewarts have nine children, six girls and three boys, all of whom attended the anniversary party with their families.

Daughters and sons-in-laws in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seyler of Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kessman and son Gregory, this city; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloboda and children, Frank, Patricia and Donna, Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. George Terpening and children, Belinda, Sandra and George, Jr., Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Pavlak and daughter, Colleen Marie of Catskill; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wynkoop and children, Herman, Jr., Barry and Pamela, of Pittsfield, Mass.

Also, sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart and children, John, Mary Lou and Katherine of Kingston; John Stewart's financee, Miss Mary Colange of New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Jr. and children, Rosemarie and Tulu of Cementon; Rosemarie Stewart's finance, Don Berger of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stewart and daughter, Deborah, Kingston; and friends, Pat Manfro and Robert Berzal.

Another informal celebration was held at the couple's home on Sunday afternoon and evening.

Miss Beverly Banks Weds Earl LaForge

Miss Beverly Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Banks, 57 Chambers street, became the bride of Earl LaForge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney LaForge Sr. of Highland, on Sunday, April 5, at 2 p. m. in the Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Frederick Fike officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception of 50 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The church was decorated with Easter flowers. Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Frederick Fike.

Given in marriage by her brother, Private Clayton Banks, United States Army, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Amos Cooper was her sister's matron of honor. She was attired in a green ensemble, and carried yellow roses. Miss Mary Marie Banks, also a sister to the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a yellow gown.

George Ronk of New Paltz was best man. Serving as ushers were Robert Banks, the bride's brother; and Ronald Nichols, a cousin to the bride. Amos Cooper, Jr., a nephew to the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. LaForge will live in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Dodge to Speak For School 5 Group

Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge, local authority on children's literature, will address the Parent-Teachers Organization of School 5, at its spring meeting, in the kindergarten assembly room, Thursday evening, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Dodge will present brief reviews of popular children's books available in the Kingston Public Library.

Speaking from a wide experience of genuine interest, research, and study in children's literature, the speaker will also discuss, Reading to Children, elaborating upon the value and techniques of oral reading through the medium of books which possess a general interest appeal to children.

Mrs. Dodge is well versed in local folk-lore, having spent her early childhood in Kingston. She was graduated from Kingston Academy. A versatile person, Mrs. Dodge was later engaged as a successful business woman in New York city. Among her many interesting activities was a publicity program she directed as chairman of a bond drive in Connecticut.

Recently Mrs. Dodge returned to her native city. As an outgrowth of an interest created through reading to her sister's grandchildren, she commenced a study of children's literature. Continuing her research, Mrs. Dodge has compiled an informative list of books which she has found to be of unusual interest to children.

Mrs. Dodge is also a member of the Kingston Public Library Association. She formerly served as trustee and is continuing her service to the group as chairman of publicity.

Preceding the evening's talk, a brief business session will be conducted by Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Burroughs Society Identifies Species During Field Trip

Thirty-three members and guests of the John Burroughs Natural History Society met at the Lake Mohonk gate house Sunday for a field trip with Daniel Smiley Jr., as leader.

The weather was not pleasant, but a total of 35 different species were identified. The Palm warbler was seen. This and the Myrtle warbler are usually the heralds of the warbler migration. Both the Ruby-crowned and the Golden-crowned Kinglets were abundant, which would indicate that the Kinglet migration was at its height.

Henry Dunbar, the group's botany specialist also helps to make the trips more interesting and educational by calling attention to many of the different plants of the region and giving interesting facts about them.

Another field trip will be planned in about two weeks when it should be possible to identify many different warblers as they migrate to their nesting areas.

Celebrates 16th Birthday

Kingston Beauty Features

Published for Consolidated Cosmetics and other distributors of beauty aids.

LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID—patented beauty aid—is the sworn enemy of premature wrinkles, crow's-feet.

VOL. 1, NO. 2 KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 15, 1953 VOL. 1, NO. 2

THE ANSWER LADY

QUESTION: Is it all right to dye the eyebrows immediately after plucking? Mrs. G. R.

ANSWER: No indeed, Mrs. G. R.! Open pores are a portal of entry for the dye to penetrate below the skin and poison the tissues. Wait at least a week after plucking.

QUESTION: My lips are chapped and cracked all the time. Can this be due to the kind of lipstick I use? Elsie M.

ANSWER: Yes. Try using an oily lipstick.

QUESTION: When should powder be applied for make-up?

ANSWER: In make-up after a thorough cleansing, apply powder first and last . . . the first application is protective . . . the last artistic!

Beauty Secret For Hands Discovered

One of the most remarkable beauty secrets ever discovered happened years ago on the plains of Australia during sheep-shearing season. The hands of the men were dry, calloused and bruised. But almost immediatedly an amazing phenomenon occurred. Bruises were healed . . . their hands were soft, supple and smooth. What happened?

Lanolin, the closest actual duplication to esters and cholesterols, nature's own skin oils, is found in the fats and oils of the sheep's wool. As the men sheared the sheep, lanolin was absorbed deep into the layers of the skin. Lanolin made their hands BEAUTIFUL!

Today, Lanolin Plus, containing the right amount of lanolin and combined with other ingredients for absolute effectiveness, is the only formula to hold an exclusive United States patent.

LANOLIN PLUS HAND LOTION is richly enforced with this precious substance lanolin. It's a velvety lotion that gives immediate effects, both protective and remedial. It doesn't leave the skin sticky and greasy, but restores a soothing softness and suppleness to dry, crackly skin.

You'll like the delicate, refreshing scent, as well as the tiny miniature ivory pump that ejects the few drops necessary for an application. A generous four-ounce bottle costs only $1, plus federal tax at all cosmetic counters. Keep a bottle handy at all times—and you will keep your hands BEAUTIFUL!

Lanolin Plus Does Wonders for Skin

Wrinkles Worrying You?

Don't let them! You can actually help remove, or greatly reduce premature wrinkles in a very simple manner.

First what causes this kind of wrinkles? Nothing more than hard, dry skin. To prove it, crush a piece of silk . . . then shake it out. It has no wrinkles. Now, crush a piece of note paper. It's permanently wrinkled . . . because it's hard and dry.

Ordinary cleansing creams probably are the cause of dry skin. Although they cleanse, they remove the skin's surface lubricants—esters and cholesterols, and leave the pores clogged with mineral oils and waxes. These are closely related to gasoline, and not only fail to lubricate, but actually may further dry out the skin.

All you have to do is soften the skin and premature wrinkles begin to give way. All you have to use is LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID. Use it as a cleanser; then tissue it off. Rub in a little more, especially on the premature wrinkle lines, and leave it on overnight. After the first night, your skin will be no longer dry. Use regularly and your wrinkles should be greatly reduced or no longer visible.

Impossible? Not all all! LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID, patented by the U. S. government contains a fabulous amount of lanolin and esters and cholestrols, the closest duplication of nature's own skin lubricants. These elements actually penetrate, replacing those removed by the cleansing process. You'll say it's "liquid magic," and it really is! Want to be wrinkle-worry free? Use LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID every day. It is available at all cosmetic counters and the price, $1 plus tax, is as astonishing as the almost magic results it gives.

Dramatize And Highlight The Unsuspected Beauty Of Your Hair

To give yourself the correct shampoo, make certain that the hair is gently massaged with the fingertips throughout the shampooing process. It's not only pleasant and relaxing, but it stimulates the sebaceous glands of the scalp and makes them more active. Rinsing must be done with great care, slowly and effectively. Most emphatically, thoroughly! The desirable method is the use of a professional spray.

Now! What kind of shampoo lotion? It musn't contain harsh ingredients that tend to dry out the hair. It must leave the hair with a sticky, dull film. It must leave it soft, shiny, manageable!

For some time, we have known that lanolin contains the substitutes for nature's own oils to help nourish and lubricate the skin and scalp. The best shampoo to choose is one that contains a generous supply of rich lanolized suds. Such a product is LANOLIN PLUS HARD WATER SHAMPOO. Here is a shampoo that lathers in the hardest water. It's gentle on the hair, and its rich, lanolized suds whisk away completely all dirt and grime so that the hair is left soft and silken, with beautiful glistening highlights. Just as the shampoo cleanses, its oil pampers the hair.

It's economical, too, because it's fast-acting, with just one or two applications needed per washing. Only $1 at all cosmetic counters.

New Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream Endows Dry Skin With Vital Oils

Ever hear this comment . . . "I can't use soap and water on my complexion because it's so dry?"

What miladly often fails to realize is that the cream she is using for cleansing may actually be drying out her skin.

Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream For Dry Skin offers in cream form a cleansing agent delightful in texture due to its quick melting and deep penetrating oils.

Why does Lanolin benefit your skin? Because Lanolin, a product obtained from the wool of lambs, is most similar to the natural oils of our human skin.

As we grow older the normal lubrication and elimination of the skin tends to diminish. Due to the lack of natural moisture and lubrication the skin becomes dry, coarse, dull and old.

Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream For Dry Skin gives you the needed supplementary oils to combat these conditions in your skin.

LANOLIN PLUS CLEANSING CREAM FOR DRY SKIN . . . $1 plus federal tax. At all cosmetic counters.

Lanolin Plus Liquid replenishes natural skin oils with softening, lubricating substances. Try it today; treat your face to a facial pick-up!

Works Quickly, Effectively Inexpensively To Restore That Youthful Look!

Chemists discovered that the supply of body substances which give softness and pliability to the skin diminishes with age. Therefore, they based the formula for Lanolin Plus on these important facts, combining highly refined lanolin PLUS other beauty-benefiting ingredients.

Lanolin Plus Liquid contains a concentrated supply of esters and cholesterols, the two elements found normally in young skin but which diminish with advancing age. It's the lack of these essential oils which cause "crow's feet," wrinkles and harsh, dry skin. Lanolin Plus Liquid immediately sends a rich supply of softening, lubricating substances into the thirsty under-surface of your skin to help combat this aging, drying process. Lanolin Plus Liquid keeps your complexion soft and supple . . . no matter what your age. Try it for a facial treat . . . a perfect pick-up for dry, tired, weather-worn skin! Here's a quick, simple way to soften your skin, make it glow with new vitality and beauty.

1. Hold a hot washcloth to your face and neck for about a minute to open pores and allow tired muscles to relax.

2. Briskly massage warmed Lanolin Plus (warm bottle under hot water tap) into face and neck until skin begins to tingle.

3. After a few minutes, wipe away impurities brought to pore openings by soothing Lanolin Plus Liquid.

Lanolin Plus Liquid is simple as ABC to use! Gently massage a few drops into your skin before retiring. It works while you sleep, leaves no greasy film on your pillow! Continued use makes dryness disappear, premature wrinkles due to excessive dryness or climatic conditions diminish or fade away completely! You'll love its economy, too! Only a few drops are necessary due to its deep-down action.

Since this lanolin-rich liquid lubricates and softens the skin, it has other beneficial uses: If the heels, or insteps or toes are caloused or rough, a relaxing foot bath, followed by a Lanolin Plus Liquid massage does wonders for softening and soothing the dried out areas. It's excellent also for sun-tanning and after swimming, during out of season sunny clime vacations.

How long has it been since you have analyzed objectively what your complexion is really like? It's up to you whether your skin becomes prematurely wrinkled, or is soft and supple, with a glowing, youthful radiance.

There is no season of the year, when it isn't necessary to conduct your own personal "complexion campaign." Climatic conditions — harsh, wintry winds or hot, penetrating sunrays . . . do rob the skin of its natural oils, leaving it hard and dry. Ordinary facial cleansers rob the skin of its natural oils. You must compensate for lost natural lubricants if your skin is to become softened and smooth in appearance; if you are to avoid dry skin and aging wrinkle lines.

Only Lanolin Plus Liquid replenishes these natural skin oils so vitally needed to nourish and protect and lubricate the skin. Remember . . . it's up to you! How you care for your skin today means the difference between a beautiful, youthful complexion, or a hard, dry, unattractive one tomorrow!

You can purchase this splendid product at all leading drug and department store cosmetic counters. Its nominal cost is only $1 plus federal tax. Ask for LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID!

If you retire feeling tense and unrelaxed, your appearance when you arise is the same. Relaxation of facial muscles begins before you go to bed . . .

Is Your Hair in Perfect Condition?

You may spend hours in a beauty salon or at home concerning yourself with stylings, rinses, bleaches and "touch-ups." Oh your hair may look pretty after all this care, but what's it really like deep-down at the scalp? What is the condition of its health? Have harsh chemicals, sunlight and hair dryers sapped its inner strength and beauty? These things can happen, you know. And they happen at a great cost of time and money to you.

External hair care is important and wise for the final appearance of the well-groomed woman. There is no question about it. Yet, in accomplishing this external beauty, is the same amount of time and care given to its internal condition. You can tell this way: Look for split ends, hair strands that have a dull, dry look, a coiffure that remains unmanageable. If these things are apparent in your situation, your hair lacks the proper lubricants. Nature's own oil, esters and cholestrols, are in need of a helpmeet. Lanolin, so closely duplicating these natural oils, provides the solution.

The newest hair conditioner available today Lanolin Plus for the Hair, just as its name implies, is steeped with this rich supplement.

It can be used in several ways. It should be rubbed gently into the scalp and massaged into hair strands the night before a shampoo. In this way, it is an excellent aid for reviving dull, damaged hair. If dryness is not severe, brush a few drops through the hair after each shampoo, working a small amount into the ends of the hair. In making the hair soft and flexible once more, it helps prevent split, broken ends and brings back a healthy, lustrous sheen. It helps keep unruly locks attractively in place. A few drops brushed on daily keeps shimmering highlights in the hair always.

LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID—patented beauty aid—is the sworn enemy of premature wrinkles, crow's-feet.

VOL. 1, NO. 2 KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 15, 1953 VOL. 1, NO. 2

THE ANSWER LADY

QUESTION: Is it all right to dye the eyebrows immediately after plucking? Mrs. G. R.

ANSWER: No indeed, Mrs. G. R.! Open pores are a portal of entry for the dye to penetrate below the skin and poison the tissues. Wait at least a week after plucking.

QUESTION: My lips are chapped and cracked all the time. Can this be due to the kind of lipstick I use? Elsie M.

ANSWER: Yes. Try using an oily lipstick.

QUESTION: When should powder be applied for make-up?

ANSWER: In make-up after a thorough cleansing, apply powder first and last . . . the first application is protective . . . the last artistic!

Beauty Secret For Hands Discovered

One of the most remarkable beauty secrets ever discovered happened years ago on the plains of Australia during sheep-shearing season. The hands of the men were dry, calloused and bruised. But almost immediatedly an amazing phenomenon occurred. Bruises were healed . . . their hands were soft, supple and smooth. What happened?

Lanolin, the closest actual duplication to esters and cholesterols, nature's own skin oils, is found in the fats and oils of the sheep's wool. As the men sheared the sheep, lanolin was absorbed deep into the layers of the skin. Lanolin made their hands BEAUTIFUL!

Today, Lanolin Plus, containing the right amount of lanolin and combined with other ingredients for absolute effectiveness, is the only formula to hold an exclusive United States patent.

LANOLIN PLUS HAND LOTION is richly enforced with this precious substance lanolin. It's a velvety lotion that gives immemediate effects, both protective and remedial. It doesn't leave the skin sticky and greasy, but restores a soothing softness and suppleness to dry, crackly skin.

You'll like the delicate, refreshing scent, as well as the tiny miniature ivory pump that ejects the few drops necessary for an application. A generous four-ounce bottle costs only $1, plus federal tax at all cosmetic counters. Keep a bottle handy at all times—and you will keep your hands BEAUTIFUL!

Lanolin Plus Does Wonders for Skin

Wrinkles Worrying You?

Don't let them! You can actually help remove, or greatly reduce premature wrinkles in a very simple manner.

First what causes this kind of wrinkles? Nothing more than hard, dry skin. To prove it, crush a piece of silk . . . then shake it out. It has no wrinkles. Now, crush a piece of note paper. It's permanently wrinkled . . . because it's hard and dry.

Ordinary cleansing creams probably are the cause of dry skin. Although they cleanse, they remove the skin's surface lubricants—esters and cholesterols, and leave the pores clogged with mineral oils and waxes. These are closely related to gasoline, and not only fail to lubricate, but actually may further dry out the skin.

All you have to do is soften the skin and premature wrinkles begin to give way. All you have to use is LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID. Use it as a cleanser; then tissue it off. Rub in a little more, especially on the premature wrinkle lines, and leave it on overnight. After the first night, your skin will be no longer dry. Use regularly and your wrinkles should be greatly reduced or no longer visible.

Impossible? Not all all! LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID, patented by the U. S. government contains a fabulous amount of lanolin and esters and cholestrols, the closest duplication of nature's own skin lubricants. These elements actually penetrate, replacing those removed by the cleansing process. You'll say it's "liquid magic," and it really is! Want to be wrinkle-worry free? Use LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID every day. It is available at all cosmetic counters and the price, $1 plus tax, is as astonishing as the almost magic results it gives.

Works Quickly, Effectively Inexpensively To Restore That Youthful Look!

Chemists discovered that the supply of body substances which give softness and pliability to the skin diminishes with age. Therefore, they based the formula for Lanolin Plus on these important facts, combining highly refined lanolin PLUS other beauty-benefiting ingredients.

Lanolin Plus Liquid contains a concentrated supply of esters and cholesterols, the two elements found normally in young skin but which diminish with advancing age. It's the lack of these essential oils which cause "crow's feet," wrinkles and harsh, dry skin. Lanolin Plus Liquid immediately sends a rich supply of softening, lubricating substances into the thirsty under-surface of your skin to help combat this aging, drying process. Lanolin Plus Liquid keeps your complexion soft and supple . . . no matter what your age. Try it for a facial treat . . . a perfect pick-up for dry, tired, weather-worn skin! Here's a quick, simple way to soften your skin, make it glow with new vitality and beauty.

1. Hold a hot washcloth to your face and neck for about a minute to open pores and allow tired muscles to relax.

2. Briskly massage warmed Lanolin Plus (warm bottle under hot water tap) into face and neck until skin begins to tingle.

3. After a few minutes, wipe away impurities brought to pore openings by soothing Lanolin Plus Liquid.

Lanolin Plus Liquid is simple as ABC to use! Gently massage a few drops into your skin before retiring. It works while you sleep, leaves no greasy film on your pillow! Continued use makes dryness disappear, premature wrinkles due to excessive dryness or climatic conditions diminish or fade away completely! You'll love its economy, too! Only a few drops are necessary due to its deep-down action.

Since this lanolin-rich liquid lubricates and softens the skin, it has other beneficial uses: If the heels, or insteps or toes are calloused or rough, a relaxing foot bath, followed by a Lanolin Plus Liquid massage does wonders for softening and soothing the dried out areas. It's excellent also for sun-tanning and after swimming, during out of season sunny clime vacations.

How long has it been since you have analyzed objectively what your complexion is really like? It's up to you whether your skin becomes prematurely wrinkled, or is soft and supple, with a glowing, youthful radiance.

There is no season of the year, when it isn't necessary to conduct your own personal "complexion campaign." Climatic conditions — harsh, wintry winds or hot, penetrating sunrays . . . do rob the skin of its natural oils, leaving it hard and dry. Ordinary facial cleansers rob the skin of its natural oils. You must compensate for lost natural lubricants if your skin is to become softened and smooth in appearance; if you are to avoid dry skin and aging wrinkle lines.

Only Lanolin Plus Liquid replenishes these natural skin oils so vitally needed to nourish and protect and lubricate the skin. Remember . . . it's up to you! How you care for your skin today means the difference between a beautiful, youthful complexion, or a hard, dry, unattractive one tomorrow!

You can purchase this splendid product at all leading drug and department store cosmetic counters. Its nominal cost is only $1 plus federal tax. Ask for LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID!

If you retire feeling tense and unrelaxed, your appearance when you arise is the same. Relaxation of facial muscles begins before you go to bed . . .

Dramatize And Highlight The Unsuspected Beauty Of Your Hair

To give yourself the correct shampoo, make certain that the hair is gently massaged with the fingertips throughout the shampooing process. It's not only pleasant and relaxing, but it stimulates the sebaceous glands of the scalp and makes them more active. Rinsing must be done with great care, slowly and effectively. Most emphatically, thoroughly! The desirable method is the use of a professional spray.

Now! What kind of shampoo lotion? It musn't contain harsh ingredients that tend to dry out the hair. It musn't leave the hair with a sticky, dull film. It must leave it soft, shiny, manageable!

For some time, we have known that lanolin contains the substitutes for nature's own oils to help nourish and lubricate the skin and scalp. The best shampoo to choose is one that contains a generous supply of rich lanolized suds. Such a product is LANOLIN PLUS HARD WATER SHAMPOO. Here is a shampoo that lathers in the hardest water. It's gentle on the hair, and its rich, lanolized suds whisk away completely all dirt and grime so that the hair is left soft and silken, with beautiful glistening highlights. Just as the shampoo cleanses, its oil pampers the hair.

It's economical, too, because it's fast-acting, with just one or two applications needed per washing. Only $1 at all cosmetic counters.

New Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream Endows Dry Skin With Vital Oils

Ever hear this comment . . . "I can't use soap and water on my complexion because it's so dry?"

What miladly often fails to realize is that the cream she is using for cleansing may actually be drying out her skin.

Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream For Dry Skin offers in cream form a cleansing agent delightful in texture due to its quick melting and deep penetrating oils.

Why does Lanolin benefit your skin? Because Lanolin, a product obtained from the wool of lambs, is most similar to the natural oils of our human skin.

As we grow older the normal lubrication and elimination of the skin tends to diminish. Due to the lack of natural moisture and lubrication the skin becomes dry, coarse, dull and old.

Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream For Dry Skin gives you the needed supplementary oils to combat these conditions in your skin.

LANOLIN PLUS CLEANSING CREAM FOR DRY SKIN . . . $1 plus federal tax. At all cosmetic counters.

Is Your Hair in Perfect Condition?

You may spend hours in a beauty salon or at home concerning yourself with stylings, rinses, bleaches and "touch-ups." Oh your hair may look pretty after all this care, but what's it really like deep-down at the scalp? What is the condition of its health? Have harsh chemicals, sunlight and hair dryers sapped its inner strength and beauty? These things can happen, you know. And they happen at a great cost of time and money to you.

External hair care is important and wise for the final appearance of the well-groomed woman. There is no question about it. Yet, in accomplishing this external beauty, is the same amount of time and care given to its internal condition. You can tell this way: Look for split ends, hair strands that have a dull, dry look, a coiffure that remains unmanageable. If these things are apparent in your situation, your hair lacks the proper lubricants. Nature's own oil, esters and cholestrols, are in need of a helpmeet. Lanolin, so closely duplicating these natural oils, provides the solution.

The newest hair conditioner available today Lanolin Plus for the Hair, just as its name implies, is steeped with this rich supplement.

It can be used in several ways. It should be rubbed gently into the scalp and massaged into hair strands the night before a shampoo. In this way, it is an excellent aid for reviving dull, damaged hair. If dryness is not severe, brush a few drops through the hair after each shampoo, working a small amount into the ends of the hair. In making the hair soft and flexible once more, it helps prevent split, broken ends and brings back a healthy, lustrous sheen. It helps keep unruly locks attractively in place. A few drops brushed on daily keeps shimmering highlights in the hair always.

You'll find, too, that the men at your house will like this new, lanolin-rich lotion for the hair. It does not leave smudge on hat bands, pillows or upholstery, but imparts a smooth, well-cared-for look.

You can purchase Lanolin Plus for the Hair for only $1, plus federal tax, at any cosmetic counter. It's the sure way to keep your hair in perfect condition!

SILVER DOLLAR PARTY

A daughter writes me as follows: "I plan to give a large party to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of my mother and father, and I am sure that all of their friends and relatives will bring presents. As silver is so very expensive, I thought it would be less of a strain on their pocketbooks if I requested each guest to bring a silver dollar instead. This could also be put toward something mother and father would really like instead of being laden down with a lot of useless silver. Will you please give me your opinion of this?"

At first thought the idea of asking for money is very shocking, but on second thought, your idea is not only a practical one, but also very considerate of your guests' pocketbooks, and, therefore could hardly be criticized. The total could buy a lovely present that they could keep in memory of the occasion.

Courtesy Should Be Practical

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me the correct procedure to follow when leaving an elevator. My husband and I were in a hospital elevator the other evening along with several women. We were closest to the door. When we reached the main floor I got out first, but instead of my husband following me, he stepped aside to allow all the women to leave first. I told him that I thought this unnecessary, but he insists that it is only common courtesy.

Answer: Since the elevator was crowded and your husband was actually in the way of the women passengers, it would have been better for everyone had he followed you.

Concerning Applause

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to applaud the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by a well-known opera star opening a large benefit performance?

Answer: Yes. In fact, it would be very chilling to the singer to receive no applause.

SILVER DOLLAR PARTY

A daughter writes me as follows: "I plan to give a large party to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of my mother and father, and I am sure that all of their friends and relatives will bring presents. As silver is so very expensive, I thought it would be less of a strain on their pocketbooks if I requested each guest to bring a silver dollar instead. This could also be put toward something mother and father would really like instead of being laden down with a lot of useless silver. Will you please give me your opinion of this?"

At first thought the idea of asking for money is very shocking, but on second thought, your idea is not only a practical one, but also very considerate of your guests' pocketbooks, and, therefore could hardly be criticized. The total could buy a lovely present that they could keep in memory of the occasion.

Courtesy Should Be Practical

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me the correct procedure to follow when leaving an elevator. My husband and I were in a hospital elevator the other evening along with several women. We were closest to the door. When we reached the main floor I got out first, but instead of my husband following me, he stepped aside to allow all the women to leave first. I told him that I thought this unnecessary, but he insists that it is only common courtesy.

Answer: Since the elevator was crowded and your husband was actually in the way of the women passengers, it would have been better for everyone had he followed you.

Concerning Applause

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to applaud the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by a well-known opera star opening a large benefit performance?

Answer: Yes. In fact, it would be very chilling to the singer to receive no applause.

2,700 Turn Out

declared the 1953 exposition "officially opened."

Commercial exhibits filled all the available space in the large drill shed and overflowed into the gymnasium.

A new offering this year, and one that attracted a large number of children, was the showing of moving pictures without extra charge in the cloak room to the right of the entrance in the armory. Arrangements were made by Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, Kingston recreation director and a member of the Lions Club.

In the exhibit room itself a touch of the carnival spirit was added by hawkers selling kitchen items, balloons and other items. Another booth sold magic tricks and novelties.

Tuesday night's entertainment was provided by Fred Keating, humorist as well as magician. His humor served him well as young hecklers crowded around the base of the platform, but the magician had the last word. Just as the sharp-eyed watchers thought they had the trick figured out, Keating would come through with an added gimmick and leave them mystified.

Runs Through Saturday

The exposition continues nightly through Saturday night, from 7 to 11 p. m. Tonight's entertainment feature will be Tex and Helen Williams in "A Bit of the Old West." Tomorrow night's bill lists The Donnellys, acrobatic team; Friday night, The Hollanders harmonica team in Dutch costume; and Saturday night, The Hubbels in trick and fancy sharpshooting.

Of special interest this year to those who visited the space allotted the automobile dealers was the several versions of sportscars, or cars showing the European influence in styling, that were displayed by several of the dealers. These vehicles are manufactured by the makers of the standard automobiles in this country this year, apparently in response to the demand of enthusiasts who heretofore have purchased imported foreign-made models.

Other exhibits included most of the latest in heating, household appliances and other items. At one booth a demonstration was in progress on how to apply Formica to plywood without using clamps; at another a mimeographed newspaper was being published. At still another booth customers were lining up to match their skill in "tic-tat-toe" against an electrical "brain" that always seemed to win.

List of Exhibitors

Exhibitors allotted space were: Public Furniture, Ellis G. E. Appliances, Modern Plumbing & Heating Co., Kingston Specialty Co., Vormado, Albany Association of the Blind, Archibald Heating Co., Roger Baer Studios, Bert Bishop, J. Possessive Jealousy Isn't Tribute to Youthful Charm

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Her husband is furiously jealous of their nine-year-old son.

He regards the boy as his "personal property."

He uses him as a valve to blow off his recurring rage.

The child so fears his father that he remains away from home as much as possible.

Then I am also informed that the wife is deeply "in love" with the husband who abuses their child. I'm told he loves his wife. "He loves me too much," she writes. "But though I've practically gone on my knees to beg him to give some love to the boy, he won't. The boy is a nervous wreck. Please help me."

I can't. This young woman needs the help of a psychological clinic.

It is not healthy to take pride in being adored by jealous, abusive people. Our pride, not the jealous abuse, is our problem. It serves us as a frail and unreliable protection. It is the dike we have reared up between us and the pressing realization that we are not loved and do not love.

I'm quoting this letter because its problem is not uncommon among young people. Where life values are gathered from Grade B movies and Tin Pan Alley, it's very easy to grow up believing that possessive jealousy is a tribute to our physical charm.

That is a lie. Possessive jealousy is not a tribute to our personal value at all.

It's as callous in its selection of victims as a hungry tiger on the prowl. And if we flatter ourselves that this possesive jealousy is something aroused by our personal charm, we're as foolhardy as a rabbit would be if it felt the gleam in the tiger's eyes was caused merely by the rabbit's pretty, floppy ears.

The gleam is there, of course, because the rabbit is something to fill the void inside the tiger. The gleam of possessive jealousy is the same thing.

Let's teach our young people how to detect the approach of jealous possessiveness so they won't face the torment of the mother whose letter I've just quoted.

Let's teach them the danger of craving admiration so blindly that they trust the "love" of people who, despising themselves, devour the selves of other people to appease their own emptiness.

2,700 Turn Out

declared the 1953 exposition "officially opened."

Commercial exhibits filled all the available space in the large drill shed and overflowed into the gymnasium.

A new offering this year, and one that attracted a large number of children, was the showing of moving pictures without extra charge in the cloak room to the right of the entrance in the armory. Arrangements were made by Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, Kingston recreation director and a member of the Lions Club.

In the exhibit room itself a touch of the carnival spirit was added by hawkers selling kitchen items, balloons and other items. Another booth sold magic tricks and novelties.

Tuesday night's entertainment was provided by Fred Keating, humorist as well as magician. His humor served him well as young hecklers crowded around the base of the platform, but the magician had the last word. Just as the sharp-eyed watchers thought they had the trick figured out, Keating would come through with an added gimmick and leave them mystified.

Runs Through Saturday

The exposition continues nightly through Saturday night, from 7 to 11 p. m. Tonight's entertainment feature will be Tex and Helen Williams in "A Bit of the Old West." Tomorrow night's bill lists The Donnellys, acrobatic team; Friday night, The Hollanders harmonica team in Dutch costume; and Saturday night, The Hubbels in trick and fancy sharpshooting.

Of special interest this year to those who visited the space allotted the automobile dealers was the several versions of sportscars, or cars showing the European influence in styling, that were displayed by several of the dealers. These vehicles are manufactured by the makers of the standard automobiles in this country this year, apparently in response to the demand of enthusiasts who heretofore have purchased imported foreign-made models.

Other exhibits included most of the latest in heating, household appliances and other items. At one booth a demonstration was in progress on how to apply Formica to plywood without using clamps; at another a mimeographed newspaper was being published. At still another booth customers were lining up to match their skill in "tic-tat-toe" against an electrical "brain" that always seemed to win.

List of Exhibitors

Exhibitors allotted space were: Public Furniture, Ellis G. E. Appliances, Modern Plumbing & Heating Co., Kingston Specialty Co., Vormado, Albany Association of the Blind, Archibald Heating Co., Roger Baer Studios, Bert Bishop, J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., Cerasaro Brothers Sport Center, Colonial Cabinet & Fixture Co., Colonial Carpet Co., Cousins Fuels, Inc., Elston Sport Shop, M. S. Forgatch, Herzog Supply Co., J. & A. Roofing and Supply Co., Kingston Coal Co., Inc., Kingston Cold Storage Co., Inc.

Also, King's Landscaping Co., Mission Wood Products, David Mitchell, National Cash Register Co., A. R. Newcombe & Co., Inc., New York Telephone Co., Parish Company, Quinn Publishing Co., Inc., M. Reina, Joseph Scholar & Son, Bernie Singer, Shults Paint Co., Inc., Smith Mail Advertising Service, Inc., Tel-Rad Company, Ulster Beverage Co., L. B. Watrous, Leon Wilbur & Son.

Automobile exhibitors were: Albany Avenue Garage, Inc., Barrows Motors, Inc., Bev. Anderson Chevrolet, Inc., Harco Motors, Inc., Harold Halwick, Kingston Buick Co., Inc., Kingston Hudson, Inc., Martin-Moran, Inc., Old Capital Motors, Inc., Orchard Motor Sales, Packard-Kingston Co., Inc., Pontiac Broadway Garage, Inc., Port Ewen Garage, Inc., Silsby Motors, Inc., Stuyvesant Motors, Inc., and Wiltwyck Motors, Inc.

The Major League's script writers gave it the old college try for opening day.

In seven games they came up with an extra inning thriller won by a Milwaukee rookie's homer; a one-hit sensation by Cleveland's Bob Lemon; come-from-behind victories by Brooklyn and the Chicago Cubs; the New York Yankees' first opening day shutout loss in 17 years; a decisive setback for Robin Roberts, last year's best pitcher, and an expert four-hit whitewashing of his former Detroit teammates by Virgil Trucks.

Even the one postponement had a special twist. The Boston Red Sox were forced to cancel both days of a two day series with Washington because of snow—the first snowed out games in Boston since 1933.

Weather Slims Crowds

Polar bear weather prevailed generally, holding the total crowds to 176,269, almost 50,000 below expectations.

The hardy souls who ventured out saw Milwaukee nip St. Louis, 3-2; Chicago edge Cincinnati, 3-2; Brooklyn whip Pittsburgh 8-5, and New York defeat Philadelphia, 4-1, in National League encounters and three American League shutouts—Cleveland over Chicago, 6-0; Philadelphia over the Yankees, 5-0; and St. Louis over Detroit, 10-0.

The day's largest crowd, 53,698, watched Lemon give up a clean single to Minnie Minoso in the first inning for the first and last Chicago hit. Only three other times did the White Sox get the ball out of the infield although four walks and two errors gave them six other base runners.

At Yankee Stadium, Casey Stengel ran up his fourth straight American League pennant. That was about the last thing the crowd of 23,534 had to cheer about because the A's Alex Kellner made the world champions look like minor leaguers the rest of the afternoon.

The Yanks managed only five singles against the lefthander whose shutout performance was the first suffered by New York on an opening day since Bobo Newsom of Washington bested Lefty Gomez, 1-0, in 1936.

Bruton Stars Again

Bill Bruton, a Negro rookie, continued to write the Milwaukee success story as he homered in the 10th to give the Braves a home town triumph over the Cardinals.

Bruton's 350-foot blast off the outstretched glove of Enos Slaughter sent the 34,357 paying customers home happy from the first major league game in Milwaukee in 52 years. The hard earned victory, in which Warren Spahn outduelled Gerry Staley, kept the Braves half a game in front of the Giants, Dodgers and Cubs in the National League.

Ken Raffensberger, who has lost more games in the National League than any other active pitcher, dropped his 139th when Chicago scored two unearned runs in the eighth inning. Bob Rush survived home runs by Willard Marshall in the first and Ted Kluszewski in the sixth to register the victory.

Dodgers Cop Opener

The Dodgers bragged all spring about their pitchers but they couldn't find one to go the route on opening day. Carl Erskine was the choice and the Pittsburgh Pirates got rid of him with a four run outburst in the fourth. Joe Black saved the day for the 12,433 Ebbets Field faithful as the Dodgers found the range for four runs in the fourth and fifth against Murry Dickson. Roy Campanella homered in the fourth with two on and Duke Snider followed suit with one on in the fifth.

Bobby Thomson sent the Giants away on top against Roberts at Philadelphia as he belted the Phils' ace for a home run with Davey Williams on base in the first inning. Roberts never had a chance after that as Larry Jansen doled out only six singles.

The Browns pounced on Detroit's Ned Garver for four runs in the first and added six more against an assortment of three other pitchers before the fireworks were over in the only night game.

Robinson Sees Happy Days As Dodger's Third Baseman

Brooklyn, April 15 (AP) — Is Jackie Robinson happy over his shift from second to third base?

The question was put to the star Brooklyn infielder after yesterday's season opener at Ebbets Field in which Robinson starred both at bat and in the field to help the Dodgers defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-5.

"Why shouldn't I be happy?" asked Robinson, acknowledged the best second baseman in the National League during the past five seasons. "I'm playing regularly, am I not? I've always said I didn't care where I played as long as I was in the lineup every day. I meant it, too. I'll play third, second, first, the outfield—anywhere Charlie Dressen asks me to—as long as he feels it will help the club."

Gilliam Grateful

What did Junior Gilliam, the rookie Negro flash, who displaced Robinson at second, think?

"All I can say is that Jackie has been wonderful to me," he said. "He's taken a lot of time and patience to help me. He taught me things about playing second base I never knew before. He showed me a different and better way to make the double play, for instance. If I make good, I'll have him to thank for it."

How did Robinson find playing third base?

"Fine," he said. "The only thing I don't like about it is that sometimes you can get awful lonesome out there. You get a tendency to become lazy. There is not as much action at third as there is at second. I like action. I want to be in the game every minute."

Jackie said he found the position strange at first "but I think I've gotten accustomed to it. At first I had trouble making that long throw across the diamond. You throw differently from third than you do from second, you know. Before I used a three-quarter or side arm motion and threw it with sort of a snap. The ball would die when it reached first. Now I've got to throw overhand, with a full motion and try to make the ball rise.

Robinson did well yesterday, handling his only two chances cleanly.

Need Two Franchises To Complete Loop

Plans for the reorganization of the City Baseball League are being held up pending the acquisition of two more franchises, president Ed Murphy said today.

Following last night's meeting, the third in two weeks, the lineup for the 1953 campaign showed four teams ready to go: Wiltwyck Motors, Jones Dairy, Colonial Merchants and Boulevard Gulf.

Murphy said another meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 21, at 7:30 p. m. at city hall.

The twilight league prexy expressed confidence that two more teams would be signed at the next session.

"We have a couple of bids for franchises on file," Murphy said, "but we're screening every offer very carefully. We're interested only in teams that will be fully uniformed and have substantial backing."

Meanwhile, all teams or individuals interested in a City League franchise are requested to contact Murphy.

AAU Ring Finals Set for Boston

Boston, April 15 (AP)—Forty fighters—including 1952 heavyweight titlist Jack Scheberies of Oakland, Calif., and strong squads from the armed forces—will vie for 10 National A.A.U. boxing championships tonight at Boston Garden.

Representing teams from 14 district associations plus the Army, Air Force and Sampson, N. Y., Air Force base, they are the survivors of 137 who got this three-day punching carnival underway Monday.

Servicemen accounted for 14 of the quarterfinal victories in yesterday's nine-hour program with the all Air Force and all Army squads gaining six semifinal spots each. Sampson got two.

Scheberies, a 25-year-old used car dealer, is the lone title defender back this year. In his only bout so far he pounded his way into the semifinals with a split decision over Bob Woodall of Sampson and Cincinnati last night.

Veterans eliminated yesterday included the last of the Hawaiian team, Ernie De Jesus, who won the 1951 bantamweight crown, and Jackie Spurgeon of New York, a flyweight finalist in 1952.

Yonkers Opening

Yonkers, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—Yonkers Raceway opens its 34-night spring meeting tonight with the Inaugural Pace as the top event on the card. Wilmington Star, winner of 11 of 18 races last year, is the 3-1 choice, followed by David Caudle and Ankaway, an entry of Bill Haughton's stable. Eight other pacers will go in the event, which is worth $9,150.

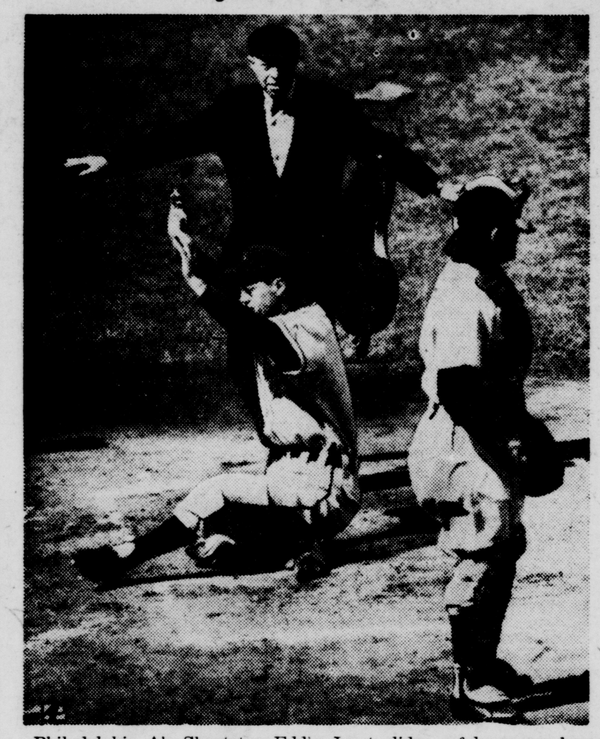
Joost in Time



Philadelphia A's Shortstop Eddie Joost slides safely across home in first inning of game with New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium. Joost scored from third after teammate Eddie Robinson flied out to Hank Bauer in right field. Catcher Yogi Berra holds relay as Ump Bill McGowan calls play. A's shutout Yanks, 5-0.

Dykes Thinks Lefties Will Hurt Yankees

New York, April 15 (AP)—Alex Kellner is first hand evidence that the New York Yankees may be vulnerable to good lefthanded pitching.

One swallow doesn't make a summer and one lefty doesn't make a trend but Kellner's five-hit shutout for the Philadelphia A's in yesterday's opener was revealing.

"They've got a couple fellows who don't like those lefthanders," said Jimmy Dykes, manager of the A's. "And we've got three pretty good lefties in Kellner, Bobby Shantz and Morris Martin." (Martin won't be eligible until next month).

Dykes will explore his theory further today when he sends Shantz, the league's most valuable player in 1952, against the world champions. He says he kept Shantz out of the opener because he had a tendency to be nervous before important pitching dates. Nobody noticed any nervousness last year when he won 24 games.

When the Yanks get to Philadelphia next Sunday for a doubleheader, they are liable to run into Kellner and Shantz again.

Dykes considers Kellner a potential star—if he would bear down all the time.

"He has a great fast ball," said Jimmy. "The only trouble is that he doesn't want to throw it enough. He was firing out there yesterday and you saw what happened.

"It's all up to him. He can be one of the best pitchers in the league, if he wants to be."

The Yanks' three lefthanded batters—Joe Collins, Gene Woodling and Yogi Berra—contributed only one single, a slasher to left by Berra. Both Woodling and Berra bounced into double plays and Collins hit the ball out of the infield only once.

Cleveland — Kid Gavilan, 152, Havana, outpointed Livio Minelli, 151, Italy, 10 (non-title).

Los Angeles—Harry "Snuffy" Smith, 138, Rochester, N. Y., outpointed Freddie "Babe" Herman, 140, Los Angeles, 10.

High school baseball had started to deteriorate in most sections of the country long before the demise could be attributed to such modern gadgets as radio and TV.

There is something about high school baseball that makes the student body stay away in droves. In recent years, many schools have been hard pressed to find a scorekeeper for their games. Echoes rattle through the stadium amid the lively chatter of the players.

Kingston High's schedule is down to 12 games; 10 in the DUSO and a home-and-home series with Arlington. Coach Bill Burke may wangle a few extra practice games.

High school principals no longer permit players to cut classes to travel to ball games. This results in retention of the 7-inning contest and 4:30 p. m. starting time. Neither is conducive to interest in baseball and reduces the national pastime to the status of golf and tennis.

And, the fact that high school baseball has been a financial white elephant for many years accounts for the newly-shaped thinking of the professors.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Big Joe Mahar, the former pitcher and now a kegling figure, is seriously ill at the Benedictine Hospital. A card from his many bowling friends would help. Vince Martinez, the new TV boxing sensation, is spending several weeks at Haines Falls trying to forget the Chico Vejar upset. Coach Lanky Masterson's 1952-53 NFA basketeers set a new Hudson Valley 4-year record with 78 wins and 8 losses. The old mark of 77 and 10 was set by Coach Sam Kalloch's Poughkeepsie High School quintets in the 1920s. College tryouts by high school athletes have been ruled illegal by the New York State Public High School Athletic Association. The rule now reads: "A boy who participates in practice with or against any college athletic squad, or takes part in any practice, tryout or game, using college facilities under supervision of college personnel, is not eligible to represent his school." The State Association also ruled that "A boy who signs a contract with a professional team is no longer eligible for interschool sports."

George Carpouzis bettered his league average against all major opponents in the YMCA League with 53 against Economy, 52 against the 50 Club, 45 Wiltwyck, 41 Lincoln Park and 39 against Three Bros. Farms. Lou Schafer defends George's all-time YMCA record as a solid achievement. Says Lou: "George as well as others in the high scoring column had to earn their points, as four of the "A" teams threw up strong defenses. The opposition tossed everything at George, including the 2-1-2, 3-2 and man-to-man but nothing stopped the Golden Greek. The Little Bigger League, a notch above the P-O-N-Y in the youth baseball movement, may adopt the permanent name of Babe Ruth League. Joe E. Brown, the comic and Yankee TV expert, has accepted the position as first president of the P-O-N-Y League. In case you have been wondering about the name, it represents this slogan: "Protect Our Nation's Youth." Harry Kaprelian is one of those rare species of the modern era, an independent sports sponsor with no trade name. His Harry's Angels just wrapped up the YMCA pennant and Harry rates an orchid for his interest in the game.

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin of the 156th Field Artillery has announced preliminary plans for a 16-man boxing squad. Details are incomplete but Capt. Frank Fabbie will be in charge. The Hudson Valley National Guard battalions also plan to organize a softball league. Capt. Chester J. Borkowski of Poughkeepsie is in charge of that project. Johnny Ferraro has offered the facilities of the Bowlodrome for the May program of the Ferraro Little League. Pupils of the MJM school will roll two games free every Monday during May under the supervision of Dorothy Elston. The vanguard of Kingston keglers might have missed the prize melon in the state tenpin tournament, although the increased entry list will send the "in the money" totals lower than a year ago in Kingston. The pay-offs (gross) then were: team, 2940; doubles, 1203; singles, 615; all-events 1866.

During the winter, Leo Durocher was continually buzzed by rival managers about a trade for Bobby Thomson. "Thomson with the 'p' or without?" Leo would ask. That generally ended that.

Canadiens Need One Win for Title

Boston, April 15 (AP)—Montreal's flashy Canadiens were only one victory away from the Stanley Cup today as they headed home to engage Boston's slumping bruins for the fifth time in the National Hockey League's best-of-seven final series.

With idol Maurice (The Rocket) Richard scoring thrice, Canadiens overwhelmed the Bruins, 7-3, last night to take a commanding three games to one lead.

It was the fourth time that Richard has performed the "hat trick" in playoff competition and the 23rd such scoring feat of his NHL career.

With Goalie Gerry McNeil again ignoring his ankle injury and performing brilliantly, Canadiens appeared to score almost at will against the Bruins' ragged defensive tactics.

The twilight league prexy expressed confidence that two more teams would be signed at the next session.

"We have a couple of bids for franchises on file," Murphy said, "but we're screening every offer very carefully. We're interested only in teams that will be fully uniformed and have substantial backing."

Meanwhile, all teams or individuals interested in a City League franchise are requested to contact Murphy.

The Shippers have the Jacobson Mixed League bowling flag for 1952-53 tucked away with a final record of 51 victories and 33 defeats.

AAU Ring Finals Set for Boston

Boston, April 15 (AP)—Forty fighters—including 1952 heavyweight titlist Jack Scheberies of Oakland, Calif., and strong squads from the armed forces—will vie for 10 National A.A.U. boxing championships tonight at Boston Garden.

Representing teams from 14 district associations plus the Army, Air Force and Sampson, N. Y., Air Force base, they are the survivors of 137 who got this three-day punching carnival underway Monday.

Servicemen accounted for 14 of the quarterfinal victories in yesterday's nine-hour program with the all Air Force and all Army squads gaining six semifinal spots each. Sampson got two.

Scheberies, a 25-year-old used car dealer, is the lone title defender back this year. In his only bout so far he pounded his way into the semifinals with a split decision over Bob Woodall of Sampson and Cincinnati last night.

Veterans eliminated yesterday included the last of the Hawaiian team, Ernie De Jesus, who won the 1951 bantamweight crown, and Jackie Spurgeon of New York, a flyweight finalist in 1952.

Yonkers Opening

Yonkers, N. Y., April 15 (AP)—Yonkers Raceway opens its 34-night spring meeting tonight with the Inaugural Pace as the top event on the card. Wilmington Star, winner of 11 of 18 races last year, is the 3-1 choice, followed by David Caudle and Ankaway, an entry of Bill Haughton's stable. Eight other pacers will go in the event, which is worth $9,150.

Joost in Time

Philadelphia A's Shortstop Eddie Joost slides safely across home in first inning of game with New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium. Joost scored from third after teammate Eddie Robinson flied out to Hank Bauer in right field. Catcher Yogi Berra holds relay as Ump Bill McGowan calls play. A's shutout Yanks, 5-0.

Dykes Thinks Lefties Will Hurt Yankees

New York, April 15 (AP)—Alex Kellner is first hand evidence that the New York Yankees may be vulnerable to good lefthanded pitching.

One swallow doesn't make a summer and one lefty doesn't make a trend but Kellner's five-hit shutout for the Philadelphia A's in yesterday's opener was revealing.

"They've got a couple fellows who don't like those lefthanders," said Jimmy Dykes, manager of the A's. "And we've got three pretty good lefties in Kellner, Bobby Shantz and Morris Martin." (Martin won't be eligible until next month).

Dykes will explore his theory further today when he sends Shantz, the league's most valuable player in 1952, against the world champions. He says he kept Shantz out of the opener because he had a tendency to be nervous before important pitching dates. Nobody noticed any nervousness last year when he won 24 games.

When the Yanks get to Philadelphia next Sunday for a doubleheader, they are liable to run into Kellner and Shantz again.

Dykes considers Kellner a potential star—if he would bear down all the time.

"He has a great fast ball," said Jimmy. "The only trouble is that he doesn't want to throw it enough. He was firing out there yesterday and you saw what happened.

"It's all up to him. He can be one of the best pitchers in the league, if he wants to be."

The Yanks' three lefthanded batters—Joe Collins, Gene Woodling and Yogi Berra—contributed only one single, a slasher to left by Berra. Both Woodling and Berra bounced into double plays and Collins hit the ball out of the infield only once.

Cleveland — Kid Gavilan, 152, Havana, outpointed Livio Minelli, 151, Italy, 10 (non-title).

Los Angeles—Harry "Snuffy" Smith, 138, Rochester, N. Y., outpointed Freddie "Babe" Herman, 140, Los Angeles, 10.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

High school baseball had started to deteriorate in most sections of the country long before the demise could be attributed to such modern gadgets as radio and TV.

There is something about high school baseball that makes the student body stay away in droves. In recent years, many schools have been hard pressed to find a scorekeeper for their games. Echoes rattle through the stadium amid the lively chatter of the players.

Kingston High's schedule is down to 12 games; 10 in the DUSO and a home-and-home series with Arlington. Coach Bill Burke may wangle a few extra practice games.

High school principals no longer permit players to cut classes to travel to ball games. This results in retention of the 7-inning contest and 4:30 p. m. starting time. Neither is conducive to interest in baseball and reduces the national pastime to the status of golf and tennis.

And, the fact that high school baseball has been a financial white elephant for many years accounts for the newly-shaped thinking of the professors.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Big Joe Mahar, the former pitcher and now a kegling figure, is seriously ill at the Benedictine Hospital. A card from his many bowling friends would help. Vince Martinez, the new TV boxing sensation, is spending several weeks at Haines Falls trying to forget the Chico Vejar upset. Coach Lanky Masterson's 1952-53 NFA basketeers set a new Hudson Valley 4-year record with 78 wins and 8 losses. The old mark of 77 and 10 was set by Coach Sam Kalloch's Poughkeepsie High School quintets in the 1920s. College tryouts by high school athletes have been ruled illegal by the New York State Public High School Athletic Association. The rule now reads: "A boy who participates in practice with or against any college athletic squad, or takes part in any practice, tryout or game, using college facilities under supervision of college personnel, is not eligible to represent his school." The State Association also ruled that "A boy who signs a contract with a professional team is no longer eligible for interschool sports."

• Of Men and Mice

George Carpouzis bettered his league average against all major opponents in the YMCA League with 53 against Economy, 52 against the 50 Club, 45 Wiltwyck, 41 Lincoln Park and 39 against Three Bros. Farms. Lou Schafer defends George's all-time YMCA record as a solid achievement. Says Lou: "George as well as others in the high scoring column had to earn their points, as four of the "A" teams threw up strong defenses. The opposition tossed everything at George, including the 2-1-2, 3-2 and man-to-man but nothing stopped the Golden Greek. The Little Bigger League, a notch above the P-O-N-Y in the youth baseball movement, may adopt the permanent name of Babe Ruth League. Joe E. Brown, the comic and Yankee TV expert, has accepted the position as first president of the P-O-N-Y League. In case you have been wondering about the name, it represents this slogan: "Protect Our Nation's Youth." Harry Kaprelian is one of those rare species of the modern era, an independent sports sponsor with no trade name. His Harry's Angels just wrapped up the YMCA pennant and Harry rates an orchid for his interest in the game.

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin of the 156th Field Artillery has announced preliminary plans for a 16-man boxing squad. Details are incomplete but Capt. Frank Fabbie will be in charge. The Hudson Valley National Guard battalions also plan to organize a softball league. Capt. Chester J. Borkowski of Poughkeepsie is in charge of that project. Johnny Ferraro has offered the facilities of the Bowlodrome for the May program of the Ferraro Little League. Pupils of the MJM school will roll two games free every Monday during May under the supervision of Dorothy Elston. The vanguard of Kingston keglers might have missed the prize melon in the state tenpin tournament, although the increased entry list will send the "in the money" totals lower than a year ago in Kingston. The pay-offs (gross) then were: team, 2940; doubles, 1203; singles, 615; all-events 1866.

During the winter, Leo Durocher was continually buzzed by rival managers about a trade for Bobby Thomson. "Thomson with the 'p' or without?" Leo would ask. That generally ended that.

Canadiens Need One Win for Title

Boston, April 15 (AP)—Montreal's flashy Canadiens were only one victory away from the Stanley Cup today as they headed home to engage Boston's slumping Bruins for the fifth time in the National Hockey League's best-of-seven final series.

With idol Maurice (The Rocket) Richard scoring thrice, Canadiens overwhelmed the Bruins, 7-3, last night to take a commanding three games to one lead.

It was the fourth time that Richard has performed the "hat trick" in playoff competition and the 23rd such scoring feat of his NHL career.

With Goalie Gerry McNeil again ignoring his ankle injury and performing brilliantly, Canadiens appeared to score almost at will against the Bruins' ragged defensive tactics.

Eddie Sohm sparked the champions with a 588 blast on solos of 231, 157 and 200. A dozen keglers crashed into the "500" circle, with Don Tomczyk clouting 211-574 and Dick Bertie (236) and Tony Fabiano (203) crashing 566.

The other "500" shooters were Andy Krom 200-551; Ronald Herrick 244-544, J. Weishaupt 538, B. Kahrs 533, Bill Stenson 523, Pete Kowalenko 511, R. Caddy 211-509 and Ray Amell 500.

First Baptist No. 2 keglers have captured the Federation International League pennant, but a playoff between First Baptist No. 1 and Comforter No. 3 will be necessary to determine the National Division winner.

Baptist No. 1 and Comforter No. 3 compiled identical records of 51 wins and 33 losses in the National circuit. First Dutch No. 1 had 48½-35½.

Minelli Goes 10 Fast Heats With Gavilan

Cleveland, April 15 (AP)—Despite a close, split decision, welterweight champion Kid Gavilan insisted today that Livio Minelli of Italy "not show too much" as a fighter.

But the fans who witnessed their torrid 10-round non-title bout last night thought differently. For fully two minutes they booed in protest after the verdict was announced.

Referee Jackie Davis and Judge Herb Williams gave it to the "Keed" 6-4 rounds for Davis and and 5-4-1 for Williams. But Judge Charlie Bill scored it 6-4 in favor of the durable Italian campaigner. Gavilan outweighed his foe 152-151.

Gavilan admitted it was close, but thought a 6-4 verdict on his side would hit it about on the nose.

"Nice show and people like, but he not show too much," said the Cuban Hawk, who was making his first start since scoring a technical knockout over Chuck Davey in their Chicago title bout last February.

Almost from the start, there was no doubt but that the Italian battler, who has beaten such fighters as Johnny Bratton, would be no easy mark. Time and again he weathered the champion's flurries and came back to match blow for blow.

They battled head-to-head in furious mixing in the 10th and won a tremendous ovation from the crowd at the bell.

Langlois 7-5 Over Micelli

Miami Beach, Fla., April 15 (AP)—Pierre Langlois of France, the fourth ranking middleweight, is a 7-5 favorite to even his score with Joe Miceli, the No. 4 welterweight contender, in their 10-round television fight tonight at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Miceli, 24-year-old ex-soldier from New York, gained a split decision over Langlois in a previous meeting in Brooklyn last July. The Frenchman, a welterweight then, now is a full grown middleweight.

The battle will be televised nationally (CBS) starting at 10 p. m. (EST). There will be no radio broadcast.

Batting — Bill Bruton, Milwaukee Braves, hit home run in the tenth inning to give the Braves a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals as major league baseball returned to Milwaukee.

Ulster County Trapshoot Meet Slated Sunday at New Paltz

An Ulster County Invitational trapshoot will be sponsored by the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club on Sunday, April 19.

Marking the opening of the trapshoot season in the area, the competition is open to any five-man team from a member club of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County.

The New Paltz club plans three events for the day.

Shooting starts at 1 p. m. with a heavy entry list anticipated. Awards will be made to the first and second place teams. A small entry fee will be assessed each team entry. The team event is based on 50 targets for each shooter.

An All-Open Individual, second event on the program, is expected to attract the cream of the county shooting crop, including the 1952 FSCUC champion, Fred Thiel of Milton.

Contestants will shoot at 50 targets. Scratch scores will be recorded and from a purse made up from a small entry fee awards will be made on a percentage system. Any shooter is eligible for this event.

The final event will consist of 12 pairs of targets in doubles. This is considered the classic form of trapshooting.

Carpouzis Scores 491 In Y Loop

31 Point Average In Sixteen Games

Sharpshooting George Carpouzis averaged nearly 31 points a game to lead the YMCA Basketball League's "A" division with a record breaking harvest of 491 markers for the 1952-53 season.

Lou Schafer's official statistics reveal that Carpouzis appeared in 16 games, fired 208 field goals and 81 free throws.

Runnerup Lafayette "Champ" Holstein bucketed 308 points in 17 games for an 18-point average.

Nine players scored in the 200-point class. Big Bill Kleine of Woodstock tallied 277 points; "Chink" Ferraro had 257 and Rod Sagendorf hit 249 to round out the Big Five.

In the second five were Ward Dunham 240, Jack Doyle 226, Bob Sickler 215, Big Bill East 204 and Cliff Schoonmaker 174.

Schedule Technicality May Stymie Kentucky Return to NCAA Set

New Orleans, April 15 (AP)—Four Southeastern Conference schools today threatened Kentucky with a boycott that would bar Coach Adolph Rupp's basketball team from NCAA tournament play next winter.

The threat stems from a controversy concerning schedules created after Keutucky was barred from competition last fall by the NCAA following a point-shaving scandal.

An athletic official of a SEC school who asked not be named disclosed the boycott action yesterday and then tossed a second brickbat in Kentucky's direction by declaring:

"In order to qualify for the NCAA championship, each conference school must play a round robin tournament. And if Kentucky doesn't play all teams in the conference, it will eliminate itself from NCAA title competition."

"In all fairness," an LSU official who asked not to be identified said, "Kentucky owes us a trip down here before we have to go back to Lexington."

The LSU official said "it costs a lot of money to go up there and it's a long way home when that Rupp stew is thrown at you."

Kentucky has a fantastic record of victories at home and for years SEC basketball teams have dreaded the thought of invading the bluegrass.

Minelli Goes 10 Fast Heats With Gavilan

Cleveland, April 15 (AP)—Despite a close, split decision, welterweight champion Kid Gavilan insisted today that Livio Minelli of Italy "not show too much" as a fighter.

But the fans who witnessed their torrid 10-round non-title bout last night thought differently. For fully two minutes they booed in protest after the verdict was announced.

Referee Jackie Davis and Judge Herb Williams gave it to the "Keed" 6-4 rounds for Davis and and 5-4-1 for Williams. But Judge Charlie Bill scored it 6-4 in favor of the durable Italian campaigner. Gavilan outweighed his foe 152-151.

Gavilan admitted it was close, but thought a 6-4 verdict on his side would hit it about on the nose.

"Nice show and people like, but he not show too much," said the Cuban Hawk, who was making his first start since scoring a technical knockout over Chuck Davey in their Chicago title bout last February.

Almost from the start, there was no doubt but that the Italian battler, who has beaten such fighters as Johnny Bratton, would be no easy mark. Time and again he weathered the champion's flurries and came back to match blow for blow.

They battled head-to-head in furious mixing in the 10th and won a tremendous ovation from the crowd at the bell.

Langlois 7-5 Over Micelli

Miami Beach, Fla., April 15 (AP)—Pierre Langlois of France, the fourth ranking middleweight, is a 7-5 favorite to even his score with Joe Miceli, the No. 4 welterweight contender, in their 10-round television fight tonight at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Miceli, 24-year-old ex-soldier from New York, gained a split decision over Langlois in a previous meeting in Brooklyn last July. The Frenchman, a welterweight then, now is a full grown middleweight.

The battle will be televised nationally (CBS) starting at 10 p. m. (EST). There will be no radio broadcast.

Batting — Bill Bruton, Milwaukee Braves, hit home run in the tenth inning to give the Braves a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals as major league baseball returned to Milwaukee.

Parnell Pitches Opening Snowball

Mel Parnell, ace lefthander of the Boston Red Sox, wears his first skis as he prepares to deliver his first snowball in Fenway Park. But for a freak snowstorm Parnell would have led the Sox in a season-opening game against the Washington Senators that afternoon. A native of New Orleans, Parnell never saw so much snow before after three to six inches covered southern New England. He is in uniform because Sox held a brief workout in Harvard University cage. Ulster County Trapshoot Meet Slated Sunday at New Paltz

An Ulster County Invitational trapshoot will be sponsored by the New Paltz Rod and Gun Club on Sunday, April 19.

Marking the opening of the trapshoot season in the area, the competition is open to any five-man team from a member club of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County.

The New Paltz club plans three events for the day.

Shooting starts at 1 p. m. with a heavy entry list anticipated. Awards will be made to the first and second place teams. A small entry fee will be assessed each team entry. The team event is based on 50 targets for each shooter.

An All-Open Individual, second event on the program, is expected to attract the cream of the county shooting crop, including the 1952 FSCUC champion, Fred Thiel of Milton.

Contestants will shoot at 50 targets. Scratch scores will be recorded and from a purse made up from a small entry fee awards will be made on a percentage system. Any shooter is eligible for this event.

The final event will consist of 12 pairs of targets in doubles. This is considered the classic form of trapshooting.

UN Hopes to End Talk on Poland's Red Peace Package

United Nations, April 15 (AP)—Pressing to adjourn the General Assembly this week, UN delegates hoped today to wind up quickly their discussion of Poland's Red peace package. It already has been rejected once and most likely is headed for the wastebasket again.

The Soviet-backed proposal left the door wide open to discussion of almost anything causing current world tensions. But delegates in the 60-nation Political Committee (meets 10:30 a. m. EST) pushed for an end to the debate so they could close down.

The Soviet delegate—probably Andrei Y. Vishinsky—and U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., have asked to speak once again on the subject.

Indicate Negative Vote

Pro-western nations already have indicated they will vote against the Polish omnibus, which calls for an immediate cease-fire in Korea, Big Five arms reduction, banning atomic and germ weapons, declaring membership in the Atlantic Pact as against the UN Charter and the signing of a Big Five peace pact.

The non-Communist delegates had little trouble in rounding up votes for a counter-resolution, introduced by Brazil. The Brazilian plan expresses the hope that negotiations in Korea will lead to an armistice and orders the Assembly to recess this session when it finishes its work, only to reconvene if a Korean armistice is signed or other Korean developments arise requiring Assembly action.

Brazil's resolution, backed by the U. S., Britain and France, was introduced with the aim of having the Assembly adopt something positive rather than simply rejecting the Polish item.

Eisenhower Speech

airport for the return trip to Augusta.

On the way back he will stop at Charlotte, N. C., and then drive on to Salisbury, N. C., to take part in the 200th anniversary of Rowan county.

Plays With Hogan

Eisenhower worked on the speech last night after a round of golf with Ben Hogan, who won the annual Masters tournament here Sunday with a record 274 for 72 holes.

Hogan and the President teamed up at the Augusta National Club with Byron Nelson, who was Hogan's Sunday partner, and Cliff Roberts, retired New York investment banker and chairman of the golf club.

"They all said they had a very nice social game and that nobody shot very well," James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, told newsmen. Reporters are barred from the course while Eisenhower is vacationing there.

Driver Says Pedestrian 'Falls' Into Fender

Haywood Van Wagenen, age unknown at present, of High Falls, was injured about 8 p. m. Tuesday when he was struck by a taxicab on the Rosendale-High Falls road near Rosendale, the sheriff's office reported.

Taken to the Benedictine Hospital by Moylan's ambulance, Van Wagenen apparently suffered shock and other possible injuries. His condition was reported as "fair" at the hospital this morning.

Eugene M. Mulligan, 32, of Main street, Rosendale, the owner-operator of the taxi, told Deputy Sheriff Chester A. Wolven that Van Wagenen was walking about in the center of the road and "seemed to fall" into the vehicle's right front fender as Mulligan attempted to drive his vehicle past the pedestrian. Investigation is being continued.

Indictment Dismissed

New York, April 15 (AP)—A perjury indictment against William Spivey, former University of Kentucky basketball star, was dismissed today. The 23-year-old Spivey had been tried once on the charges, but the trial ended in a jury deadlock. General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit today threw out the indictment on a motion of Assitant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor. The charges grew out of the collegiate game-fixing basketball scandal.

Casualties Total 133,463

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 133,463 today, an increase of 496 since last week.

Brickyard . . .

on No. 13, a one story compressor room, with a bid of $35. Charles Snyder's bid of $25 was high on No. 1, one story frame house.

No Bid on No. 10

Bidders refused to make any bid on Building No. 10, a frame two-car garage.

Buildings No. 15 and 16, a barn and a house, were withdrawn from the sale after residents who were present raised the question of whether they were on county property or belonged to Goldrick. County authorities present said since they were not positive of title they would not risk selling the buildings in question.

First bidding of the morning was on the group of buildings as a whole, with a top bid of $350 submitted by Harry Lowe. They were then placed on the block individually, and since the individual prices were greater than the group price, the buildings were sold individually.

County Attorney Frederick Stang conducted the sale. Raymond Howe, Sr., acted as clerk.

UN Hopes to End Talk on Poland's Red Peace Package

United Nations, April 15 (AP)—Pressing to adjourn the General Assembly this week, UN delegates hoped today to wind up quickly their discussion of Poland's Red peace package. It already has been rejected once and most likely is headed for the wastebasket again.

The Soviet-backed proposal left the door wide open to discussion of almost anything causing current world tensions. But delegates in the 60-nation Political Committee (meets 10:30 a. m. EST) pushed for an end to the debate so they could close down.

The Soviet delegate—probably Andrei Y. Vishinsky—and U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., have asked to speak once again on the subject.

Indicate Negative Vote

Pro-western nations already have indicated they will vote against the Polish omnibus, which calls for an immediate cease-fire in Korea, Big Five arms reduction, banning atomic and germ weapons, declaring membership in the Atlantic Pact as against the UN Charter and the signing of a Big Five peace pact.

The non-Communist delegates had little trouble in rounding up votes for a counter-resolution, introduced by Brazil. The Brazilian plan expresses the hope that negotiations in Korea will lead to an armistice and orders the Assembly to recess this session when it finishes its work, only to reconvene if a Korean armistice is signed or other Korean developments arise requiring Assembly action.

Brazil's resolution, backed by the U. S., Britain and France, was introduced with the aim of having the Assembly adopt something positive rather than simply rejecting the Polish item.

Eisenhower Speech

airport for the return trip to Augusta.

On the way back he will stop at Charlotte, N. C., and then drive on to Salisbury, N. C., to take part in the 200th anniversary of Rowan county.

Plays With Hogan

Eisenhower worked on the speech last night after a round of golf with Ben Hogan, who won the annual Masters tournament here Sunday with a record 274 for 72 holes.

Hogan and the President teamed up at the Augusta National Club with Byron Nelson, who was Hogan's Sunday partner, and Cliff Roberts, retired New York investment banker and chairman of the golf club.

"They all said they had a very nice social game and that nobody shot very well," James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, told newsmen. Reporters are barred from the course while Eisenhower is vacationing there.

Driver Says Pedestrian 'Falls' Into Fender

Haywood Van Wagenen, age unknown at present, of High Falls, was injured about 8 p. m. Tuesday when he was struck by a taxicab on the Rosendale-High Falls road near Rosendale, the sheriff's office reported.

Taken to the Benedictine Hospital by Moylan's ambulance, Van Wagenen apparently suffered shock and other possible injuries. His condition was reported as "fair" at the hospital this morning.

Eugene M. Mulligan, 32, of Main street, Rosendale, the owner-operator of the taxi, told Deputy Sheriff Chester A. Wolven that Van Wagenen was walking about in the center of the road and "seemed to fall" into the vehicle's right front fender as Mulligan attempted to drive his vehicle past the pedestrian. Investigation is being continued.

Indictment Dismissed

New York, April 15 (AP)—A perjury indictment against William Spivey, former University of Kentucky basketball star, was dismissed today. The 23-year-old Spivey had been tried once on the charges, but the trial ended in a jury deadlock. General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit today threw out the indictment on a motion of Assitant District Attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor. The charges grew out of the collegiate game-fixing basketball scandal.

Casualties Total 133,463

Washington, April 15 (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 133,463 today, an increase of 496 since last week.

Brickyard . . .

on No. 13, a one story compressor room, with a bid of $35. Charles Snyder's bid of $25 was high on No. 1, one story frame house.

No Bid on No. 10

Bidders refused to make any bid on Building No. 10, a frame two-car garage.

Buildings No. 15 and 16, a barn and a house, were withdrawn from the sale after residents who were present raised the question of whether they were on county property or belonged to Goldrick. County authorities present said since they were not positive of title they would not risk selling the buildings in question.

First bidding of the morning was on the group of buildings as a whole, with a top bid of $350 submitted by Harry Lowe. They were then placed on the block individually, and since the individual prices were greater than the group price, the buildings were sold individually.

County Attorney Frederick Stang conducted the sale. Raymond Howe, Sr., acted as clerk.

Emotional Change Can Bring Suicide, Psychiatrist Says

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

Atlantic City, N. J., April 15 (AP)—Many men in their fifties undergo an emotional "change of life" that often can lead to suicide if untreated, a navy psychiatrist said today.

The condition, said Capt. George N. Raines, is somewhat similar to the emotional tension and anxiety that affects some women during the female menopause which is actually a physical "change of life."

In the female "changes," Raines said, there are distinct physical alterations in the balance between certain glandular nervous systems to help account for emotional effects, but he said there is no evidence that a similar physiological change takes place in men—at least to a degree that would tie, in any major way, with the anxiety upsets noted in some fiftyish men.

Raines is chief of the navy's neuropsychiatry branch and director of the Department of Psychiatry at Georgetown University School of Medicine.

Feel Failure Threatens

The term 'male menopause' has been ascribed to these emotional disorders which are somewhat common in men after a certain age, Raines told the annual meeting of the American College of Physicians, "but there is fair recognition that the term is something of a misnomer."

He said the symptoms occur largely in men "who have set goals so high they are impossible of attainment."

"They are actually successful men, who feel that failure threatens them," he added. "Most of them are married to their work as well as their wives, and they are bothered by fancied threats, the nature of which they can't always put their finger on."

He told a reporter later that there is a physiological aspect to this degree:

"These men are aware that they are at the age where they are slowing down. Meanwhile, they might erroneously feel they are losing prestige at home, that the old man's word doesn't carry so much weight as it once did. Thus, real disturbance emotionally comes from trying to adjust to real or fancied stresses while in that slowed-down physiological state."

He said the pattern represents a distinct change in the man's personality and is therefore treatable by psychiatric care.

"And unless treatment is given," Raines told the doctors, "the suicidal rate is high."

In some of the new duplexes you can't tell if the noise you hear is mice or the family next door eating celery.

Heart Disease Is Fatal To Pilot Union Founder

Chicago, April 15 (AP)—David L. Behncke, who founded a union for commercial air line pilots and lost a long, bitter court fight to retain its $15,000-a-year presidency, died in Southtown YMCA Tuesday night.

His death was attributed to heart disease.

Behncke, 55, a World War 1 army flier and for many years a commercial pilot, last December gave up his 17 months fight to keep the presidency of the AFL Air Line Pilots Association and accepted a $7,500-a-year pension.

He founded the Pilots Union 22 years ago and was its head until the board of directors removed him in July, 1951 on claims he operated a "one-man union" to suit his whims and not for the best interests of its claimed 7,000 members.

He fought his removal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which sustained the board's action.

His successor is Clarence N. Sayen, 37, of Chicago.

Behncke was born near Fox Lake, Wis. His survivors are the widow, Gladys, and two sons, David, Jr. and Raymond.

Ox carts with eight-foot wheels, pulled by three or four yokes of oxen, once were the standard farm vehicles of Argentina.

Tuck Is Winner In Virginia Vote

Danville, Va., April 15 (AP)—Virginia's fifth district returned to its customary Democratic voting ways and elected former Gov. William M. Tuck to Congress in Tuesday's special election.

It was the nation's first election since November in a normally Democratic district that bolted to Eisenhower.

Tuck, 56, who walked out on the national Democratic ticket last fall, trounced Republican Lorne Ross Campbell by about 4,500 votes in a total vote that fell short of 30,000. Tuck's majority was less than the district's usual comfortable margin for Democrats in congressional elections.

The total was considered substantial for the district but was only half the record 55,000 polled in the presidential election.

Tuck's victory shaves the Republican majority in the House to 10. When he is seated, the division will be 221 Republicans, 211 Democrats, one independent and two vacancies.

He will succeed Rep. Thomas B. Stanley (D.-Va.), who resigned from Congress in February to run for governor in the July Democratic primary.

Dies at His Home

Jefferson City, Mo., April 15 (AP)—Robert C. Goshorn, 62, Jefferson City publisher and radio station owner, died at his home here last night after a long illness. Goshorn published the afternoon Post-Tribune and the morning Capital-News and Sunday News and Tribune. He also operated radio station KWOS and KWOS-FM.
